Theology Music And Time Cambridge Studies In Christian Doctrine:

Theology, Music and Time Jeremy Begbie, 2000-08-15 Theology Music and Time aims to show how music can enrich and advance theology extending our wisdom about God and God's ways with the world. Instead of asking what can theology do for music, it asks what can music do for theology. Jeremy Begbie argues that music's engagement with time gives the theologian invaluable resources for understanding how it is that God enables us to live peaceably with time as a dimension of the created world. Without assuming any specialist knowledge of music, he explores a wide range of musical phenomena: rhythm, metre, resolution, repetition, improvisation, and through them opens up some of the central themes of the Christian faith: creation, salvation, eschatology, time and eternity, Eucharist, election and ecclesiology. He shows that music can not only refresh theology with new models but also release it from damaging habits of thought which have hampered its work in the past.

The Lion, the Dove, & the Lamb A. Bryden Black, 2015-06-22 How might the formal Christian doctrine of the Trinity make a real, concrete difference in the lives of individuals and in the life of the church? This book proposes there are two parts to answering this important but elusive question. In the first place, how on earth did the Early Church actually reach its conclusions about this understanding of God and why? What's the real point behind their endeavors? How might we apprehend what is otherwise sheer mystification or even nonsense in some people's minds? Arising out of the answers to such questions, we can secondly construct an appropriately simple model of the Trinity. By means of this model, we can understand with sufficient justice the ways the triune God has come among us in our human history, ways that are still ongoing today For the proposed model allows us to begin to appreciate the true mystery of the Christian Faith while also making a practical difference to the lives of Christian discipleship in prayer worship and mission

Sonic Icons Sarah Bakker Kellogg, 2024-11-05 A vivid artfully crafted and deeply hopeful account of one community's struggle to rediscover and reinvent itself after a century of genocidal loss dispossession and displacement To the extent that Middle Eastern Christians register in Euro American political imaginaries they are usually invoked to justify Western military intervention into countries like Iraq or Syria or as an exemption to anti Islamic immigration policies because of an assumption that their Christianity makes them easily assimilable in the so called Judeo Christian West Using the tools of multisensory ethnography Sonic Icons uncovers how these views work against the very communities they are meant to benefit Through long term fieldwork in the Netherlands among Syriac Orthodox Christians also known as Assyrians Aramaeans and Syriacs Bakker Kellogg reveals how they intertwine religious practice with political activism to save Syriac Christianity from the twin threats of political violence in the Middle East and cultural assimilation in Europe In a historical moment when much of their tradition has been forgotten or destroyed their story of self discovery is one of survival and reinvention By reviving the late antique Syriac liturgical tradition known as the Daughters and Sons of the Covenant they seek a complex form of recognition for what they understand to be the ethical core of Christian kinship in an ethnic as well as in a religious sense despite living in societies that do not recognize this unhyphenated form of ethnoreligiosity as a politically legitimate mode of public identity Drawing on both theological and linguistic understandings of the icon Sonic Icons rethinks foundational theoretical accounts of ethnicization racialization and secularization by examining how kinship gets made claimed and named in the global politics of minority recognition The icon as a site of communicative and reproductive power illuminates how these processes are shaped by religious histories of struggle for sovereignty over the reproductive future

The Dramatizing of Theology Matthew S. Farlow, 2017-07-14 Matthew Farlow traces the thoughts of Balthasar and Barth so as to enter into theological truth of God's Being in Act This exploration embarks on a journey into the reality of our Triune God who has engaged his creation so as to elicit fellow actors God seeking out humanity is God with us a truth that not only informs our theological endeavors but invites us into the dramatic performance of reconciliation As Farlow illumines God is an acting God who seeks fellow participants in his ongoing drama of salvation Through the dramatizing of theology the church and her theologians come to realize God's threefold movement revelation invitation and reconciliation It is a unified act that startles humanity and thus theology out of its spectator's seat so as to drag it onto the world's stage As Farlow discusses it is through the dramatizing of theology that we find ourselves best equipped to participate faithfully in the role of a lifetime

"All Shall Be Well" Gregory MacDonald,Robin A. Parry,2011-01-01 All shall be well and all shall be well and all manner of thing shall be well Lady Julian of Norwich Universalism runs like a slender thread through the history of Christian theology It has always been a minority report and has often been regarded as heresy but it has proven to be a surprisingly resilient idea Over the centuries Christian universalism in one form or another has been reinvented time and time again In this book an international team of scholars explore the diverse universalisms of Christian thinkers from the Origen to Moltmann In the introduction Gregory MacDonald argues that theologies of universal salvation occupy a space between heresy and dogma Therefore disagreements about whether all will be saved should not be thought of as debates between the orthodox and heretics but rather as in house debates between Christians The studies that follow aim in the first instance to hear understand and explain the eschatological claims of a range of Christians from the third to the twenty first centuries They also offer some constructive critical engagement with those claims Origen Tom Greggs Gregory of Nyssa Steve Harmon Julian of Norwich Robert Sweetman The Cambridge Platonists Louise Hickman James Relly Wayne K Clymer Elhanan Winchester Robin Parry Friedrich Schleiermacher Murray Rae Thomas Erskine Don Horrocks George MacDonald Thomas Talbott P T Forsyth Jason Goroncy Sergius Bulgakov Paul Gavrilyuk Karl Barth Oliver Crisp Jaques Ellul Andrew Goddard J A T Robinson Trevor Hart Hans Urs von Balthasar Edward T Oakes SJ John Hick Lindsay Hall Jurgen Moltmann Nik Ansell

"In the End, God" John AT Robinson,2011-05-26 Death judgement heaven and hell these are the Four Last Things traditionally linked together under the heading of Eschatology In this book John Robinson examines them all with trenchancy and lucidity providing a new and vital understanding of how these themes relate to contemporary Christian life In the End God identifies a gap that exists in the treatment of eschatology within the Christian faith As Robinson points out eschatology had traditionally dealt with the last things in a way that is remote and removed from everyday life and Christianity and the goal of his book is to make eschatology fully relevant to the modern world Although it is commonly held that eschatology within modern Christianity is centred on the fact and moment of death Robinson shows that the true nature of eschatology is something quite different It is not about the last things after everything else but rather is about the relation of all things to the last things or as it were about the lastness of all things Revealing the foundation of biblical eschatology to be the experience of God by the community of faith Robinson calls readers to embrace the eschatological vision of the Bible but to do so in a way that is alert to its mythic character In the course of these explorations he also lays bare his own theology of universal salvation However contrary to what one may expect this universalism is one that seeks to take both human freedom and the reality of hell with the utmost seriousness This special edition of John A T Robinson's classic text also includes an extended introductory essay by Professor Trevor Hart of the University of St Andrews and an exchange between Robinson and Thomas F Torrance first published in 1949 in the Scottish Journal of Theology Why God Makes Sense in a World That Doesn't Gavin Ortlund, 2021-10-26 It has never been more important to articulate the wonder and enchantment of the Christian message Yet the traditional approaches of apologetics are often outmoded in an age of profound disenchantment and distraction unable to meet this pressing need This winsome apologetics book for a new generation makes the case that Christianity offers a compelling explanatory framework for making sense of our world Pastor and writer Gavin Ortlund believes it is essential to appeal not only to the mind but also to the heart and the imagination as we articulate the beauty of the gospel Why God Makes Sense in a World That Doesn't reimagines four classical theistic arguments cosmological teleological moral and Christological making a cumulative case for God as the best framework for understanding the storied nature of reality The book suggests that Christian theism can explain such things as the elegance of math the beauty of music and the value of love It is suitable for use in classes yet accessibly written making it a perfect resource for churches and small groups Announcing the Feast Jason McFarland, 2012-02-01 How does the entrance song of the Mass function within the Roman Rite What can it express theologically What should Roman Catholics sing at the beginning of Mass In this groundbreaking study Jason McFarland answers these and other important questions by exploring the history and theology of the entrance song of Mass After a careful history of the entrance song he investigates its place in church documents He proposes several models of the entrance song for liturgical celebration today Finally he offers a skillful theological analysis of the entrance song genre focusing on the song for the Holy Thursday Evening Mass arguably the most important entrance song of the entire liturgical year Announcing the Feast provides the most comprehensive treatment of the Roman Rite entrance song to date It is unique in that it bridges the disciplines of liturgical studies musicology and theological method Theology as Performance Philip Stoltzfus, 2006-06-05 Theology as Performance breaks new ground in the growing conversation between modern theology and philosophical aesthetics Stoltzfus proposes that significant moments in the Western development of the concept of God in particular as represented in the figures of Friedrich Schleiermacher Karl Barth and Ludwig Wittgenstein have been deeply influenced by concepts and approaches borrowed from the discipline of musical aesthetics Each thinker develops fundamentally different ways of writing about God that have in significant respects been derived from each one's reading and writing about music The aesthetic implications of Schleiermacher's so called subjectivist turn Barth's objectivist reaction and Wittgenstein's language game pragmatism can thus be fully understood only by attending to the musical culture and distinctly musicological discourses that gave rise to them Stoltzfus constructs two trajectories of thought with which to trace theological reflection upon music throughout the pre modern period the traditions of Orpheus and Pythagoras Schleiermacher's aesthetic approach then becomes a modern representative of the Orpheus trajectory and Barth's approach a representative of the Pythagoras trajectory Stoltzfus interprets Wittgenstein as putting forward a radical critique of these trajectories and pointing toward a third performative theological aesthetic method Theology as Performance offers a provocative rethinking of the aesthetic roots of modern theology

Musica Christi Marion Lars Hendrickson, 2005 Theological aesthetics is a rapidly expanding subject in the field of religious humanism that until now has not had a participating Lutheran voice Musica Christi A Lutheran Aesthetic fills this void by approaching the rich tradition of music and theology in the Lutheran Church through Christology Furthermore this study shows Christ's full participation in and by music Selections from Lutheran works in Danish German Latin Norwegian and Swedish are offered in English translations for the first time by the author

By One Spirit Lorraine Cavanagh, 2009 This is a book for anyone seeking a way out of deadlock in Church conflict situations In employing a contemplative approach to the conflict in the Anglican Communion it shows how relationships can be rebuilt with affection leading to trust The author argues for reconciliation which comes with a renewed awareness of the dynamic activity of the Holy Spirit in the Church's life of communion The present conflict has blocked this activity stifling the Church's intellectual life by reducing it to a matter of issue driven politics which have seriously undermined its relationships The book offers the Anglican Communion the possibility of renewing its life together in a deeper and more apophatic encounter with God in which the certainties which divide it are set aside while the Church rediscovers the genuine bonds of affection which until now have held it together This it argues is the work which needs to be undertaken before a Covenant is put in place if the Anglican Communion is to continue to reveal the Gospel in ways which are meaningful for a constantly changing and fragmented world

Theology of Wagner's Ring Cycle II Richard H Bell, 2021-09-30 Wagner's Ring addresses fundamental concerns that have faced humanity down the centuries such as power and violence love and death freedom and fate Further the work seems particularly relevant today addressing as it does the fresh debates around the created order politics gender and sexuality In this second of two volumes on the theology of the Ring Richard Bell argues that Wagner's approach to these issues may open up new ways forward and offer a fresh perspective on some of the traditional questions of theology such as sacrifice redemption and fundamental questions about God A linchpin for Bell s approach is viewing the Ring in the light of the Jesus of Nazareth sketches which he argues confirms that the artwork does indeed address questions of Christian theology both for those inside and those outside the church

A Redemptive Theology of Art David A. Covington,2018-05-01 A Redemptive Theology of Art develops a biblical systematic and practical theology of aesthetics It begins with the roots and ontology of aesthetics vs art and the architecture and narrative of affection and passion their woes and their glory Those who would search the Bible find little support for art as commonly conceived in the West The language of aesthetics applied to the maker s intentions the qualities of the work and the responses of the audience better addresses the questions of beauty and better suits the discussion of human actions beliefs and culture than the language of art does The Bible yields more consistent and helpful answers to questions about the broader category of aesthetics than it does to questions about art leading in turn to better questions and a more practical and theological appreciation of human affections beauty and delight and the many paths by which people including Christians pursue them Using the categories and definitions from Scripture Covington gives hope and help not only for those who labor in the arts but for everyone who cares about the passions that motivate us We were made for God s delight and though sin and bondage plague our passions God can shape our fun feelings desires affections and aversions Feelings are neither objective nor subjective they are redeemable Borrowing key ideas from other Christian writers on the arts or aesthetics Covington explores the connection between orthodox Protestant theology and a responsible respectful treatment of arts artists and all aesthetic fields of human work and speech
