Theology Of Revelation:

Theology of Revelation Gabriel Moran, 1966      The Theology of the Book of Revelation Richard Bauckham, 1993-03-04
The Book of Revelation is a work of profound theology But its literary form makes it impenetrable to many modern readers and open to all kinds of misinterpretations Richard Bauckham explains how the book's imagery conveyed meaning in its original context and how the book's theology is inseparable from its literary structure and composition Revelation is seen to offer not an esoteric and encoded forecast of historical events but rather a theocentric vision of the coming of God's universal kingdom contextualised in the late first century world dominated by Roman power and ideology It calls on Christians to confront the political idolatries of the time and to participate in God's purpose of gathering all the nations into his kingdom Once Revelation is properly grounded in its original context it is seen to transcend that context and speak to the contemporary church This study concludes by highlighting Revelation's continuing relevance for today      A Brief Theology of Revelation Colin E. Gunton, 2005-07-15 Professor Gunton asks whether there is more to be said for the notion of Christianity as a revealed religion than some of the more simplified recent treatments allow He analyses the concept of revelation illustrating its importance for understanding even beyond religious purposes He contends that natural theology and natural revelation are distinct categories and examines why they are so often confused He considers revelation in relation to scripture and tradition and the nature of inspiration      Theology of Revelation Domenic Marbaniang, 2012-12-21 The book is a study of the theology of revelation in the writings of seven modern theologians viz Charles Hodge Karl Barth Emil Brunner Harold DeWolf Millard J Erickson J Rodman Williams and Donald G Bloesch It also includes a concluding chapter by the author on the theology of revelation      Revelation Theology Avery Dulles, 1969      Theology of Revelation Rene Latourelle, 2009-11-01 For fruitful discussion within the Church for a meaningful dialogue with other Christians for the renewal of the theology of preaching for these and many other reasons we need a new understanding of the nature of revelation The usual apologetical treatment of revelation bent on proving its existence touches but the fringe of the reality Our day and age needs a theology of revelation which probes the nature depths and dimensions of the mystery Father Latourelle's study is a significant contribution in this unfurrowed field and may well be recognized as a landmark for years to come His treatment of scriptural data on the notion of revelation is grounded on the advances of twentieth century exegesis He admirably handles the multifaceted Old Testament notion of revelation and his detailed study of the Synoptics Acts Paul and John heightens the point that the Old Testament's revelation foreshadowed the New and the New is only intelligible against the background of the Old His summary of the patristic idea of revelation is erudite and stimulating and probes the thoughts of twenty writers from the Apostolic Fathers to Augustine The richness of patristic insight contrasts sharply with later theological studies of the nature of revelation His study of the theological thought of the scholastic and neo scholastic schools is critical and informative Their approach culminated in overstressing the apologetical aspects of revelation a course which modern theology is abandoning to re discover a theology of revelation that is Christ centered Scriptural historical and interpersonal In treating of the magisterium the author presents a splendid analysis of official documents from Trent to Vatican II and his summary underscores the point that the Church documents present a view of revelation that closely resembles that of the biblical and patristic sources The author s personal reflections enable us to view many aspects of revelation in a new light He draws on the insights of modern linguistics to give a new dimension to revelation s traditional definition locutio Dei He elucidates the point that revelation is neither event alone nor word alone its structure is sacramental and consists of events interpreted by word In dealing with preaching miracles and other themes Father Latourelle combines wide erudition and lucidity and his work stands as a major contribution to modern theological thought

The Joy of Hearing Thomas R. Schreiner, 2021-11-17 Join New Testament scholar Thomas Schreiner as he explores the meaning and purpose of the book of Revelation The book of Revelation can feel more intimidating to read than other books of the Bible It invites readers into a world that seems confusing and sometimes even strange golden lampstands seven seals a dragon and a rider on a white horse But at its core Revelation is a message of hope written to Christians facing hardship and it s worth the effort to read it and understand it In this first volume in the New Testament Theology series trusted scholar Thomas Schreiner walks step by step through the book of Revelation considering its many themes the opposition believers face from the world the need for perseverance God as sovereign Creator Judge and Savior as well as its symbolic imagery and historical context The Joy of Hearing brings clarity to the content and message of Revelation and explores its relevance for the church today The Theology of the Book of Revelation Richard Bauckham, 1993-03-04 The Book of Revelation is a work of profound theology But its literary form makes it impenetrable to many modern readers and open to all kinds of misinterpretations Richard Bauckham explains how the book s imagery conveyed meaning in its original context and how the book s theology is inseparable from its literary structure and composition Revelation is seen to offer not an esoteric and encoded forecast of historical events but rather a theocentric vision of the coming of God s universal kingdom contextualised in the late first century world dominated by Roman power and ideology It calls on Christians to confront the political idolatries of the time and to participate in God s purpose of gathering all the nations into his kingdom Once Revelation is properly grounded in its original context it is seen to transcend that context and speak to the contemporary church This study concludes by highlighting Revelation s continuing relevance for today Revelation and Story Gerhard Sauter, John Barton, 2017-03-02 Revelation and Story explores the relationship between the theology of revelation and the theology of story or narrative theology Mediating between German systematic theology s concern for revelation and current Anglo Saxon interest in narrative theology and centrality of story this book illuminates both traditions Exploring revelation and story from both theological and philosophical perspectives this book connects these concepts with questions of the authority of religious and literary texts particularly the Bible Believing that God s revelation precedes and forestalls all human perception of God all speech about God and every attempt to experience anything about God or know Him leading scholars from both Anglo Saxon and German traditions are brought together to present a diverse range of conceptions relating to how God's revelation occurs resulting in a new theory of the relation of revelation and story which transcends the traditional cultural divide Stanley Hauerwas contributes the Foreword Revelation and Story offers a valuable new contribution to systematic theology hermeneutics and the study of the authority of Scripture as well as presenting insights into important overlaps between British and German theology This book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of philosophy and theology and to students of literature and literary theory with an interest in hermeneutics Engaging the Doctrine of Revelation

Matthew Levering, 2014-11-11 How do human beings today receive divine revelation Where and in what ways is it mediated so that all generations can hear the fullness of the gospel In this volume distinguished theologian Matthew Levering shows that divine revelation has been truthfully mediated through the church the gospel and Scripture so that we can receive it in its fullness today Levering engages past and present approaches to revelation across a variety of traditions offering a comprehensive historical study of all the key figures and perspectives His thorough analysis results in an alternative approach to prevailing views of the doctrine and points to its significance for the entire church Biblical Revelation Clark H. Pinnock, 1998-06-18 In Biblical Revelation an outstanding young theologian contrasts the scriptural concepts of inspiration and revelation with today's inadequate religious philosophies Using a straightforward hard biting style the author refutes those philosophies in their own terms Revelation and Inspiration James Orr, 1910 This volume is written under the conviction that revelation and inspiration in connection with the Bible can only be defended in conjunction with a more positive view of the structure of the Bible itself than is at present prevalent The three things imply each other a positive view of the structure of the Bible the recognition of a true supernatural revelation in its history and a belief in accordance with the teaching of Christ and His apostles in the inspiration of the record The evidence for each of these three things yields support to faith in the other two The critical appreciation of the Bible is helped by the recognition of the revelation contained in it and of the character of inspiration attaching to the book which is the vehicle of the revelation The revelation sustains faith in inspiration and vice versa From the unity of the three aspects results the conception of a Holy Scripture Preface

Revelation (THNTC) John Christopher Thomas, Frank D. Macchia, 2016 The book of Revelation is perhaps the most theologically complex and literarily sophisticated text in the New Testament In this commentary John Christopher Thomas and Frank Macchia make the brilliant but challenging text of Revelation more accessible and easier to understand on its own terms rather than as a futuristic prophecy In addition to their literary exegetical and theological analysis of the text they offer sustained theological essays on the book's most significant themes and issues accenting especially the underappreciated place of the Holy Spirit in the theology of the book Religion and Revelation Keith Ward, 1994 BL A complete analysis of the fundamental religious idea of revelation BL Discusses the work of major scholars in the study of religion Aquinas Tillich

Barth Temple Frazer and Evans Pritchard     The Doctrine of Revelation Gabriel J. Fackre, 1997 This book ventures a new interpretation of revelation The author discusses the major themes in the narrative of revelation engaging critically with four of the century's giants in theology Karl Barth Paul Tillich Karl Rahner and Carl Henry These represent the four major phases in the narrative of revelation and Fackre addresses these alternative views in twentieth century theology through in depth inquiry and critical analysis The Doctrine of Revelation challenges reductionist views and strives for an ecumenical understanding that appropriates the insights from a variety of schools of thought     The Divine Revelation Paul Helm, 2004 The Holy Scriptures are fundamental for Christianity providing the basis for faith and morality They are supremely important because they contain divine revelation Christians speak of them as the Word of God In this study Paul Helm an experienced philosopher brings his expertise to bear on such expressions as infallible Word of God and propositional revelation which are in common usage in contemporary Christianity His aim is to help Christians know what they are claiming when they use these a similar words and phrases He has performed an indispensable task for all who take the Bible seriously Paul Helm is J I Packer Professor in Theology and Philosophy at Regent College in Vancouver British Columbia Formerly he was Professor of the History and Philosophy of Religion at King's College He has also served as President of the British Society for the Philosophy of Religion He the author of many books including The Providence of God Calvin and the Calvinists and Eternal God

A Critical Examination of the Doctrine of Revelation in Evangelical Theology Carisa A. Ash, 2015-07-14 How God reveals himself is an important matter for Christians especially evangelicals For too long Carisa Ash contends evangelicals have rightly affirmed that God reveals through the created world but then they functionally neglect such revelation In this monograph Ash offers a corrective to this practice by presenting a theology of revelation that explores the commonalities between various forms of revelation world written and spoken word and Incarnate Word Particularly aimed at theologians interested in theological method Ash's study will also benefit people interested in faith and learning or interdisciplinary integration Ash argues that evangelicals must strive to align more closely their affirmations and their practice Her critique of current practices in theological method and integration along with the proposed theology of revelation are designed to help move the conversation forward     Who Is God? Richard Bauckham, 2020-07-21 Internationally respected scholar Richard Bauckham offers a brief engaging study of divine revelation in Scripture He probes the deep meaning of well known moments in the biblical story in order to address the key question the Bible is designed to answer Who is God Accessible for laypeople and important to scholars this volume begins by exploring three key events in the Bible in which God is revealed Jacob's dream at Bethel the revelation of the divine presence Moses at the burning bush the revelation of the divine Name and Moses on Mount Sinai the revelation of the divine character In each case Bauckham traces these themes through the rest of Scripture He then shows how the New Testament builds on the Old by exploring three revelatory events in Mark's Gospel events that reveal the Trinity Jesus's baptism transfiguration and crucifixion This book is based on the Frumentius Lectures for 2015 at the Ethiopian Graduate School of Theology in Addis Ababa and on the Hayward Lectures for 2018 at Acadia Divinity College Nova Scotia      Revelation Gerald O'Collins, 2016 Since the late 1980s the theme of God's self revelation has been treated only briefly in Christian theology at times simply ignored and often confused with biblical inspiration Revelation Towards a Christian Theology of God's Self Revelation lays out its basic characteristics and begins by distinguishing between revelation in the primary sense a living encounter with God's self disclosure and in the secondary sense statements of faith derived from that encounter or propositional revelation It considers revelation as transforming and informing as being sacramental or mediated through words and deeds as communicated through an endless variety of means and mediators as related to but distinct from biblical inspiration and truth and as reaching those of other faiths or of no faith at all Gerald O Collins skilfully distinguishes between past or foundational revelation present or dependent revelation and future or eschatological revelation He expounds with ecumenical sensitivity the complex relationship between tradition and scripture O Collins moves into controversial areas by insisting that the divine self revelation takes place only when received by human faith and that outside revelation there is no salvation extra revelationem nulla salus This volume offers a coherent account of God's self revelation which can serve as a basis for all that follows in theology and for dialogue with those who follow other living faiths or none at all O Collins extends and enriches what he has proposed in earlier books and articles about the characteristics of God's self revelation      Theology of Revelation Gabriel Moran, 1967
