"Same Is Better" Cari Myers, 2022-10-31 As younger generations drift away from evangelical churches the number of religiously unaffiliated young adults grows Is the drift because of politics personal morality rebelliousness culture wars or something else In this project 16 young adults from the Churches of Christ participate in qualitative interviews over a five year span They describe messages they learned about success and survival from their faith communities as children and how they have embraced and reinterpreted those messages into helpful life principles as adults The resulting study explores issues of ethnicity in evangelical borderland communities and contrasts Latinx narratives with white narratives in religious and educative contexts Findings also revealed gendered narratives class based narratives and the glaring absence of helpful narratives around sexuality filtered through the lenses of religion and education The central finding of the interviews is this participants experienced the Church of Christ as rewarding conformity with community a strategy when it works which secures the future of the denomination and cements a conservative doctrine in the next generation of leadership However the study concludes that true survival narratives were the narratives participants constructed in response to the narratives provided by Churches of Christ

Welcoming Africa's children - Theological and ministry perspectives Jan Grobbelaar, Gert Breed, Stephan de Beer, Nico Koopman, Elijah Mahlangu, Malan Nel, Dirkie Smit, Pieter Verster, 2016-12-31 The purpose of this book is to combine perspectives of scholars from Africa on

Child Theology from a variety of theological sub disciplines to provide some theological and ministerial perspectives on this topic The book disseminates original research and new developments in this study field especially as relevant to the African context In the process it addresses also the global need to hear voices from Africa in this academic field It aims to convey the importance of considering Africa s children in theologising The different chapters represent diverse methodologies but the central and common focus is to approach the subject from the viewpoint of Africa s children The individual authors varied theological sub disciplinary dispositions contribute to the unique and distinct character of the book Almost all chapters are theoretical orientated with less empirical but more qualitative research although some of the chapters refer to empirical research that the authors have performed in the past Most of the academic literature in the field of Child Theologies is from American or British European origin The African context is fairly absent in this discourse although it is the youngest continent and presents unique and relevant challenges This book was written by theological scholars from Africa focussing on Africa s children It addresses not only theoretical challenges in this field but also provides theological perspectives for ministry with children and for important social change Written from a variety of theological sub disciplines the book is aimed at scholars across theological sub disciplines especially those theological scholars interested in the intersections between theology childhood studies and African cultural or social themes It addresses themes and provides insights that are also relevant for specialist leaders and professionals in this field No part of the book was plagiarised from another publication or published elsewhere
