Defining Religion Robert Cummings Neville, 2018-01-17 In this collection of essays written over the past decade Robert Cummings Neville addresses contemporary debates about the concept of religion and the importance of the comparative method in theology while advancing and defending his own original definition of religion Neville's hypothesis is that religion is a cognitive existential and practical engagement of ultimate realities five ultimate conditions of existence that need to be engaged by human beings The essays which range from formal articles to invited lectures develop this hypothesis and explore its ramifications in religious experience philosophical theology religious studies and the works of important thinkers in philosophy of religion Defining Religion is an excellent introduction to Neville's work especially to the systematic philosophical theology presented in his magisterial three volume set Philosophical Theology The Routledge Companion to the Study of Religion John Hinnells, 2009-09-10 The Routledge Companion to the Study of Religion is a major resource for courses in Religious Studies It begins by explaining the most important methodological approaches to religion including psychology philosophy anthropology and comparative study before moving on to explore a wide variety of critical issues such as gender science fundamentalism ritual and new religious movements Written by renowned international specialists this new edition includes eight new chapters including post structuralism religion and economics religion and the environment religion and popular culture and sacred space surveys the history of religious studies and the key disciplinary approaches explains why the study of religion is relevant in today's world highlights contemporary issues such as globalization diaspora and politics includes annotated reading lists a glossary and summaries of key points to assist student learning Rituals in Interreligious Dialogue Marcel Poorthuis, 2020-04-30 Rituals are back on stage today Until recently they were regarded as an obsolete and even incomprehensible part of religions relegated to the background while ethics and spirituality attracted more focus However the realisation is growing that rituals represent the treasure of religious memory They connect the human being to the past and to the community that surrounds her or him However what happens to rituals when different religions meet This book shows that a great deal can be learned by taking rituals seriously This holds good for the rich treasure of rituals within religions such as Judaism Islam Hinduism and Christianity Only by recognizing these treasures can new possibilities for rituals in interreligious encounters be explored Introducing Theologies of Religion Knitter, Paul F., 2014-04-10 An up to date accessible and comprehensive study of every major position taken by Christian churches and theologians on world religions and religious pluralism This volume shares insights into the positions of writers concerned with understanding Christianity among the world's great religious traditions. Avoiding tired labels of past debates: Exclusivism, Pluralism, and Inclusivism. Knitter suggests four different models: Replacement, Fulfillment, Mutuality, and Acceptance, that more adequately link together thirteen ways of approaching and understanding the variety of the world's religious expressions.

Faithful Interpretations Philip Geister, Gosta Hallonsten, 2021-02-26. Theology of Religions is among the most burning issues within Christian theology today. The challenge to study and discuss different ways of handling conflicting truth claims and religious narratives between religions is taken up by a growing number of theologians across denominational boundaries. This is a common and ecumenical effort undertaken by Christian theologians all over the world. And yet the impact of specific ecclesiastical or theological traditions on different concepts of theology of religions should not be underestimated. As well known, the Second Vatican Council with its pivotal decree Nostra Aetate on the relation to other religions not only set the agenda for Catholic theology but even influenced the wider discussion on the topic. The papers of this volume were all given at a conference in Uppsala, Sweden, in October 2017. The structure of Faithful Interpretations follows closely the way the conference was conducted. A general introduction to the development and present status of Theology of Religions by Marianne Moyaert opens the book. Archbishop J. Augustine Di Noia of the Vatican Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith then treats the recent developments in the teaching of the Magisterium regarding theology of religions. Anna Bonta Moreland addresses the issue of Muhammad and Christian Prophecy. Diego R. Sarri Cucarella focuses on early Christian theological views of Islam and concludes that Islam has been from the beginning a disturbing factor in the Christian view of salvation history. Wilhelmus G. B. M. Valkenberg discusses the impact of Nostra Aetate on the Church's relation to Muslims, using especially the precedent of Nicolaus of Cusa as regards a constructive approach to Islam. Klaus von Stosch addresses a sensitive issue in Muslim-Christian relations and illustrates the advantages of the comparative theology approach for the theology of religions. Complementing this perspective, Peter Jonkers offers a hermeneutical perspective on truth claims and reflects on the religious Other with references to Jacques Derrida among others. Reinhold Bernhardt argues in favour of a biblically grounded relational existential theory of truth which would be most helpful with regard to other religions. To conclude, the prominent Catholic specialist on Theology of Religions, Gavin D. Costa, widened the perspective by addressing the relation to Judaism from the point of view of the covenant and the promises of the land. Altogether, the papers of this volume give a clear impression of the status of Roman Catholic Theology of Religions.

Spiritual But Not Religious? Reid B. Locklin, 2005. Can spirituality be separated from the complications of religious institutions? Convert and theologian Reid Blackmer Locklin thinks not. Combining personal experience with insights from Hindu and Christian traditions, Locklin offers Spiritual But Not Religious, a guide to institutional commitment in a world characterized by religious pluralism. The Cosmic Common Good Daniel P. Scheid, 2016. In this book, Daniel Scheid draws on Catholic social thought as a foundation for a new type of interreligious ecological ethics which he calls the cosmic common good. By placing this concept in dialogue with tenets from other spiritual traditions such as Hindu dharmic ecology Buddhist interdependence and American Indian balance Scheid constructs a theologically authentic moral framework that re envisions humanity s role in the universe

The Interfaith Imperative Ross Thompson,2017-01-30 Globally we seem torn between local exclusive forms of religion which can cause immense spiritual and physical damage to people and a bland secularism that confines the religions to safe havens each offering its own private options for spirituality within a secularized global politic In this context the religions tolerate one another but cannot engage in mutually challenging and transforming dialogue Thompson argues that it is only through dialogue that the distinctive truths of the faiths emerge Moving beyond the threefold paradigm that has limited dialogue and challenging modern secularism and postmodern relativism alike he argues for a dialogue based realism that is rooted in the Christian doctrines of creation and Trinity Turning to recent theological approaches Thompson both affirms and criticizes narrative and postliberal theologies liberation theology and the revival of negative theology The transfiguration of Jesus provides a model for the way theology proceeds in dialogue from an initial naivety through metaphysical construction and deconstruction to a new metaphorical interillumination Thompson sets forth a utopian hope for the interreligious city of God shining with the divine interilluminative rainbow light reflected from the many faiths including the secular faith

A Comparative History of World Philosophy Ben-Ami Scharfstein,1998-02-27 A Comparative History of World Philosophy presents a personal yet balanced guide through what the author argues to be the three great philosophical traditions Chinese European and Indian The book breaks through the cultural barriers between these traditions proving that despite their considerable differences fundamental resemblances exist in their abstract principles Ben Ami Scharfstein argues that Western students of philosophy will profit considerably if they study Indian and Chinese philosophy from the very beginning along with their own Written with clarity and infused with an engaging narrative voice this book is organized thematically presenting in virtually every chapter characteristic views from each tradition that represent similar positions in the core areas of metaphysics and epistemology At the same time Scharfstein develops each tradition historically as the chapters unfold He presents a great variety of philosophical positions fairly avoiding the relativism and ethnocentrism that could easily plague a comparative presentation of Western and non Western philosophies Massad,2024-12-16 This book is a comparative theological investigation into the following question how does one theologically understand the sincere truth seeking religious other who rejects one s truth claims not out of animosity or ignorance but rather from a desire to worship God in spirit and in truth Specifically this book investigates the extent to which soteriologically exclusivist Muslims and Christians maintain their respective truth claims while maintaining a posture of vulnerability to the revisionary power of the religious other s claims To answer these questions this book examines comparative theology s missiological foundation through a dialogical study of neo Calvinist and Reformist Sunni understandings of the epistemic status of the religious other This book is a practice in comparative theology with the goal of rethinking neo Calvinist theology of religions through Islamic thought to present a missiological comparative theology amenable to exclusivist theological positions within Christianity and Islam Strangers in This World Hussam S.

Timani,Allen G. Jorgenson,Alexander Y Hwang,2015-08-03 Strangers in This World brings together a consortium of scholars to reflect on the religious political anthropological and social realities of immigration through the prism of the historical and theological resources insights and practices across an array of religious traditions The volume reflecting the diversity of religious cultures is nevertheless unified in arguing that immigration is an important aspect of the major religions at their core and connects to vital points of theological reflection and practice in Hinduism Buddhism Judaism Christianity Islam and Native American religious traditions Naming and Thinking God in Europe Today ,2007-01-01 Is there a new need and place for God talk in Europe The present volume both confirms this and opens up new questions for discussion It shows how different traditions of naming and thinking God in Europe draw on various theoretical and philosophical foundations that are in competition with one another in many ways Due to socio cultural historical and political divides between Eastern and Western Europe these theological traditions often suffer from isolation and mutual misunderstanding Can the inherent tensions and conflicts be understood more adequately While exploring a variety of approaches in Europe on the topic several authors also ask How can God be named and thought in Europe which finds itself in the midst of complex crosscultural and interreligious processes particularly as immigration increases and peoples of non Christian faith traditions name and think God in ways that differ from and sometimes conflict with Europe s dominant religion s and secular culture What function and impact will traditional God talk have in a globalizing Europe as religions such as Islam Hinduism and Buddhism move into the foreground This volume not only reveals the broad spectrum of its topic but also documents the vivid seeking undertaken by a new generation of European theologians and scholars of religion who openly engage the question of how to live and believe in Europe today facing complex global challenges Critical Perspectives on Interreligious Education ,2020-03-31 The editors of Experiments in Empathy Critical Reflections on Interreligious Education have assembled a volume that spans multiple religious traditions and offers innovative methods for teaching and designing interreligious learning This groundbreaking text includes established interreligious educators and emerging scholars who expand the vision of this field to include critical studies decolonial approaches and exciting pedagogical developments The book includes voices that are often left out of other comparative theology or interreligious education texts Scholars from evangelical Muslim Catholic Protestant Jewish religiously hybrid and other background enrich the existing models for interreligious classrooms The book is particularly relevant at a time when religion is so often harnessed for division and hatred By examining the roots of racism xenophobia sexism and their interaction with religion that contribute to inequity the volume offers real world educational interventions The content is in high demand as are the authors who contributed to the volume Contributors are Scott Alexander Judith A Berling Monica A Coleman Reuven Firestone Christine Hong Jennifer Howe Peace Munir Jiwa Nancy Fuchs Kreimer Tony Ritchie Rachel Mikva John Thatanamil Timur Yuskaev How to Do Comparative Theology Francis X. Clooney, Klaus von Stosch, 2017-12-12 For a generation and more the contribution of Christian theology to interreligious understanding has been a subject of debate Some think of theological perspectives are of themselves inherently too narrow to support interreligious learning and argue for an approach that is neutral or on a more popular level grounded simply open minded direct experience In response comparative theology argues that theology as faith seeking understanding offers a vital perspective and a way of advancing interreligious dialogue aided rather than hindered by commitments theological perspectives can both complement and step beyond the study of religions by methods detached and merely neutral Thus comparative theology has been successful in persuading many that interreligious learning from one faith perspective to another is both possible and worthwhile and so the work of comparative theology has become more recognized and established globally With this success there has come to the fore new challenges regarding method How does one do comparative theological work in a way that is theologically grounded genuinely open to learning from the other sophisticated in pursuing comparisons and fruitful on both the academic and practical levels How To Do Comparative Theology therefore contributes to the maturation of method in the field of comparative theological studies learning across religious borders by bringing together essays drawing on different Christian traditions of learning Judaism and Islam Hinduism and Buddhism the wisdom of senior scholars and also insights from a younger generation of scholars who have studied theology and religion in new ways and are more attuned to the language of the spiritual but not religious The essays in this volume show great diversity in method and also over and over and from many angles coherence in intent a commitment to one learning from the other and a confidence that one's home tradition benefits from fair and unhampered learning from other and very different spiritual and religious traditions It therefore shows the diversity and coherence of comparative theology as an emerging discipline today The Beginning and the End of 'Religion' Nicholas Lash, 1996-06-28 The common view that religion is something quite separate from politics art science law and economics is one that is peculiar to modern Western culture In this book Professor Lash argues that we should begin to question seriously that viewpoint the modern world is ending and we are now in a position to discover new forms of ancient wisdom which have been obscured from view These essays explore this idea in a number of directions examining the dialogue between theology and science the secularity of Western culture and questions of Christian hope Part One examines the dialogue between Christianity and Hinduism while Part Two considers the relations between theology and science the secularity of Western culture and questions of Christian hope or eschatology A Postfoundationalist Comparative Christology David Muthukumar

Sivasubramanian,2022-03-28 Interreligious relationships are often hindered by epistemic disparity caused by the nexus between religions and state powers To solve this problem David Muthukumar Sivasubramanian develops a postfoundationalist epistemological framework to affirm the epistemic parity and plurality of religions while upholding their particularity and universality Building on this postfoundationalist epistemology a comparative Christology paradigm that uses insights from the extant comparative theology method is reformulated with a Christological focus This model seeks to affirm the exclusive faith assertions of Christianity and the corresponding universal claims for Christ It also sustains the particular religious identity of a comparative theologian over against any compulsion to assume hybrid identity in the interreligious cross learning This comparative Christology framework is exhibited through cross learning with the Tamil Saiva Siddhanta tradition This method is shown to affirm not only the particularity and universality of Christianity but also of the Tamil Saiva Siddhanta tradition by defining each religion s attempt at their revealed truth as a parallel quest for truth Thus it facilitates dialogue across religions by securing one s self identity and the other s alterity The Social Scientific Study of Religion

Paul S. Chung,2022-01-01 In this study Paul S Chung charts the history of social scientific study of religion from the axial age to the present day and thereby lays a foundation for a new model of constructive theology in the comparative study of religion culture and society Analysing the thought of Max Weber Alfred Schutz Pierre Bourdieu Michel Foucault Edmund Husserl Max Horkheimer and others Chung deals effectively with material interests power relations and the history of race gender and sexuality The result is a synthesis that is at once innovative critical and applicable to current methodology in theology and the social sciences
