School Counseling for Black Male Student Success in 21st Century Urban Schools Malik S. Henfield,Ahmad R. Washington,2015-11-01 Discussions and research related to the salience of Black male student needs and development in relation to their general success and well being is well documented in many fields Indeed many studies have found that healthy masculine identity development is associated with a number of positive outcomes for males in general including Black males In school counseling literature however this discussion has been relatively absent particularly regarding those students living in urban contexts Indeed research devoted to the study of Black males in the school counseling literature focuses almost exclusively on race and issues associated with its social construction with only cursory if any attention given to their masculine identity development as a function of living in urban communities and attending urban schools Based on this lack of information it is probably a safe assumption that intentional systematic culturally relevant efforts to assist Black males in developing healthy achievement and masculine identities based on their unique personal social academic experiences and future career goals are not being applied by school counselors concerned with meeting students needs School counselors are in a unique position nonetheless to lend their considerable expertise insights training and skills to improving life outcomes among Black males a population who are consistently in positions of risk according to a number of quality of life indicators Without knowledge and awareness of Black males masculine identity development in urban areas coupled with the requisite skills to influence the myriad factors that enhance and impede healthy development in such environments they are missing out on tremendous opportunities which other professions appear to understand and quite frankly seem to take more seriously As such this book proposes to accomplish two specific goals 1 Highlight the plight of Black males with specific emphasis on the ecological components of their lives in relation to current school culture and trends 2 Encourage school counselors to give more thought to Black male identity development that takes into consideration differential experiences in society as a whole and schools in particular as a function of the intersection of their race as well as their gender The first rationale for this book then is to highlight the plight of Black males with specific emphasis on the ecological components of their lives in relation to current school culture and trends e g standards based accountability practices in urban environments However I recognize the role of school counselors has never been fully integrated into educational reform programs As such their positions are often unregulated and determined by people in positions of power who do not understand their training job specific standards and thus potential impact on the lives of Black male students As a result their vast potential to develop strong interventions designed to address the myriad racial and masculine factors that serve to enhance and impede Black males academic achievement is often unrealized Therefore the second reason for this special issue is to include the scholarship of professional school counselors and counselor educators with policy change in mind Scholars will be invited to contribute manuscripts that explore race masculinity and academic achievement in relation to the role of school counselors This is designed to encourage school counselors and counselor educators to give more thought to Black male identity development that takes into consideration differential experiences in society as a whole and schools in particular as a function of the intersection of their race as well as their gender

PowerPoints and a sample syllabus Empathy Pathways Andeline dos Santos, 2022-09-07 Many descriptions of empathy revolve around sharing in and understanding another person's emotions. One separate person gains access to the emotional world of another. An entire worldview holds up this idea. It is individualistic and affirms the possibility of access to other people's inner world. Can we really see inside another though? And are we discrete separate selves? How can we best grapple with these questions in the field of music therapy? In response, this book offers four empathy pathways. Two are situated in a constituent approach that prioritises discrete individuals who then enter into relationships with one another and two are located in relational approaches that acknowledge the foundational reality of relationships themselves. By understanding empathy more fully, music therapists, teachers and researchers can engage in ways that are congruent with diverse worldviews and ways of being. Examples used in the book are from active and receptive music therapy approaches as well as from community and clinical contexts so as to provide clear links to practice. This book will be a valuable resource for academics and postgraduate students within music therapy and allied fields including art therapy, drama therapy, dance movement therapy, psychology, counselling, occupational therapy and social development studies. See You at the

Crossroads: Hip Hop Scholarship at the Intersections Brad Porfilio, Debangshu Roychoudhury, Lauren M. Gardner, 2014-09-23 See You at the Crossroads: Hip Hop Scholarship at the Intersections Dialectical Harmony, Ethics, Aesthetics and Panoply of Voices offers several essential contributions to the field of Hip Hop studies. It presents several snapshots of innovative work within and at the intersections between several intellectual fields of study. The collection of essays reveal the dialectical harmony and solidarity with which Hip Hop scholars, activists and artists collectively mobilize, stand together and collaboratively sustain in hopes of realizing social justice and actualizing global liberation. Several leading scholars in Hip Hop studies also provide insight to the aesthetic, the affordances, the ethics and panoply of voices in Hip Hop culture. Finally, through empirical research, direct artistic engagement and critical pedagogical praxis, the contributors demonstrate how Hip Hop Based Education (HHBE) catalyzes civic engagement and democratic participation in schools through the use of democratic aesthetic tools to galvanize social change. Outside and In-Between: Theorizing

Asian-Canadian Exclusion and the Challenges of Identity Formation, 2021-09-06 Asian Canadians, whether immigrant, international students, naturalized native born or other, are hampered in their exploration and articulation of self by the dearth of critical writing both for them and by them. Despite the influx of Asian students and their inflated tuition rates to Canadian postsecondary institutions, they are strikingly underrepresented in the literature of the academy. Critical theory focusing on Asian identity, anti-Asian racism and the Asian Canadian experience is limited or presented as an artifact of the past. Across the globe, but particularly in the English speaking West, the internationalization of higher education continues its upward trend. 2017 data from the Canadian Bureau for International Education positioned Canada as the fourth leading destination for international students seeking post-secondary education. The fact that the vast majority of international students at Canadian colleges and universities come from Asia has been well documented in domestic media but the lived experiences and perspectives of these transnational individuals have not This edited collection provides much needed theorizing of Asian Canadian lived experiences focusing on such themes as multiculturalism diversity race culture agency education community activism citizenship identity model minority myths gender colonization neoliberalism and others Contributors include Sarah Alam Syed Fahad Ali Wallis Caldoza Valerie G Damasco Grace Garlow Allison Lam Kailan Leung Juanna Nguyen Dionisio Nyaga Jasmine Pham Vania Soepriatna Tika Ram Thapa and Rose Ann Torres Child-Centred Music Therapy Viggo Krüger, Kathleen M. Murphy, 2025-07-03 This open access book draws on recent developments in children s rights particularly concerning the child s right to participation provision and protection Since 1989 the UNCRC has become a catalogue of rights that expresses legal norms used by all countries in the world The UNCRC can be considered a toolkit that expresses a normative order that is a human rights standard for how to legitimately protect children and to facilitate processes of participation For many children and adolescents music is a significant source for gaining health and social cultural participation Music then has the potential for realizing values inherent in the UNCRC The main aim of this book is to utilize The United Nations Conventions on the Rights UNCRC as a tool to give an overview of relevant themes and to critically explore what implications the convention has for the profession of music therapy and more specifically music therapy for children and adolescents The Young Are Making Their World Yuya Kiuchi, Francisco A. Villarruel, 2016-06-09 Young people have long used popular culture to explore define and express who they are For many popular culture is also a tool of survival Gone are the days when proscriptive programs were needed for young people to transition to adulthood Today youth culture is communicated through information technology particularly social media enabling young people to engage the world Yet as always youth culture is often a cause of concern for adults and policy makers This collection of new essays focuses on modern youth popular culture There are such topics as social justice and youth mobilization in Ferguson Missouri social media and sexual literacy among LGBT youth and youth culture s influence on children s sports
