normal Iowa that enabled him to find nothing odd in the idea that one man might represent statistically ten thousand or more of his own kind In 1935 Gallup partnered with Harry Anderson to found the American Institute of Public Opinion based in Princeton New Jersey an opinion polling firm that included a syndicated newspaper column called America Speaks The reputation of the organization was made when Gallup publicly challenged the polling techniques of The Literary Digest the best known political straw poll of the day Calculating that the Digest would wrongly predict that Kansas Republican Alf Landon would win the presidential election Gallup offered newspapers a money back guarantee if his prediction that Franklin Delano Roosevelt would win wasn't more accurate Gallup believed that public opinion polls served an important function in a democracy If government is supposed to be based on the will of the people somebody ought to go and find what that will is Gallup explained

Railroad History of Winneshiek County Ian Schacht, 2010 The history of the settlement of the West can in many aspects be attributed to the coming of a railroad To the first settlers the railroads provided the opportunities to link up with markets across the nation without having to travel far from their farms The lines brought hope and change but also brought crime and corruption The story of almost every town west of the Mississippi can in some way be linked to the story of the railroad that serviced the area These towns grew over the years in size and economic wealth as the amounts of trade and transport transformed the line into a funnel for economic progress Though the railroads would eventually be challenged by trucking companies and personal automobiles the business the railroads had helped establish led the community into the wealth they have today In the northern Iowa county of Winneshiek each town holds the perfect example of railroad successes and failures Each town holds their own heritage which can uniquely be associated with many other towns across the west The heritage left by the railroads can be directly linked to the heritage of the western United States To look at the history of us we need to look into the founding of the railroads

Iowa Historic Property Study Jennifer A. Price, Leah D. Rogers, 2012 The Iowana Farms Milk Company factory building was considered to retain sufficient integrity and possess sufficient significance to be considered eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under Criteria A and C for its historical and architectural significance in the Bettendorf community The Iowana Farms Milk Company was an important early to mid twentieth century business in Bettendorf and was among the few that was not owned or operated by the Bettendorf Company It was a strong and thriving business for many years and its products were well known in the Quad Cities region The importance of this property becomes even more significant when one considers that most of the buildings once associated with the actual Bettendorf Company which was undeniably the most important business and industry in town are now gone As a result the Iowana Farms Milk Company factory building was a physical vestige of the once thriving commercial industries that made Bettendorf into a city in the twentieth century This property was further significant for its representation of the evolution of the dairy industry in the twentieth century from farm to factory production It also reflected the changes to the industry based on scientific discoveries mechanical innovations and governmental regulations related to improved sanitation and the pure milk movement The Iowana Farms Milk Company represented a model plant for the time and the marketing strategies it employed followed the trends of the industry The Iowana Farms Milk Company plant had to be removed to make room for a new I 74 bridge over the Mississippi River at Bettendorf The construction of the new bridge also required removal of the historic Iowa Illinois Memorial Bridge The documentation reported herein and for that of the Iowa Illinois Memorial Bridge fulfills the requirements of the Memorandum of Agreement regarding the removal of these historic properties

Iowa History Reader Marvin Bergman, 2008-03-15 In 1978 historian Joseph Wall wrote that Iowa was still seeking to assert its own identity It has no real center where the elite of either power wealth or culture may congregate Iowa in short is middle America In this collection of well written and accessible essays originally published in 1996 seventeen of the Hawkeye State s most accomplished historians reflect upon the dramatic and not so dramatic shifts in the middle land s history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Marvin Bergman has drawn upon his years of editing the Annals of Iowa to gather contributors who cross disciplines model the craft of writing a historical essay cover more than one significant topic and above all interpret history rather than recite it In his preface to this new printing he calls attention to publications that begin to fill the gaps noted in the 1996 edition Rather than survey the basic facts the essayists engage readers in the actual making of Iowa s history by trying to understand the meaning of its past By providing comprehensive accounts of topics in Iowa history that embrace the broader historiographical issues in American history such as the nature of Progressivism and Populism the debate over whether women s expanded roles in wartime carried over to postwar periods and the place of quantification in history the essayists contribute substantially to debates at the national level at the same time that they interpret Iowa s distinctive culture
