by which to measure intellectual history How did Arab intellectuals change and affect political social cultural and economic developments from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries This volume offers a fundamental overhaul and revival of modern Arab intellectual history Using Hourani s Arabic Thought in the Liberal Age 1798 1939 Cambridge 1962 as a starting point it reassesses Arabic cultural production and political thought in the light of current scholarship and extends the analysis beyond Napoleon s invasion of Egypt and the outbreak of World War II The chapters offer a mixture of broad stroke history on the construction of the Muslim world and the emergence of the rule of law and constitutionalism in the Ottoman empire as well as case studies on individual Arab intellectuals that illuminate the transformation of modern Arabic thought

Ottoman Egypt and the Emergence of the Modern World Nelly Hanna, 2014-09-01 Aiming to place Egypt clearly in the context of some of the major worldwide transformations of the three centuries from 1500 to 1800 Nelly Hanna questions the mainstream view that has identified the main sources of modern world history as the Reformation the expansion of Europe into America and Asia the formation of trading companies and scientific discoveries Recent scholarship has challenged this approach on account of its Eurocentric bias on both the theoretical and empirical levels Studies on India and southeast Asia for example reject the models of these regions as places without history as stagnant and in decline and as awakening only with the emergence of colonialism when they became the recipients of European culture and technology So far Egypt and the rest of the Ottoman world have been left out of these approaches Nelly Hanna fills this gap by showing that there were worldwide trends that touched Egypt India southeast Asia and Europe In all these areas for example there were linguistic shifts that brought the written language closer to the spoken word She also demonstrates that technology and know how far from being centered only in Europe flowed in different directions in the eighteenth century French entrepreneurs were trying to imitate the techniques of bleaching and dyeing of cloth that they found in Egypt and other Ottoman localities Based on a series of lectures given at the Middle East Center at Harvard this groundbreaking book will be of interest to all those looking for a different perspective on the history of south north relations Islam in a Secular State Walid Jumblatt who was involved in some of the discourses explored in this book The Book in Africa C. Davis,D. Johnson,2015-03-02
