

The Validation of Faith

This work is a post-critical evangelical conversation with modern and postmodern thought. The basic premise of modern thought was that knowledge is founded upon universal, autonomous, and rational principles of critical thought. This premise is also known as modern knowledge foundations. Post modernism is a term to describe those who have lost confidence in this modern premise. A related term to post modernism is post critical and the post critical evangelization is meant as an allusion to the Christian faith of the Church without modern foundations and without the notion of irrefragable orthodoxy. Some forms of post modernism lead toward relativism because they are more intent on deconstructing the idea of autonomous, critical reason than in reconstructing a more modest claim to knowledge. Post critical is a term used to indicate an appreciation for critical thinking but post critical thinking is more modest in its claims about what it knows and recognizes that all knowing entails personal and subjective aspects.

"This book offers in style and content an exciting new perspective on contemporary theology and its future in post-modern times. I welcome this new perspective. The style is approachable, unpretentious, and engages in dialogue with the best of Barth and Bultmann, Bonhoeffer and Tillich, Cullis and Moltmann, showing what they have to offer to the larger theological community and transcribing it like a ferry boat into the post modern age. The purpose is to offer an evangelical theology which is at the same time genuinely evangelical and relevant for post modern ways of thinking. Wood writes with admirable clarity."

—Roger Moltmann, University of Tübingen

Theology as History and Hermeneutics Laurence W. Wood, 2005 This book offers in style and content an exciting new perspective on contemporary theology and its future in post modern times I welcome this new perspective The style is agreeable unpolemical and engages in dialogue with the best of Barth and Bultmann Ricoeur and Pannenberg Cobb and Moltmann showing what they have to offer to the larger theological community and transferring it like a ferry boat into the post modern age The purpose is to offer an evangelical theology which is at the same time genuinely evangelical and relevant for post modern ways of thinking Wood writes with admirable clarity Jürgen Moltmann University of Tübingen History and Hermeneutics Carl E. Braaten, 2016-10-31 This volume interprets the last decade of theological research and reflection on the relation of Christian faith to history The theological development of this period is depicted as a struggle to go beyond Barth and Bultmann in stressing the centrality of history for revelation and faith Dr Braaten deals with new hermeneutical approaches to achieve a theological synthesis of revelation and history He describes the theology of Wolfhart Pannenberg which calls for a more radical interpretation of revelation along historical lines as a pivotal point in the present situation He goes on to outline current thinking on revelation the historical critical method the historical Jesus resurrection salvation redemption and eschatology History and Hermeneutics Murray Rae, 2005-01-01 Examines the relation between historiography and hermeneutics on three hundred years of western thought The author offers a theological account of what history is centred on the categories of creation and divine promise and proposes that it is within this theological conception of history that the Bible may be understood on its own terms Language, Hermeneutic, and History James M. Robinson, 2008-01-01 James M Robinson together with John B Cobb published a series of three volumes entitled New Frontiers in Theology The Later Heidegger and Theology 1963 The New Hermeneutic 1964 and Theology as History 1967 Here they introduced the new directions that Continental theology was taking after the break caused by the Nazi period and World War II In each volume it was Robinson's assignment to write an extensive introduction of the new direction The German Discussion of the Later Heidegger Hermeneutic since Barth and Revelation as Word and as History Then others contributed essays These three seminar introductions are here brought together in a single volume which thus is the basic tool for getting into the Continental theology of the second half of the twentieth century History and Hermeneutics Carl E. eschatology Pillars in the History of Biblical Interpretation, Volume 2 Stanley E. Porter, Sean A. Adams, 2016-11-03 This two volume set is part of a growing body of literature concerned with the history of biblical interpretation The ample introduction first situates key players in the story of the development of the major strands of biblical interpretation since the Enlightenment identifying how different theoretical and methodological approaches are related to each other and describing the academic environment in which they emerged and developed Volume 1 contains fourteen essays on twenty two interpreters who were principally active before 1980 and volume 2 has nineteen essays on twenty seven of those who were active primarily after this date Each chapter provides a brief biography of one or more scholars as well as a detailed description of their major contributions to the field This is followed by an often new application of the scholar s theory By focusing on the individual scholars and their work the book recognizes that interpretive approaches arise out of certain circumstances and that scholars are influenced by and have influences upon both other interpreters and the times in which they live This set is ideal for any class on the history of biblical interpretation and for those who want a greater understanding of how the current field of biblical studies developed New Directions in Theology Today: History and hermeneutics, by C. E. Braaten William Hordern, 1966 History of Hermeneutics Maurizio Ferraris, 1996 In the following three chapters Ferraris examines the universalization of the domain of interpretation with Heidegger the development of Heideggerian philosophical hermeneutics with Gadamer and Derrida and the relation between hermeneutics and epistemology on the one hand and the human sciences on the other Theology as Hermeneutics ,1987 "Behind" the Text Craig G. Bartholomew, 2003 The fourth in a series of books that result from annual conferences of the top evangelical hermeneutical scholars in the world The topic for this book probes contemporary theories on the philosophy and theology of history and analyzes how those views intersect with the concept of the Bible as history Invitation to Biblical Interpretation, 2nd ed. Andreas Köstenberger, 2021-02-23 An authoritative guide to accurately interpreting and applying God s Word In this second edition of Invitation to Biblical Interpretation Andreas Kostenberger leads the reader step by step through the process of interpreting and applying God s Word The primary principle is the hermeneutical triad which consists of history literature and theology Readers are equipped to explore the historical background of a biblical passage analyze its literary genre and features and derive its theological meaning in light of the biblical canon Numerous examples are provided throughout to illustrate the concepts A concluding chapter provides direction on practical application preaching and helpful tools for Bible study Additional features include key words and definitions at the end of each chapter study questions and practical exercises for applying the material An appendix lists numerous resources for Bible study including recommended commentaries for every book of the Bible The second edition updates these resources as well as the sources cited throughout and includes a revised chapter on the Old Testament canon Instructors students pastors and anyone who desires to interpret Scripture accurately will find this volume to be an indispensable addition to their library Christology, Hermeneutics, and Hebrews Jon C. Laansma, Daniel J. Treier, 2012-03-01 This book discusses the history of the interpretation of the Letter to the Hebrews across the last two millennia Beginning with the Patristic period essays go on to examine the responses of Thomas Aquinas Martin Luther John Calvin as well as more recent figures such as Karl Barth and contemporary global interpreters The premise behind the work is to move study of Hebrews away from the perennial arguments about its authorship and provenance and to instead engage with it from a theological perspective focusing upon the text's reception history Consequently the issue of the Christological message in Hebrews is at the forefront and is considered both in terms of the interpreter's context and historical setting At the end of the book the investigations are summarised and responded to by leading scholars Harold Attridge Donald A Hagner and Kathryn Greene McCreight providing a fitting conclusion to a radical academic project

Theology as Hermeneutics John Painter, 2015-01-29 Rudolf Bultmann was the most significant New Testament scholar we have known in the twentieth century This study approaches his work arguing that his theology can only be understood correctly as an interpretation of the New Testament Naturally it is a twentieth century interpretation involving complex hermeneutical questions But it is the New Testament which provides the subject matter to be interpreted Bultmann's theology stemming from the conviction that the New Testament addresses the present age offers important solutions to many problems for Christian theology in our materialistic relativist pluralistic age The book introduces the reader to Bultmann's theology the problem of contemporary New Testament hermeneutics the problems of New Testament theology the question of the relation of New Testament theology to theology as such It makes a necessary critique of simplistic modes of interpreting Bultmann and shows a masterly hand in assessing his continuing significance

Time, Religion and History William Gallois, 2014-06-11 What is time How does our sense of time lead us to approach the world How did the peoples of the past view time This book answers these questions through an investigation of the cultures of time in Christianity Islam Buddhism Judaism and the Australian Dreamtime It argues that our contemporary world is blind as to the significance and complexity of time preferring to believe that time is natural and unchanging This is of critical importance to historians since the basic matter of their study is time yet there is almost no theoretical literature on time in history This book offers the first detailed historiographical study of the centrality of time to human cultures It sets out the complex ways in which ideas of time developed in the major world religions and the manner in which such conceptions led people both to live in ways very different to our contemporary world and to make very different kinds of histories It goes on to argue that modern scientific descriptions of time such as Einstein's Theory of Relativity lie much closer to the complex understandings of time in religions such as Christianity than they do to our common sense notions of time which are centred on progress through a past present and future

Redemptive-Historical Hermeneutics and Homiletics Yung Hoon Hyun, 2015-04-14 This book focuses on redemptive historical hermeneutics and homiletics within New Testament theology This is a valuable legacy of the Reformed tradition despite differences in interpreting and preaching Bible texts that surfaced in Holland 1920s and 1930s and the United States 1970s onwards before influencing Korean Reformed churches The background origin distinctiveness and development of these theological debates is explored and evaluated before the features of redemptive history in Korea are identified The influence of Western redemptive historical scholars on the Korean debate are also analyzed Here is a major and contemporary contribution to reformed historical hermeneutics and homiletics that is relevant for Korean Reformed churches but also for all Reformed churches worldwide

Bartholomew, 2015-11-10 2016 Word Guild Award Academic category Honorable mention Grace Irwin Prize Renowned scholar Craig Bartholomew coauthor of the bestselling textbook The Drama of Scripture writes in his main area of expertise hermeneutics to help seminarians pursue a lifetime of biblical interpretation Integrating the latest research in theology philosophy and biblical studies this substantive hermeneutics textbook is robustly theological in its approach takes philosophical hermeneutics seriously keeps the focus throughout on the actual process of interpreting Scripture and argues that biblical interpretation should be centered in the context and service of the church an approach that helps us hear God's address today

Hermeneutics, Politics, and the History of Religions Christian K. Wedemeyer, Wendy Doniger, 2010 This volume comprises papers presented at a conference marking the 50th anniversary of Joachim Wach's death and the centennial of Mircea Eliade's birth Its purpose is to reconsider both the problematic separate legacies of these two major twentieth century historians of religions and the bearing of these two legacies upon each other Shortly after Wach's death in 1955 Eliade succeeded him as the premiere historian of religions at the University of Chicago As a result the two have been associated with each other in many people's minds as the successive leaders of the so called Chicago School in the history of religions In fact as this volume makes clear there never was a monolithic Chicago School Although Wach reportedly referred to Eliade as the most astute historian of religions of the day the two never met and their approaches to the study of religions differed significantly Several dominant issues run through the essays collected here the relationship between the two men s writings and their lives and in Eliade s case the relationship between his political commitments and his writings in fiction history of religions and autobiography Both men s contributions to the field continue to provoke controversy and debate and this volume sheds new light on these controversies and what they reveal about these two scholars legacies Matthew's Account of the Massacre of the Innocents in Light of its Reception History Sung J. Cho,2021-10-21 Sung Cho addresses the seeming contradiction of Herod the Great s massacre in Matthew 2 16 18 questioning why such a tragedy had to occur why it was included in the good news of Jesus and what connection it has to ancient prophecies In creating a reception history of the Massacre of the Innocents Cho progresses through two millennia worth of interpretation and depiction to highlight key works for discussion Beginning with a close reading of Matthew 2 16 18 Cho moves to analyse depictions of the tragedy in the Early Patristic Tradition from the sixth century to the early modern period and thus to the present day complete with an examination of visual interpretations of the massacre Cho s examination provides a positive step to understanding the depths of human suffering with the help of many diverse perspectives The Middle Voice in Gadamer's Hermeneutics Philippe Eberhard,2004 Revised thesis Ph D University of Chicago Divinity School Chicago 2002
