The Writings Of David Thompson Volume 1 The Travels 1850 Version:

Writings of David Thompson, Volume 1 The Travels, 1850 Version ,2009 David Thompson s Travels is one of the finest early expressions of the Canadian experience The work is not only the account of a remarkable life in the fur trade but an extended meditation on the land and Native peoples of western North America. The tale spans the years 1784 to 1807 and extends from the Great Lakes to the Rockies from Athabasca to Missouri A distinguished literary work the Travels alternates between the expository prose of the scientist and the vivid language of the storyteller animated throughout by a restless spirit of inquiry and sense of wonder In the first volume of an ambitious three volume project that will finally bring all of Thompson's writings together editor William Moreau presents the Travels narrative as it existed in 1850 when the author was forced to abandon his work Accompanying Moreau s transcription is an introductory essay and a textual introduction extensive critical annotations historical and modern maps and a biographical appendix The definitive collection of Thompson s works The Writings of David Thompson will bring one of North American's most important early travellers and surveyors and his world to a whole new generation of readers The Writings of David Thompson, Volume 1 David Thompson, 2015-08-14 A vivid account of life in the fur trade and a cornerstone of Canadian literature Writings of David Thompson, Volume 1 David Thompson, William E. Moreau, 2009-09-01 David Thompson's Travels is one of the finest early expressions of the Canadian experience The work is not only the account of a remarkable life in the fur trade but an extended meditation on the land and Native peoples of western North America The tale spans the years 1784 to 1807 and extends from the Great Lakes to the Rockies from Athabasca to Missouri A distinguished literary work the Travels alternates between the expository prose of the scientist and the vivid language of the storyteller animated throughout by a restless spirit of inquiry and sense of wonder In the first volume of an ambitious three volume project that will finally bring all of Thompson's writings together editor William Moreau presents the Travels narrative as it existed in 1850 when the author was forced to abandon his work Accompanying Moreau s transcription is an introductory essay and a textual introduction extensive critical annotations historical and modern maps and a biographical appendix The definitive collection of Thompson s works The Writings of David Thompson will bring one of North American's most important early travellers and surveyors and his world to a whole new generation of readers The Writings of David Thompson David Thompson, 2009 David Thompson s Travels is not only the account of a remarkable life in the fur trade but an extended meditation on the land and Native peoples of western North America A distinguished literary work the tale spans the years from 1784 to 1897 and extends from the Great Lakes to the Rockies from Athabasca to the Missouri This is the first volume of an ambitious project to bring together all of Thompson s writings for a new generation of readers The Writings of David Thompson David Thompson, 2009 David Thompson Elle Andra-Warner, 2011-02-01 Surveyor cartographer fur trader adventurer naturalist and entrepreneur David Thompson is now recognized as one of the greatest explorers and geographers of all time By 1812 he had surveyed almost four million square kilometres of the North American wilderness and become the first European to navigate the entire length of the Columbia River This compelling biography draws from Thompson's detailed accounts of his gruelling voyages and follows him from his apprenticeship with the Hudson's Bay Company through his extraordinary accomplishments in the service of the North West Company to his later years struggling to claim his legacy The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole The Cadottes Robert Silbernagel,2020-05-13 The Great Lakes fur trade spanned two centuries and thousands of miles but the story of one particular family the Cadottes illuminates the history of trade and trapping while exploring under researched stories of French Ojibwe political social and economic relations Multiple generations of Cadottes were involved in the trade usually working as interpreters and peacemakers as the region passed from French to British to American control Focusing on the years 1760 to 1840 the heyday of the Great Lakes fur trade Robert Silbernagel delves into the lives of the Cadottes with particular emphasis on the Ojibwe French Canadian Michel Cadotte and his Ojibwe wife Equaysayway who were traders and regional leaders on Madeline Island for nearly forty years In The Cadottes A Fur Trade Family on Lake Superior Silbernagel deepens our understanding of this era with stories of Contested Spaces of Early America Juliana Barr, Edward Countryman, 2014-04-21 Colonial resilient remarkable people America stretched from Quebec to Buenos Aires and from the Atlantic littoral to the Pacific coast Although European settlers laid claim to territories they called New Spain New England and New France the reality of living in those spaces had little to do with European kingdoms Instead the New World's holdings took their form and shape from the Indian territories they inhabited These contested spaces throughout the western hemisphere were not unclaimed lands waiting to be conquered and populated but a single vast space occupied by native communities and defined by the meeting mingling and clashing of peoples creating societies unlike any that the world had seen before Contested Spaces of Early America brings together some of the most distinguished historians in the field to view colonial America on the largest possible scale Lavishly illustrated with maps Native art and color plates the twelve chapters span the southern reaches of New Spain through Mexico and Navajo Country to the Dakotas and Upper Canada and the early Indian civilizations to the ruins of the nineteenth century West At the heart of this volume is a search for a human geography of colonial relations Contested Spaces of Early America aims to rid the historical landscape of imperial cores frontier peripheries and modern national borders to redefine the way scholars imagine colonial America Contributors Matthew Babcock Ned Blackhawk Chantal Cramaussel Brian DeLay Elizabeth Fenn Allan Greer Pekka H m l inen Ra l Jos Mandrini Cynthia Radding Birgit Brander Rasmussen Alan Taylor and Samuel Truett

George Cartwright's The Labrador Companion Marianne P. Stopp, 2016-09-01 New manuscripts directly related to Canada's history rarely come to light The Labrador Companion written in 1810 by Captain George Cartwright 1739 1819 and discovered in 2013 is a fascinating and unusual find because of its level of detail its setting in a hardly studied part of Britain s fur trade empire and because it is a personal account rather than a trade outfit ledger or government document This annotated edition transcribes The Labrador Companion in full Cartwright documented the everyday work of Labrador s particular kind of fur trade life based on his experiences operating a series of merchant stations in southern Labrador between 1770 and 1786 Although his focus is firmly on instruction in the manifold ways of capturing animals he also provides rare glimpses of Innu and Inuit life as well as of housekeeping and gardening The Labrador Companion includes a lengthy description of Labrador's fauna of land sea and air that counts among Canada's earliest natural history writing based on first hand observation A revealing account of fur trade era technology methods and materials conveyed through one man s acquired knowledge and skills The Labrador Companion gives a close to the ground picture of the resource industries that were at the heart of British and French colonial presence in the Canadian northeast The Writings of David Thompson: The travels, 1850 version David Thompson, 2024 More Trails, More Tales Bob Henderson, 2014-11-29 Draws on Canadian exploration history geography anthropology literature and philosophy striking a balance that will delight serious naturalists and armchair historians alike Bob Henderson's Trails and Tales 4-Book Bundle Bob Henderson, 2016-05-30 Hit the trails with naturalist and raconteur Bob Henderson in this four book bundle From folklore to heritage with a hefty dose of the Scandinavian outdoor living ethos of friluftsliv Henderson fires the imagination urging Ontarians to reignite their relationship with nature Includes Every Trail Has a Story More Trails More Tales Nature First Pike s Portage Dogs in the North Robert J. Losey, Robert P. Wishart, Jan Peter Laurens Loovers, 2018-06-13 Dogs in the North offers an interdisciplinary in depth consideration of the multiple roles that dogs have played in the North Spanning the deep history of humans and dogs in the North the volume examines a variety of contexts in North America and Eurasia The case studies build on archaeological ethnohistorical ethnographic and anthropological research to illuminate the diversity and similarities in canine human relationships across this vast region The book sheds additional light on how dogs figure in the story of domestication and how they have participated in partnerships with people across time With contributions from a wide selection of authors Dogs in the North is aimed at students and scholars of anthropology archaeology and history as well as all those with interests in human animal studies and northern societies Mapping with Words Sarah Wylie Krotz, 2019-03-27 Mapping with Words re conceptualizes early Canadian settler writing as literary cartography Examining the multitude of ways in which writers expanded the work of mapmakers it offers fresh readings of both familiar and obscure texts from the nineteenth century So Vast and Various John Warkentin, 2010 A look at 150 years of writings about Canada Archaeology of Households, Kinship, and Social Change Lacey B. Carpenter, Anna Marie s regions Prentiss, 2021-11-25 Archaeology of Households Kinship and Social Change offers new perspectives on the processes of social change from the standpoint of household archaeology This volume develops new theoretical and methodological approaches to the archaeology of households pursuing three critical themes household diversity in human residential communities with and without archaeologically identifiable houses interactions within and between households that explicitly considers impacts of kin and non kin relationships and lastly change as a process that involves the choices made by members of households in the context of larger societal constraints Encompassing these themes authors explore the role of social ties and their material manifestations within the house dwelling or other constructed space how the household relates to other social units how households consolidate power and control over resources and how these changes manifest at multiple scales The case studies presented in this volume have broader implications for understanding the drivers of change the ways households create the contexts for change and how households serve as spaces for invention reaction and or resistance Understanding the nature of relationships within households is necessary for a more complete understanding of communities and regions as these ties are vital to explaining how and why societies change Taking a comparative outlook with case studies from around the world this volume will inform students and professionals researching household archaeology and be of interest to other disciplines concerned with the relationship between social networks and societal change Canadian Geographic ,2009 Wisconsin Magazine of History Milo Milton Quaife, Joseph Schafer, Edward P.
