Developmental Education for Young Children Bert van Oers, 2012-06-16

Developmental Education is an approach to education in school that aims at promoting children's cultural development and their abilities to participate autonomously and well informed in the cultural practices of their community. From the point of view of Cultural historical Activity theory (CHAT), a play-based curriculum has been developed over the past decades for primary school which presents activity contexts for pupils in the classroom that create learning and teaching opportunities for helping pupils with appropriating cultural knowledge, skills and moral understandings in meaningful ways. The approach is implemented in numerous Dutch primary schools' classrooms with the explicit intention to support the learning of both pupils and teachers. The book focuses especially on education of young children (4-8 years old) in primary school and presents the underpinning concepts of this approach and chapters on examples of good practices in a variety of subject matter areas such as literacy, vocabulary acquisition, reading, writing, mathematics and arts. Successful implementation of Developmental Education in the classroom strongly depends on dynamic assessment and continuous observations of young pupils' development. Strategies for implementation of both the teaching practices and assessment strategies are discussed in detail in the book.

Encyclopedia of Early Childhood Education Leslie R. Williams, Doris Pronin Fromberg, 2012

This Encyclopedia is a reference work about young children in the USA designed for use by policy makers, community planners, parents of young children, teacher and early childhood educators, programme and school administrators among others. The field of early childhood education has been affected by changes taking place in the nation's economy, demographics, schools, communities and families that influence political and professional decisions. The Encyclopedia provides an opportunity to define the field against the background of these influences and relates the field of early childhood education to its diverse contexts and to the cultural and technological resources currently affecting it.
