Performance and the Disney Theme Park Experience Jennifer A. Kokai, Tom Robson, 2025-07-02 Most scholars and critics deny agency to the tourist in their engagement with the Disney theme park experience The vast body of research and journalism on the Disney Imagineers the designers and storytellers who construct the park experience leads to the misconception that these exceptional artists puppeteer every aspect of the guest s experience This anthology now in its second edition re centers the park experience around its protagonist the tourist and addresses the Disney Parks using performance theory an approach few to no scholars had used prior to the first edition The authors of the individual essays as well as the Introduction by Kokai and Robson and an Afterword by world renowned tourism and performance expert Susan Bennett recognize the inherently complicated nature of Disney Many of the contributors consider themselves Disney fans but also recognize the potentially problematic aspects of Disney parks This collection permits both perspectives to exist side by side informing rather than contradicting each other

Ghuman, Richard M. Sarles, 2013-06-17

In the past few years there has been a major shift in the mental health care of child and adolescents from inpatient care to non hospital community ambulatory settings Economic pressures have primarily driven this change in service delivery Insurance companies and managed care organizations have not only restricted access to hospitalization and limited length of stays but additionally have sharply reduced reimbursements for treatments State and federal policies for inpatient treatment and reimbursement have followed similar trends As a result mental health planners have attempted to develop programs to deal with this trend of restricted inpatient care shifting treatment of children and adolescents to home and community settings Some of these new programs are well planned and others are hastily planned and implemented The pitfall to this community approach is that there is a population of chronically disturbed children and adolescents and highly stressed parents often lacking adequate personal and family resource who may not respond to these new less restrictive less costly community approaches which potentially may lead to an unsafe and dangerous situation for the child adolescent family and the community With this in mind the purpose of this book is to provide comprehensive and up to date information regarding child and adolescent outpatient day treatment and community psychiatry The emphasis of this book is to provide practical knowledge through clinical case illustrations and to explain various strategies in a detailed fashion Organizational Misbehaviour in the Workplace Jan Ch Karlsson, 2011-10-25

Motivation André Iland,2013-01-22 So what gets you up in the morning What keeps you going Why do you keep on going These are just some of the questions that may pop in your head as you think about motivation Every person on the planet has their own motivation in life enabling everyone to go through the different life areas and phases and get the most out of it It is also sad to say that there are people who don t have any It has been said that the difference between a person who is constantly developing and growing and the person who does not is motivation Motivation plays a key role in a person s outlook in life achievements and level of satisfaction and happiness On the same note motivation is a very important factor of success A person who lacks motivation has no enthusiasm ambition and zest and is generally unhappy and unsatisfied Because of that he gets no results or when he does he only gets mediocre ones On the other hand a motivated person is very energetic successful and happy as he achieves his goals and gets great results in his endeavors Certainly nobody wants to do something for nothing There is always that something we hopefully want in return for an effort and sacrifice The life and blood of motivation is reward It is that thing that inspires us and entices us to take necessary action The reward can come in different kinds such as material rewards recognition and personal satisfaction or gratification The reward is regarded as the end of every means Motivation in itself is fueled by ambition and desire The strength of motivation largely relies on the clearness of the mental picture of the goal or the reward as well as the intensity of the desire to achieve it No matter how great attractive beneficial or enticing a certain reward may be if the person has no ambition or no desire to have it motivation will also be absent There may also be instances where you may have the desire to take action or to achieve something but if that desire is not strong enough no work will ever get done and achievement will only be just a wish on a star
