The Revolt of Unreason Michael Candelaria, 2012-01-01 This book examines solutions to the crisis of modernity proposed by the Spanish philosopher Miguel de Unamuno and the Mexican philosopher Antonio Caso Acceptance of the objective claims of modern scientific rationality and the consequent rejection of the objective validity of artistic moral and religious claims generates the crisis of modernity The problem is that of justifying artistic moral and religious claims Miguel de Unamuno in his classic work The Tragic Sense of Life addresses the conflict between the belief in personal immortality and modern scientific rationality Holding that there is no rational justification for the belief in immortality Unamuno finds a solution in a saving scepticism to act as if he deserved immortality In his book Existence as Economy as Art and Charity Caso attempts to create an a posteriori metaphysics based on the current results of science supplemented by the intuitions of art and morality In doing so Caso believes that he has enlarged the scope of the knowable to include objects of art morality and religion Unamuno by accepting the strict line of demarcation between faith and reason has no other recourse but to turn to decisionism By turning to intuitionism Caso believes that he has blurred the line of demarcation Decisionism and intuitionism therefore are worthy of further exploration

Visions of Women Linda A. Bell, 2012-12-06 People of Socrates time were frequently aghast at the questions he would ask Their responses were of the sort elicited by very dumb or extremely obvious questions Don't you know Everyone else does Socrates was hardly alone in his knack for asking such questions Philosophers have always asked peculiar questions most other people would never dream of asking convinced as the latter are that the answers were settled long ago in the collective wisdom of society including questions about woman should women be educated should they rule societies should they be subordinate in marriage do women and men have the same virtues or are there separate virtues for each which of the differences between women and men are conventional and which are natural is there a woman's work do women and men have different types or degrees of rationality Philosophers of the most diverse periods have raised these questions and their answers were often quite creative not merely reflecting the conventions and mores of their societies With the publication of this anthology their writings will be brought together in a single volume for the first time This anthology differs from others not just in its inclusiveness It also contains several translations of material previously unavailable in English McClure's Magazine, 1912 The Later Works, 1925-1953 John Dewey, 1981 John Dewey's Experience and Nature has been considered the fullest expression of his mature philosophy since its eagerly awaited publication in 1925 Irwin Edman wrote at that time that with monumental care detail and completeness Professor Dewey has in this volume revealed the metaphysical heart that beats its unvarying alert tempo through all his writings whatever their explicit themes In his introduction to this volume Sidney Hook points out that Dewey's Experience and Nature is both the most suggestive and most difficult of his writings The meticulously edited text published here as the first volume in the series The Later Works of John Dewey 1925-1953 spans that entire period in Dewey's thought by including two important and previously unpublished documents from the book's history Dewey's unfinished new introduction written between 1947 and 1949 edited by the late Joseph Ratner and Dewey's unedited final draft of that introduction written the year before his death In the intervening years Dewey realized the impossibility of making his use of the word experience understood He wrote in his 1951 draft for a new introduction Were I to write or rewrite Experience and Nature today I would entitle the book Culture and Nature and the treatment of specific subject matters would be correspondingly modified I would abandon the term experience because of my growing realization that the historical obstacles which prevented understanding of my use of experience are for all practical purposes insurmountable I would substitute the term culture because with its meanings as now firmly established it can fully and freely carry my philosophy of experience Collected Works of C.G. web indexing in matlab is column wise for example a matrix  $\begin{bmatrix} 2 & 9 & 4 & 3 & 5 & 11 \end{bmatrix}$  is stored in memory as the array  $\begin{bmatrix} 2 & 3 & 9 & 5 & 4 & 11 \end{bmatrix}$  one can use a single index to access an element of the matrix e g a 4 5 in matlab there are two matrix systems to represent a two dimensional grid the geometry consistent matrix and the coordinate consistent
