The Cosmonaut Who Couldn't Stop Smiling Andrew L. Jenks, 2019-01-15 Let's go With that the boyish grinning Yuri Gagarin launched into space on April 12 1961 becoming the first human being to exit Earth's orbit The twenty seven year old lieutenant colonel departed for the stars from within the shadowy world of the Soviet military industrial complex Barbed wires no entry placards armed guards false identities mendacious maps and a myriad of secret signs had hidden Gagarin from prying outsiders not even his friends or family knew what he had been up to Coming less than four years after the Russians launched Sputnik into orbit Gagarin's voyage was cause for another round of capitalist shock and Soviet rejoicing The Cosmonaut Who Couldn't Stop Smiling relates this twentieth century icon's remarkable life while exploring the fascinating world of Soviet culture Gagarin's flight brought him massive international fame in the early 1960s he was possibly the most photographed person in the world flashing his trademark smile while rubbing elbows with the varied likes of Nehru Castro Queen Elizabeth II and Italian sex symbol Gina Lollobrigida Outside of the spotlight Andrew L. Jenks reveals his tragic and mysterious death in a jet crash became fodder for morality tales and conspiracy theories in his home country and long after his demise his life continues to provide grist for the Russian popular culture mill This is the story of a legend both the official one and the one of myth which reflected the fantasies perversions hopes and dreams of Gagarin s fellow Russians With this rich lively chronicle of Gagarin s life and times Jenks recreates the elaborately secretive world of space age Russia while providing insights into Soviet history that will captivate a range of readers

Gardener's Monthly and Horticultural Advertiser Thomas Meehan,1873 Stop the Violence in Latin America Laura Chioda,2017-06-19 The Latin America and Caribbean LAC region has the undesirable distinction of being the world s most violent region with 24 7 homicides per 100 000 inhabitants The magnitude of the problem is staggering and persistent Of the top 50 most violent cities in the world 42 are in LAC In 2010 alone 142 302 people in LAC fell victim to homicide representing 390 homicides per day and 4 06 homicides every 15 minutes Crime disproportionately affects young men aged 20 to 24 whose homicide rate of 92 per 100 000 nearly quadruples that of the region The focus of Crime Prevention in Latin America and the Caribben is to identify policy interventions that whether by design or indirect effect have been shown to affect antisocial behavior early in life and patterns of criminal offending in youth and adults Particular attention is devoted to recent studies that rigorously establish a causal link between the interventions in question and outcomes This publication adopts a lifecycle perspective and argues that as individuals progress through different stages of the lifecycle not only do different sets of risk factors arise and take more prominence but their interactions and interdependencies shape human behavior. These interactions and the relative importance of different sets of risk factors identify relevant margins that can effectively be targeted by prevention policies not only early in life but throughout the lifecycle. Indeed prevention can never start too early nor start too late nor be too comprehensive.

The Frozen Saqqaq Sites of Disko Bay, West Greenland - Qeqertasussuk and Qajaa (2400-900 BC) Bjarne Grønnow, 2017-03-01 Qeqertasussuk and Qajaa are the only known sites of the Early Arctic Small Tool tradition in the Eastern Arctic where all kinds of organic materials wood bone baleen hair skin are preserved in permafrozen culture layers. Together the sites cover the entire Saqqaq era in Greenland c. 2400-900 BC. Technological and contextual analyses of the excellently preserved archaeological materials from the frozen layers form the core of this publication. Bjarne Grønnow draws a new picture of a true Arctic pioneer society with a remarkably complex technology. The Saqqaq hunting tool kit consisting of bows darts lances harpoons and throwing boards as well as kayak like sea going vessels is described for the first time. A wide variety of hand tools and household utensils as well as lithic and organic refuse and animal bones were found on the intact floor of a midpassage dwelling at Qeqertasussuk. These materials provide entirely new information on the daily life and subsistence of the earliest hunting groups in Greenland. Comparative studies put the Saqqaq Culture into a broad cultural historical perspective as one of the pioneer societies of the Eastern Arctic.

Reaching the Unseen Children Jean Gross, 2025-09-17 This new edition of the best selling Reaching the Unseen Children provides a powerful and accessible resource for schools working to close the attainment gap between disadvantaged children particularly white pupils from low income backgrounds and their peers. It tackles head on the issues currently confronting schools with new content on early years and on attendance reflecting deeply worrying data showing that almost two in five disadvantaged pupils were persistently absent in the last school year. Firmly located in the current educational policy context it incorporates the latest science on how we can develop oracy for example on new approaches to teaching reading and on why belonging school connectedness and agency are emerging as critical to the success of disadvantaged learners. The second edition includes many new case studies from outstanding schools which have successfully drawn on and developed ideas from the first edition making them their own. Bringing together the latest data research and stories from schools that have made the difference to close the gap Reaching the Unseen Children remains an essential guide for anyone working in education today who is seeking equity for all their pupils.

Final Stop Brazil - Book one Rita Embalo, 2011-12-30 In the midst of life and at the point of real happiness in the South of Spain I am being separated unexpectedly in the cruelest way from my son and this dream life. A trip to Brazil ends in a nightmare of prison with my arrest due to a trap I ran into. For months I live in a state of shock and cannot cope with the terrible prison conditions. I find out that I had been betrayed and have to realize that I have lost my son forever. My boyfriend Luciano lets me down as well as my own family Only my father is full of grief he passes away because his heart breaks knowing me being in prison My pleadings not to tell him anything are being ignored I decide to end my life which is not a dignified life anymore in this hell of a prison where I am locked up in a small space with about 160 other women crowded together Harold Gasson's Steam Days

Harold Gasson,2020-12-12 When Harold Gasson first put pen to paper more than forty years ago it was at a time when there was a growing resurgence of interest in the steam railway Three of his books described his life as a fireman based at Didcot shed from the early 1940s Firing Days was followed by Footplate Days and then Nostalgia Days Finally after Harold had forsaken the footplate for the signal box came the final instalment Signalling Days All were eagerly sought after at the time for they described the railway readers wanted to hear about providing a nostalgic perspective which could be enjoyed from the comfort of one s arm chair Out of print for several decades all four books have now been reprinted and are available together for the first time complete with a new set of illustrations The steam engines and most of the mechanical signal boxes of Harold s working days may have been long consigned to history but in these well written and enjoyable books they are brought vividly back to life for a new audience to enjoy as well for those who recall his era for whom these tales will reawaken treasured memories Making Sense of Neuroscience in the Early Years Sally Featherstone,2017-11-16

Translating research about child neuroscience into practice in education is a daunting prospect for most practitioners In fact many see it as fraught with difficulties and risky However the importance of this research has never been more important The context of the early years in the UK has seen considerable changes within recent years with a raft of government regulation and guidance and a national move to free childcare entitlement at increasingly earlier ages Combined with a mounting pressure for accountability in Closing the Gap between disadvantaged children and those more fortunate these pressures make it fundamental that those working with young children understand what neuroscience is telling us and more important what it is not Practitioners teachers managers and governors in settings and schools will not only be called to account for the attainment of their children as measured in tests but in the way children are prepared for lifelong learning which will support them for the rest of their school lives and beyond This book is a comprehensive position statement for practitioners that highlights where we are now what we know what we don t know what research developments mean for practitioners and setting and how this fits in with the government expectations within the EYFS framework Sally Featherstone covers the current thinking in educational research and neuroscience how some of this has been misinterpreted by early adopters or over enthusiastic promoters and how new information can help practitioners to be more effective in their work with young children The Kindergarten Magazine ,1903
