The Wrinkles Of The City Los Angeles:

The Wrinkles of the City J. R. JR, 2012 JR is back with the next installment of his world wide project The Wrinkles of the City This time the visionary artist has chosen to focus on the people of Los Angeles is it really as superficial as the media paints it JR knows how to hold up a mirror to a community In the home of the moving image he has used his still photographs stunningly magnified and arrestingly positioned to prompt profound questions about what a meaningful life entails Jane Rosenthal writing in the Introduction This is JR s way of reminding us that we are all witnesses to the triumphs and outrages of our generation As he photographs his subjects he listens to their fascinating life stories and immortalizes the only witnesses left of the past Los Angeles is where the Hollywood myth was born where glamour and beauty has come to define the city For this project JR juxtaposes the imperfection and meaning held in the wrinkles of the elderly with the image of perfection and regenerated beauty that has become a hallmark of the 21st century The 2011 TED prize winner born in 1983 started off as a graffiti artist but turned to photography after finding a camera in a Paris metro station Since then he has gone on to undertake a variety of projects using the side of buildings and other structures as his gallery Heading back to his native country earlier this year the artist chose to cover the famous Louvre Pyramid in one of his black and white photographs The photographer recently also turned his own talents to directing the short film ELLIS The narrative starring Robert de Niro centers around JR s own unframed art on Ellis Island and the forgotten story of the immigrants who built America

JR-isms Larry Warsh, 2024-10-29 A collection of compelling quotations from JR the renowned French photographer street artist and activist JR is perhaps best known for taking portraits of regular people reproducing the images at a monumental scale and pasting them on the sides of buildings in the subjects neighborhoods Among his many other notable projects are a gigantic photo of a child peering over the top of the barrier at the US Mexico border and an enormous mural of inmates that covers the ground of an outdoor exercise yard at a California prison Collected from interviews writings and other sources JR isms is an inspiring and thought provoking collection of quotations from the exciting artist and activist whose work reaches far beyond the traditional art world from the streets of New York to the suburbs of Paris and the favelas of Brazil I was writing my names on walls to say I exist then I started pasting pictures of people with their names to say they exist Art is not supposed to change the world It can offer a new perspective a new look break down the walls we build between us and humanize the other I always make sure in my art that I even confront my own perspective You know what they say that the criminal always goes back to the crime scene It works the same for the artist When you do something in the street you come back to see how people approach it No one knows it s you but you re right there Los Angeles Magazine , 1996-10 Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature Our combination of award winning feature writing investigative reporting service journalism and design covers the people lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and architecture and news that define Southern California Started in the spring of 1961 Los
