The Philippines A Past Revisited Vol 1:

E. J. R. David, Ph.d.,2011-01 There are over 92 million Filipinos in the Philippines where the legacies of Western colonialism continue to exist and propagate the message that anything Filipino is inferior to anything American or Western Thus many Filipinos dream of immigrating to various Western countries mostly to the United States Today Filipinos have the second highest yearly immigration rate into the United States and compose the second largest immigrant group in the country Also Filipinos in America number over 3 million making them the second largest Asian American ethnic group in the country Not surprisingly there has been increased attention on the experiences of Filipinos and Filipino Americans as minorities and immigrants as well as toward better understanding their identity cultural values and mental health However given the conditions of postcolonial Philippines and the contemporary experiences of oppression by Filipinos in America one cannot completely and accurately understand the minority immigrant and psychological experiences of this group outside the context of colonialism and contemporary oppression Thus this text focuses on the psychological effects of historical colonialism and contemporary oppression among Filipinos and Filipino Americans It takes the reader from indigenous Tao culture Spanish and American colonialism colonial mentality or internalized oppression along with its implications on Kapwa identity and mental health to decolonization in the clinical community and research settings This book is a multidisciplinary and empirical approach to Filipino and Filipino American psychology It is intended for the entire community teachers researchers students and service providers interested in or who are working with Filipinos and Filipino Americans or those who are interested in the psychological consequences of colonialism and oppression This book may serve as a tool for remembering the past and as a tool for awakening to address the present History of the Philippines Luis H.
