Theological Reflection Across Religious Traditions The Turn To Reflective Believing:

Theological Reflection across Religious Traditions Edward Foley, 2015-02-12 Theological reflection connecting real life ministry and religious traditions is a core component of most pastoral training. It is also a hallmark of practical theology and a common spiritual exercise among ordinary Christians trying to discern how their beliefs might influence daily living. Yet our society is increasingly pluralistic with growing numbers of people from varying belief systems from Islam to Buddhism as well as an increasing number of atheists. In this book Edward Foley reimagines theological reflection in interfaith contexts and with those of no faith tradition. The book addresses and celebrates diverse beliefs and envisions the practice of theological reflection in such contexts. Theological Reflection Across Religious Traditions introduces readers to the basics of traditional forms of theological reflection then considers how it might be reconceived in different contexts from interfaith ministers working together to reduce poverty and homelessness to people of diverse or no faith traditions strategizing to secure the dignity of undocumented immigrants. Beyond suggestions for collaborative social action the book offers tools for productive interfaith conversation through a process Foley calls reflective believing. This is a groundbreaking rethinking of theological reflection for today's world proposing that people across the religious landscape can participate in reflective believing for personal and communal benefit without sacrificing their own integrity.

Rodgerson,2021-11-03 While the steady increase of the religiously unaffiliated Nones in America has generated anxious responses about rising secularism and loss of national identity this book suggests a wider meaning making approach wherein the Nones are seen as valuable dialogue partners necessary in this pivotal moment for the revealing of still hidden truths about culture spirituality and religion Christians who overhear this dialogue may find upon self reflection an emerging truth about their relationships embedded stories level of faith development and susceptibility to a culturally conditioned transactional religion Nones who choose to engage in dialogue may find that the nothingness they bring to the dialogue is more significant than they realize revealing truths of an apophatic spiritual path necessary for generating a transformational faith of freedom and capable of rebalancing a divisive consumer driven society The religious and the not religious who are often seen as being on opposite sides of an imagined religious threshold may instead be seen as standing together in a liminal space that opens in wordless silence to yet unseen possibilities and from which emerge new stories aligned with the heart of Creation     Integrating Work in Theological Education Kathleen A. Cahalan,Edward Foley,Gordon S. Mikoski,2017-03-09 If only we could do a better job of helping students at connecting the dots theological educators commonly lament Integration often proposed as a solution to the woes of professional education for ministry would help students integrate knowledge skills spirituality and integrity When these remain disconnected incompetence ensues and the cost runs high for churches denominations and ministers themselves However we fail in thinking that integrating work is for students alone It is a multifaceted constructive process of learning that is contextual reflective and dialogical It aims toward important ends competent leaders who can guide Christian communities today It entails rhythms not stages and dynamic movement including disintegration Integrating work is learning in motion across domains and among and between persons It is social and communal born of a life of learning together for faculty staff administrators and students It is work that bridges the long standing gaps between school ministry practice and life It s a verb not a noun Here a diverse group of theological educators through descriptive case studies theological reflection and theory building offer a distinctive contribution to understanding integrating work and how best to achieve it across three domains in community curriculums and courses     Asian and Asian American Women in Theology and Religion Kwok Pui-lan,2020-02-25 This book presents personal narratives and collective ethnography of the emergence and development of Asian and Asian American women s scholarship in theology and religious studies It demonstrates how the authors religious scholarship is based on an embodied epistemology influenced by their social locations Contributors reflect on their understanding of their identity and how this changed over time the contribution of Asian and Asian American women to the scholarship work that they do and their hopes for the future of their fields of study The volume is multireligious and intergenerational and is divided into four parts identities and intellectual journeys expanding knowledge integrating knowledge and practice and dialogue across generations

Teaching for a Multifaith World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2017-05-05 When religious diversity is our reality radical hospitality to people of other faiths is not a luxury but a necessity More than necessary for our survival radical hospitality to religious diversity is necessary if we are to thrive as a global society By no means does the practice of hospitality in a multifaith world require that we be oblivious of our differences On the contrary it demands a respectful embrace of our differences because that s who we are Neither does radical hospitality require that we water down our commitment because faithfulness and openness are not contradictory We must be able to say with burning passion that we are open to the claims of other faiths because we are faithful to our religious heritage The essays in this book do not offer simply theological exhortations they offer specific ways of how we can become religiously competent citizens in a multifaith world Let s take the bold steps of radical openness with this book on our side

Practical Theology and Majority World Epistemologies Alfred Brunson,Calida Chu,2024-11-08 This book offers insights into the thinking of majority world practical theologians and introduces the reader to faith realities previously unknown in a quest to create a more inclusive and welcoming practical theological network Practical theologians are situated in all corners of the globe attempting to make sense of their lived experiences and of those around them from a faith perspective Historically practical theology tended to be constructed from academics situated in the West and indirectly marginalized those in and from the majority world Against this backdrop this book is a deliberate attempt to empower practical theological voices from the further corners of the global village based upon the conviction that sharing epistemologies creates an opportunity not only to learn about others and the contexts in which they live but from them enhancing the meaning making of practical theology in the present Cognisant that epistemology as a formal discipline does not always centre lived experience practical theology has historically prioritised the importance of wisdom worldview and a way of life for individual and collective knowing The diverse issues addressed in this work offers insights into the thinking of mainly Asian and African practical theologians and introduces readers to the faith realities previously unknown to create a more inclusive and welcoming practical theological network This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Practical Theology
