Culture and Consensus (Routledge Revivals) Robert Hewison, 2015-06-11 Culture and Consensus first published in 1995 and a revised edition in 1997 explores the history of the relationship between politics and the arts in Britain since 1940 and shows how the search for a secure sense of English identity has been reflected in official and unofficial attitudes to the arts architecture landscape and other emblems of national significance Illustrating his argument with a series of detailed case histories Robert Hewison analyses how Britain's cultural life has reached its present enfeebled condition and suggests a way forward This book will be of interest to students of art and cultural studies Theater in the Middle East Babak Rahimi, 2020-07-27 The collected essays from noteworthy dramatists and scholars in this book represent new ways of understanding theater in the Middle East not as geographical but transcultural spaces of performance What distinguishes this book from previous works is that it offers new analysis on a range of theatrical practices across a region by and large ignored for the history of its dramatic traditions and cultures and it does so by emphasizing diverse performances in changing contexts Topics include Arab Iranian Israeli diasporic theatres from pedagogical perspectives to reinvention of traditions from translation practices to political resistance expressed in various performances from the nineteenth century to the present Global Literatures and Cultures of Modernity Srirupa Chatterjee, Sharada Chigurupati, 2025-04-29 Global Literatures and Cultures of Modernity Critical Perspectives from India brings together essays written by academicians and scholars from India to scrutinize how global modernities have been shaped since World War II from the Indian perspective. It examines the literary musings of Anglophone writers hailing from various parts of the globe whose diverse voices present compelling narratives on modernity vis-à-vis the human condition. This volume brings together critical essays on writers such as Girish Karnad, Anita Desai, Anita Nair, and Jean Arasanayagam to examine the South Asian experience; Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie and Naguib Mahfouz to explore the African and Arabic world order; Jane Harrison and Wesley Enoch to address the Australian aboriginal condition; William Golding, Kazuo Ishiguro, and Sarah Kane to scrutinize British cultural politics; Jamaica Kincaid and Elizabeth Acevedo to highlight Latin American and Caribbean modernity; and last but not the least, John Updike, Cormac McCarthy, and Mary Gordon to analyze North American politico-religious experiences of modernity. The diverse themes in this book therefore touch upon historical trauma, religious revisioning, masculinity, feminist debates, gender studies, ethnic discrimination, and diversity and caste and class politics among many others. The book's varied themes are united by the fact that they all converse with global and transnational dynamics shaped by post-war modernity that define our world today. The book crafts narratives on contemporary global literatures and the modern conditions they represent and does so from the vantage point of postmillennial Indian literary scholarship.

Theatre Histories Phillip B. Zarrilli, 2010 Providing a clear journey through centuries of European, North and South American, African, and Asian forms of theatre and performance, this introduction helps the reader think critically about this exciting field through fascinating yet plain-speaking essays and case studies.
