Theology, Rhetoric, and Politics in the Eucharistic Controversy, 1078-1079 Charles Radding, Francis Newton, 2003-02-12

In the concluding stages of the eleventh century Eucharistic Controversy which turned on whether and how sacramental consecration changed the nature of bread and wine at the altar Alberic of Monte Cassino composed a small but important treatise Alberic was the most renowned teacher of rhetoric in his time and his treatise buttressed by appeal to the authority of the Church Fathers was said by contemporaries to have utterly destroyed the argument of his opponent Berengar of Tours that the bread and wine survived its consecration Modern scholars had long believed Alberic's treatise to be lost This book demonstrates that this crucial document far from being lost is an existing identifiable text By showing conclusively that this work was written by Alberic Radding and Newton transform our understanding not only of the particulars of the controversy and papal politics but also of the intellectual process by which theological doctrines took shape in mediaeval Church councils The book includes the full Latin text and the first translation of Alberic's treatise

Manuscript Culture and Medieval Devotional Traditions Jennifer N. Brown, Nicole R. Rice, 2021 Essays exploring the great religious and devotional works of the Middle Ages in their manuscript and other contexts

Spirituality and Reform Calvin Lane, 2018-08-15 In colorful detail Calvin Lane explores the dynamic intersection between reform movements and everyday Christian practice from ca 1000 to ca 1800 Lowering the artificial boundaries between the Middle Ages the Reformation and the Enlightenment Lane brings to life a series of reform programs each of which developed new sensibilities about what it meant to live the Christian life Along this tour Lane discusses music art pilgrimage relics architecture heresy martyrdom patterns of personal prayer changes in marriage and family life connections between church bodies and governing authorities and certainly worship The thread that he finds running from the Benedictine revival in the eleventh century to the pietistic movements of the eighteenth is a passionate desire to return to a primitive era of Christianity a time of imagined apostolic authenticity even purity In accessible language he introduces readers to Cistercians and Calvinists Franciscans and Jesuits Lutherans and Jansenists Moravians and Methodists to name but a few of the many reform movements studied in this book Although Lane highlights their diversity he argues that each movement rooted its characteristic practice their spirituality in an imaginative recovery of the apostolic life

Dante's Sacred Poem Sheila J. Nayar, 2014-08-28 Arguing that the consecrated body in the Eucharist is one of the central metaphors structuring The Divine Comedy this book is the first comprehensive exploration of the theme of transubstantiation across Dante's epic poem Drawing attention first to the historical and theological tensions inherent in ideas of transubstantiation that rippled through Western culture up to the early fourteenth century Sheila Nayar engages in a Eucharistic reading of both the flesh allusions and metamorphosis motifs that thread through the entirety of Dante's poem From the cannibalistic resonances of the Ugolino episode in the Inferno to the Corpus Christi like procession seminal to Purgatory Nayar demonstrates how these sacrifice and Host related metaphors allusions and tropes lead directly and intentionally to the Comedy's final vision that of the Eucharist itself. Arguing that the final revelation in Paradise is analogically the Bread of Life, Nayar brings to the fore Christ's centrality as sacrament to The Divine Comedy, a reading that is certain to alter current day thinking about Dante's poem. Calvin and the Christian Tradition R. Ward Holder, 2022-06-09

This study overturns core conceptions regarding Calvin, revising what we know about Calvin, history, tradition, and our own situation. Emotional monasticism Lauren Mancia, 2019-06-14

Medievalists have long taught that highly emotional Christian devotion, often called affective piety, appeared in Europe after the twelfth century and was primarily practiced by communities of mendicants, lay people, and women. Emotional monasticism challenges this view. The first study of affective piety in an eleventh-century monastic context, it traces the early history of affective devotion through the life and works of the earliest known writer of emotional prayers, John of Fécamp, abbot of the Norman monastery of Fécamp from 1028-78. Exposing the early medieval monastic roots of later medieval affective piety, the book casts a new light on the devotional life of monks in Europe before the twelfth century and redefines how medievalists should teach the history of Christianity. The Wedding Feast of the Lamb Emmanuel Falque, 2016-09-01

Emmanuel Falque's The Wedding Feast of the Lamb represents a turning point in his thought. Here Falque links philosophy and theology in an original fashion that allows us to see the full effect of theology's backlash against philosophy. By attending closely to the incarnation and the Eucharist, Falque develops a new concept of the body and of love. By avoiding the common mistake of angelism, consciousness without body, Falque considers the depths to which our humanity reflects animality or body without consciousness. He shows the continued relevance of the question: How can this man give us his flesh to eat (John 6:52), especially to philosophy? We need to question the meaning of this: is my body in a way that responds to the needs of our time? Vatican II. Because of the ways that Hoc est corpus meum has shaped our culture and our modernity, this is a problem both for religious belief and for culture. When Ego Was Imago Brigitte Bedos-Rezak, 2010-11-26

The diffusion of personal signs of identity during the twelfth century introduced individuals to mediated forms of communication. The book analyses the conditions for and the implications of their partnering with material signs and images in expressing self and accountability. A Historical Study of Anselm's Proslogion Toivo J. Holopainen, 2020-08-03

In A Historical Study of Anselm's Proslogion, Toivo J. Holopainen offers a new overall interpretation of Anselm's Proslogion by providing a historical explanation for the distinctive combination of argument and devotion that this treatise exhibits. Part 1 clarifies Anselm's outlook on the central arguments in the treatise by offering a careful analysis of the single argument the discovery of which Anselm announces in the preface. Part 2 reassesses the conflicting views about faith and reason in the immediate background of the Proslogion: the Eucharistic controversy, the publication of the Monologion. Part 3 examines the Proslogion from a rhetorical perspective and argues that applying the single argument in a devotional setting constitutes a subtle attempt to affect the audience's ideas about method in theology. Calixtus the Second, 1119-1124 Mary Stroll, 2004 This new interpretation of the reign of Calixtus II 1119 1124 challenges the conventional analysis explaining why this life long opponent of the emperor Henry V agreed to compromise over imperial investitures of bishops in the Concordat of Worms of 1122

Declarations of Dependence Scott Ferguson, 2018-07 Declarations of Dependence rethinks the historical relationship between money and aesthetics in an effort to make critical theory newly answerable to politics Scott Ferguson regrounds critical theory in the alternative conception of money articulated by the contemporary heterodox school of political economy known as Modern Monetary Theory Applying the insights of this theory Ferguson contends that money rather than representing a private finite and alienating technology is instead a public and fundamentally unlimited medium that harbors still unrealized powers for inclusion cultivation and care Ferguson calls Modern Monetary Theory s capacious ontology of money the unheard of center of modern life Here he installs this unheard of center at the heart of critique to inaugurate a new critical theory that aims to actualize money s curative potential in a sensuous here and now Declarations of Dependence reimagines the relation between money and aesthetics in a manner that points beyond neoliberal privation and violence and by doing so lends critical theory fresh relevance and force

Sculpted Thresholds and the Liturgy of Transformation in Medieval Lombardy Gillian B. Elliott, 2022-06-24 This book explores the issue of ecclesiastical authority in Romanesque sculpture on the portals and other sculpted gateways of churches in the north Italian region of Lombardy Gillian B Elliott examines the liturgical connection between the ciborium over the altar the most sacred threshold inside the church and the sculpted portals that appeared on church exteriors in medieval Lombardy In cities such as Milan Civate Como and Pavia the liturgy of Saint Ambrose was practiced as an alternative to the Roman liturgy and the churches were constructed to respond to the needs of Ambrosian liturgy Not only do the Romanesque churches in these places correspond stylistically and iconographically but they were also linked politically in an era of intense struggle for ultimate regional authority The book considers liturgical and artistic links between interior church furnishings and exterior church sculptural programs and also applies new spatial methodologies to the interior and exterior of churches in Lombardy The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history medieval studies architectural history and religious studies
