The "Summa Theologica" Of St. Thomas Aquinas, Vol. 2 Thomas Aquinas, 2016-10-01 Excerpt from The Summa Theologica Of St Thomas Aquinas Vol 2 Second Part Qq Ci CXL On the contrary Tully says de Inv Rhet Ii that it is by piety that we do our duty towards our kindred and well wishers of our country and render them faithful service I answer that Man becomes a debtor to other men in various ways according to their various excellence and the various benefits received from them On both counts God holds first place for He is supremely excellent and is for us the first principle of being and government In the second place the principles of our being and government are our parents and our country that have given us birth and nourishment Consequently man is debtor chiefly to his parents and his country after God Wherefore just as it belongs to religion to give worship to God so does it belong to piety in the second place to give worship to one's parents and one's country The worship due to our parents includes the worship given to all our kindred since our kinsfolk are those who descend from the same parents according to the Philosopher ethic The worship given to our country includes homage to all our fellow citizens and to all the friends of our country Therefore piety extends chiefly to these Reply Obj I The greater includes the lesser wherefore the worship due to God includes the worship due to our parents as a particular Hence it is written malach I If I be a father where is lily honour P Consequently the term piety extends also to the divine worship About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com

Catechism of the "Summa Theologica" Of Saint Thomas Aquinas R. P. Thomas Pègues,2015-07-19 Excerpt from Catechism of the Summa Theologica Of Saint Thomas Aquinas For the Use of the Faithful The author Of the original work asked me personally to translate his book into English I have done so but the genius of the English language did not permit a literal translation The present book is therefore in some sense rather an adaptation than a literal translation although the latter has been strictly adhered to wherever possible In the original work the answer always repeats the whole question word for word in the cause of brevity and sometimes for clearness sake I have adopted the simple answer of yes no lest the reader tire with the insistency of the ceaseless repetition About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The "Summa Theologica" Of St. Thomas Aquinas, Vol. 2 Thomas Aquinas,2017-10-16 Excerpt from The Summa Theologica Of St Thomas Aquinas Vol 2 First Part Second Number Qq XLIX LXXXIX After treating of human acts and passions we now pass on to the consideration of the principles of human acts and firstly of intrinsic principles secondly of extrinsic principles The intrinsic principle is the power and the habit but as we have treated of the powers in the First Part it remains for us to consider the habits And in the first place we shall consider them in general in the second place we shall consider Virtues and vices and other like habits which are the principles of human acts Concerning habits in general there are four questions to be considered Firstly the substance of habits secondly their subject thirdly the cause of their generation increase and corruption fourthly how they are distinguished from one another Under the first head there are four points of inquiry 1 Whether habit is a quality P 2 Whether it is a distinct species of quality 3 Whether habit implies an order to an act 4 Of the necessity of habit About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The "Summa Theologica" Of St. Thomas Aquinas, Vol. 2 Thomas Aquinas, 2016-07-13 Excerpt from The Summa Theologica Of St Thomas Aquinas Vol 2 Second Part Qq LXXX C Obj 2 Further What is offered by one man to another is the more praiseworthy according as the person it is Offered to is in greater need wherefore it is written isa Lviii Deal thy bread to the hungry But God needs nothing that we can offer Him according to ps Xv 2 I have said to the Lord Thou art my God for Thou hast no need of my goods Therefore religion seems less praise worthy than the other virtues whereby man's needs are relieved Obj 3 Further The greater the obligation to do a thing the less praise does it deserve according to I Cor IX 16 If I preach the gospel it is no glory to me for a necessity lieth upon me Now the more a thing is due the greater the Obligation of paying it Since then what is paid to God by man is in the highest degree due to Him it seems that religion is less praiseworthy than the other human virtues On the contrary The precepts pertaining to religion are given precedence exod XX as being Of greatest importance Now the order of precepts is proportionate to the order of virtues since the precepts of the Law prescribe acts of virtue Therefore religion is the chief of the moral virtues I answer that Whatever is directed to an end takes its goodness from being ordered to that end so that the nearer it is to the end the better it is Now moral virtues as stated above a 5 Q IV A Are about matters that are ordered to God as their end And religion approaches nearer to God than the other moral virtues in so far as its actions are directly and immediately ordered to the honour of God Hence religion excels among the moral virtues About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
