The Wrong House The Architecture Of Alfred Hitchcock:

The Wrong House Steven Jacobs, 2007 Architecture plays an important role In the films of Alfred Hitchcock Steven Jacobs devotes lengthy discussion to a series of domestic buildings with the help of a number of reconstructed floor plans made specially for this book      The San Francisco of Alfred Hitchcock's Vertigo Douglas A. Cunningham, 2012 This book is a collection of essays that examine the integrated relationship that the 1958 Alfred Hitchcock film Vertigo has with the history and culture of California and the San Francisco Bay area      Shadow of a Doubt Diane Negra, 2021-04-15 Shadow of a Doubt 1943 was British born Alfred Hitchcock's sixth American film and the one that he at various times identified as his favourite and his best It seems likely that one of the reasons he liked Shadow so much is that it is an extraordinarily well ordered narrative system a meticulous cause and effect chain that melds its various scenes and sequences together to form a unified narrative that is highly effective in building suspense and cultivating identification with characters This scrupulously organized film operates as a masterclass on principles of narrative design while generating resonant commentary on the nature of family life This book redresses the deficit of sustained critical attention paid to Shadow even in the large corpus of Hitchcock scholarship Analysing the film's narrative system issues of genre authorship social history homesickness and family values Diane Negra shows how the film's impeccable narrative structure is wedded to radical ideological content linking the film's terrors to the punishing effects of looking beyond conventional family and gender roles This book understands Shadow as an unconventionally female centred Hitchcock text and a milestone film that marks the director's emergent engagement with the pathologies of violence in American life and opens a window into the placement of femininity in World War II consensus culture and more broadly into the politics of mid century gender and family life      Resistant City: Histories, Maps And The Architecture Of Development Eunice Mei Feng Seng, 2020-02-24 This vivid book is an inquiry into the stagnation between the development of architectural practice and the progress in urban modernization It is about islands as territories of resistance It is about dense places where multitudes dwell in perennial contestations with the city on every front It is about the histories tactics and spaces of everyday survival within the hegemonic sway of global capital and unstoppable development It is preoccupied with making visible the culture of resistance and architecture's entanglement with it It is about urban resilience It is about Hong Kong where uncertainty is status quo This interdisciplinary volume explores real and invented places and identities that are created in tandem with Hong Kong's urban development Mapping contested spaces in the territory it visualizes the energies and tenacity of the people as manifest in their daily life social and professional networks and the urban spaces in which they inhabit Embodying the multifaceted nature of the Asian metropolis the book utilizes a combination of archival materials public data sources field observations and documentation analytical drawings models and maps Related Link's      Hitchcock and Contemporary Art C. Sprengler, 2014-04-01 Hitchcock and Contemporary Art introduces readers to the fascinating and diverse range of artistic practices devoted to

Alfred Hitchcock's films His works have the capacity to activate sophisticated engagements with Hitchcock's films and cinema more generally tackling issues of time and space memory and history and sound and image Alfred Hitchcock's America Murray Pomerance, 2013-04-12 With a sharp eye for social detail and the pressures of class inequality Alfred Hitchcock brought to the American scene a perspicacity and analytical shrewdness unparalleled in American cinema Murray Pomerance works from a basis in cultural analysis and a detailed knowledge of Alfred Hitchcock's films and production techniques to explore how America of the 1940s 1950s and 1960s is revealed and critically commented upon in Hitchcock's work Alfred Hitchcock's America is full of stunning details that bring new light to Hitchcock's method and works The American spirit of place is seen here in light of the titanic American personality American values in a consumer age social class and American social form and the characteristic American marriage The book's analysis ranges across a wide array of films from Rebecca to Family Plot and examines in depth the location sequences characterological types and complex social expectations that riddled American society while Hitchcock thrived there Color and the Moving Image Simon Brown, Sarah Street, Liz Watkins, 2013-10-28 This new AFI Film Reader is the first comprehensive collection of original essays on the use of color in film Contributors from diverse film studies backgrounds consider the importance of color throughout the history of the medium assessing not only the theoretical implications of color on the screen but also the ways in which developments in cinematographic technologies transformed the aesthetics of color and the nature of film archiving and restoration Color and the Moving Image includes new writing on key directors whose work is already associated with color such as Hitchcock Jarman and Sirk as well as others whose use of color has not yet been explored in such detail including Eric Rohmer and the Coen Brothers This volume is an excellent resource for a variety of film studies courses and the global film archiving community at large Interiors and Interiority Ewa Lajer-Burchard, Beate Söntgen, 2015-11-13 Veranschaulichungsformen von Innerlichkeit finden in der Moderne in Darstellungen des Interieurs ihr prägnantes Bild Die Beiträge der Publikation untersuchen die Verbindungen zwischen architektonischen Innenräumen visuellen und literarischen Darstellungen von Interieurs und dem Konzept der Innerlichkeit vom 18. Jahrhundert bis heute Jene Darstellungen sind Effekt aber auch Produzenten spezifischer Vorstellungen von Innerlichkeit als einer wenn nicht der subjektkonstituierenden Praxis der Moderne Camera Constructs Andrew Higgott, Timothy Wray, 2016-12-05 Photography and architecture have a uniquely powerful resonance architectural form provides the camera with the subject for some of its most compelling imagery while photography profoundly influences how architecture is represented imagined and produced Camera Constructs is the first book to reflect critically on the varied interactions of the different practices by which photographers artists architects theorists and historians engage with the relationship of the camera to architecture the city and the evolution of Modernism The title thus on the one hand opposes the medium of photography and the materiality of construction but on the other can be read as saying that the camera invariably constructs what it depicts the photograph is not a simple representation of an external reality but constructs its own meanings and reconstructs its subjects Twenty three essays by a wide range of historians and theorists are grouped under the themes of Modernism and the Published Photograph Architecture and the City Re imagined Interpretative Constructs and Photography in Design Practices They are preceded by an Introduction that comprehensively outlines the subject and elaborates on the diverse historical and theoretical contexts of the authors approaches Camera Constructs provides a rich and highly original analysis of the relationship of photography to built form from the early modern period to the present day The Architecture of Suspense Christine Madrid French, 2022-09-08 The inimitable haunting films of Alfred Hitchcock took place in settings both exterior and interior that deeply impacted our experiences of his most unforgettable works From the enclosed spaces of Rope and Rear Window to the wide open expanses of North by Northwest the physical worlds inhabited by desperate characters are a crucial element in our perception of the Hitchcockian universe As Christine Madrid French reveals in this original and indispensable book Hitchcock s relation to the built world was informed by an intense engagement with location and architectural form in an era marked by modernism s advance fueled by some of the most creative midcentury designers in film Hitchcock saw elements of the built world not just as scenic devices but as interactive areas to frame narrative exchanges In his films building forms also serve a sentient purpose to capture and convey feelings sensations and moments that generate an emotive response from the viewer Visualizing the contemporary built landscape allowed the director to illuminate Americans everyday experiences as well as their own uncertain relationship with their environment and with each other French shares several untold stories such as the real life suicide outside the Hotel Empire in Vertigo which foreshadowed uncannily that film s tragic finale and takes us to the actual buildings that served as the inspiration for Psycho s infamous Bates Motel Her analysis of North by Northwest uncovers the Frank Lloyd Wright underpinnings for Robert Boyle s design of the modernist house from the film s celebrated Mount Rushmore sequence and ingeniously establishes the Vandamm House as the prototype of the cinematic trope of the villain s lair She also shows how the widespread unemployment of the 1930s resulted in a surge of gifted architects transplanting their careers into the film industry These practitioners created sets that drew from contemporary design schools of thought and referenced real structures both modern and historic The Architecture of Suspense is the first book to document how these great architectural minds found expression in Hitchcock s films and how the director used their talents and his own unique vision to create an enduring and evocative cinematic world Publication of this volume was assisted by a grant from Furthermore a program of the J M Kaplan Fund

B Is for Bad Cinema Claire Perkins, Constantine Verevis, 2014-02-19 B Is for Bad Cinema continues and extends but does not limit itself to the trends in film scholarship that have made cult and exploitation films and other low genres increasingly acceptable objects for critical analysis Springing from discussions of taste and value in film these original essays mark out the broad contours of bad that is aesthetically morally or commercially disreputable cinema While some of the essays share a kinship with recent discussions of B movies and cult films they do not describe a single aesthetic category or represent a single methodology or critical agenda but variously approach bad cinema in terms of aesthetics politics and cultural value The volume covers a range of issues from the aesthetic and industrial mechanics of low budget production through the terrain of audience responses and cinematic affect and on to the broader moral and ethical implications of the material As a result B Is for Bad Cinema takes an interest in a variety of film examples overblown Hollywood blockbusters faux pornographic works and European art house films to consider those that lurk on the boundaries of acceptability

Alfred Hitchcock's Psycho and Taxidermy Subarna Mondal, 2024-01-25 There are numerous scholarly works on Alfred Hitchcock s Psycho 1960 Some of these works have explored its Gothic potentials However no detailed effort has yet been made to explore one of its major motifs taxidermy Taxidermy as an art of corporeal preservation has effectively been used in mainstream body horror films years after Psycho was released Yet Psycho was one of the first films to explore its potentials in the Gothic genre at a time when it was relegated to a low form of art Alfred Hitchcock s Psycho and Taxidermy focuses on taxidermy as a cultural practice in both Victorian and modern times and how it has been employed both metaphorically and literally in Hitchcock s films especially Psycho It also situates Psycho as a crucial film in the filmic continuum of body horrors where death and docility share a troubled relationship

Production Design & the Cinematic Home Jane Barnwell, 2022-05-10 This book uses in depth case studies to explore the significance of the design of the home on screen The chapters draw widely upon the production designer s professional perspective and particular creative point of view The case studies employ a methodology Barnwell has pioneered for the analysis of production design called Visual Concept Analysis which can be used as a key to decode the design of any given film Through the nurturing warmth of the Browns home in Paddington the ambiguous boundaries of secret service agent homes in Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy and the singleton space occupied by Bridget Jones Barnwell demonstrates that the domestic interior consistently plays a key role Whether used as a transition space an ideal a catalyst for change or a place to return to these case studies examine the pivotal nature of the home in storytelling and the production designers significance in its creation The book benefits from interviews with production designers and artwork that provides insight on the creative process

Design in 1960s New York explores the mutual influence between fine art and graphic design in New York City during the long decade of the 1960s Beginning with advertising s creative revolution and its relationship to pop artists the book traces design and art s developing interest in responses to civic problems such as the proliferation of billboards navigation through the city s streets and subways and issues of deteriorating infrastructure The strategies exploited by these artists and designers resulted in similar approaches to visual imagery and shared techniques for thinking about and responding to the city in which they lived Rebecca Patricia White,2021-05-06 The 1940 film adaptation of Daphne du Maurier s gothic romance Rebecca begins by echoing the novel s famous opening line Last night I dreamt I went to Manderley again Patricia White takes the theme of return as her starting point for an exploration of the film s enduring power Drawing on archival research she shows how the production and reception history of Rebecca the first fruit of the collaboration between Hollywood movie producer David O Selznick and British director Alfred Hitchcock is marked by the traces of women s contributions White provides a rich analysis of the film addressing the gap between perception and reality that is constantly in play in the gothic romance and highlighting the queer erotics circulating around I the heroine Mrs Danvers and the dead but ever present Rebecca Her discussion of the film s afterlives emphasizes the lasting aesthetic impact of this dark masterpiece of memory and desire while her attention to its remakes and sequels speaks to the ongoing relevance of its vision of gender and power Reconstructing Urban Ambiance in Smart Public Places Abusaada, Hisham,Salama, Ashraf M.,Elshater, Abeer,2020-06-19 New technologies have the power to augment many aspects of society including public spaces and art The impact of smart technology on urban design is vast and filled with opportunity and has profound implications on the everyday urban environment Only by starting new conversations can we develop further contemporary insights that will affect how we move through the world Reconstructing Urban Ambiance in Smart Public Places is a pivotal reference source that provides contemporary insights into a comprehensive interpretation of urban ambiances in smart places as it relates to the development of cities or to various levels of intervention in extant urban environments The book also examines the impact of architectural design on the creation of urban ambience in artworks and how to reflect this technique in the fields of professional architectural practice While covering a wide range of topics including wellbeing quality related artistry and atmosphere this publication combines smart technological innovation with creative design principles This book is ideally designed for civil engineers urban designers architects entrepreneurs policymakers researchers academicians and students Alfred Hitchcock Peter Ackroyd,2016-10-25 Alfred Hitchcock rigorously controlled his public image drawing certain carefully selected childhood anecdotes into full focus and blurring out all others In this gripping short biography Peter Ackroyd wrests the director s chair back from the master of control to reveal a lugubriously jolly man fond of practical jokes who smashed a once used tea cup every morning to remind himself of the frailty of life Iconic film stars make cameo appearances throughout Hitchcock s story just as the director did in his own films Grace Kelly Cary Grant James Stewart and perhaps most famously of all Tippi Hedren who endures cuts and bruises from a fearsome flock of real birds Perceptive and intelligent Alfred Hitchcock is a fascinating look at one of the most revered directors of the twentieth century Spectacle of Property John David Rhodes,2017-12-15 Much of our time at the movies is spent in other people s homes Cinema is after all often about everyday life Spectacle of Property is the first book to address the question of the ubiquitous conjuncture of the moving image and its domestic architecture Arguing that in cinema we pay to occupy spaces we cannot occupy John David Rhodes explores how the house in cinema both structures and criticizes fantasies of property and ownership Rhodes tells the story of the ambivalent but powerful pleasure we take in looking at private property onscreen analyzing the security and ease the house promises along with the horrible anxieties it produces He begins by laying out a theory of film spectatorship that proposes the concept of the spectator tenant with reference to films such as Gone with the Wind and The Magnificent Ambersons The book continues with three chapters that are each occupied with a different architectural style and the films that make use of it the bungalow the modernist house and the shingle style house Rhodes considers a variety of canonical films rarely analyzed side by side such as Psycho in relation to Grey Gardens and Meet Me in St Louis Among the other films discussed are Meshes of the Afternoon Mildred Pierce A Star Is Born Killer of Sheep and A Single Man Bringing together film history film theory and architectural history as no book has to date Spectacle of Property marks a new milestone in examining cinema s relationship to realism while leaving us vastly more informed about if less at home inside the houses we occupy at the movies
