Theory Of Society Volume 1 Cultural Memory In The Present:

Theory of Society, Volume 1 Niklas Luhmann, 2012-10-10 This first volume of Niklas Luhmann's two part final work was initially published in German in 1997. The culmination of his thirty year theoretical project to reconceptualize sociology it offers a comprehensive description of modern society on a scale not attempted since Talcott Parsons. Beginning with an account of the fluidity of meaning and the accordingly high improbability of successful communication, Luhmann analyzes a range of communicative media including language, writing, the printing press and electronic media as well as success media such as money, power, truth and love, all of which structure this fluidity and make communication possible. An investigation into the ways in which social systems produce and reproduce themselves, the book asks what gives rise to functionally differentiated social systems, how they evolve and how social movements, organizations and patterns of interaction emerge. The advent of the computer and its networks, which trigger potentially far reaching processes of restructuring, receive particular attention. A concluding chapter on the semantics of modern society's self description bids farewell to the outdated theoretical approaches of old Europe that is to ontological, holistic, ethical and critical interpretations of society and argues that concepts such as the nation, the subject and postmodernity are vastly overrated. In their stead, society long considered a suspicious term by sociologists, one open to all kinds of reification, is defined in purely operational terms. It is the always uncertain answer to the question of what comes next in all areas of communication.

After Globalization LIT Verlag, 2024-10-01 After several decades of significantly increasing global economic, socio cultural and political integration, the globalization pendulum is swinging back. But what comes After Globalization? The 26 chapters of this volume, originally presented at the World Society Foundation's 40th anniversary celebration in 2022 address from different angles four core issues of deglobalization First the re conceptualization of world society and globalization within the current context of deglobalization Second the dynamics that are re shaping the world economy including processes of fragmentation regionalization reshoring and global and regional polarization Third the current dynamics of global social and cultural structures including new globalization cleavages political mobilization popular protest and resistance and political participation and democracy Fourth the increasing great power conflicts and global rivalries and their impact on processes of de globalization Trust, Politics and Revolution

Francesca Granelli,2019-12-04 Tracing the relationships and networks of trust in Western European revolutionary situations from the Ancient Greeks to the French Revolution and beyond Francesca Granelli here shows the essential role of trust in both revolution and government arguing that without trust both governments and revolutionary movements are liable to fail The first study to combine the important of trust and the significance of revolution this book offers a new lens through which to interpret revolution in an essential work book for all scholars of political science and historians of revolution The

Palgrave Handbook of Social Theory in Health, Illness and Medicine F. Collyer,2015-02-12 This wide reaching handbook offers a new perspective on the sociology of health illness and medicine by stressing the importance of social theory Examining a range of classic and contemporary female and male theorists from across the globe it explores various issues including chronic illness counselling and the rising problems of obesity Rural development Kristof Van

Assche,Anna-Katharina Hornidge,2023-09-04 This book offers a unique perspective on rural development by discussing the most influential perspectives and rendering their risks and benefits visible The authors do not present a silver bullet Rather they give students researchers community leaders politicians concerned citizens and development organizations the conceptual tools to understand how things are organized now which development path has already been taken and how things could possibly move in a different direction Van Assche and Hornidge pay special attention to the different roles of knowledge in rural development both expert knowledge in various guises and local knowledge Crafting development strategies requires understanding how new knowledge can fit in and work out in governance Drawing on experiences in five continents the authors develop a theoretical framework which elucidates how modes of governance and rural development are inextricably tied A community is much better placed to choose direction when it understands these ties Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem Christian Büscher,Jens Schippl,Patrick Sumpf,2018-09-21 Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem offers an innovative approach to equip interdisciplinary research on sociotechnical transitions with coherence and focus The book emphasizes sociotechnical problems in three analytical dimensions In the control dimension contributing authors examine how control can be maintained despite increasing complexity and uncertainty e g in power grid operations or on energy markets In the change dimension the authors explore if and how change is possible despite the need for stable orientation e g regarding discourses real world labs and learning Finally in the action dimension the authors analyze how the ability to act on a permanent basis is sustained despite opaqueness and ignorance exemplified by the work on trust capabilities or individual motives Drawing on contributions from engineering economics philosophy political science psychology and sociology the book assembles a range of classic and current themes including innovation resilience institutional economics design or education Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem presents the ongoing transformation of the energy complex as a multidimensional process in which the analytical dimensions interact with each other in shaping the energy future As such this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy transitions energy science and environmental social science more generally as well as to practitioners working within the field of energy policy     The Unlawful Society Paul Battersby,2014-08-05 Exploring the dynamics of law making in a world where the pace of technological change is outstripping our capacity to capture new forms of transnational crime this book uses the innovative concept of unlawfulness to examine the crimes of the global overworld forming a unique analysis of global order in the twenty first century     A Systems Theory of Religion Niklas Luhmann,2013-01-09 A Systems Theory of Religion still unfinished at Niklas Luhmann s death in 1998 was first published in German two years later thanks to the editorial work of Andr Kieserling One of Luhmann s most important projects it exemplifies his later work while redefining the subject matter of the sociology of religion Religion for Luhmann is one of the many functionally differentiated social systems that make up modern society All such subsystems consist entirely of communications and all are autopoietic which is to say self organizing and self generating Here Luhmann explains how religion provides a code for coping with the complexity opacity and uncontrollability of our world Religion functions to make definite the indefinite to reconcile the immanent and the transcendent Synthesizing approaches as disparate as the philosophy of language historical linguistics deconstruction and formal systems theory cybernetics A Systems Theory of Religion takes on important topics that range from religion s meaning and evolution to secularization turning decades of sociological assumptions on their head It provides us with a fresh vocabulary and a fresh philosophical and sociological approach to one of society s most fundamental phenomena     A Companion to Adorno Peter E. Gordon,Espen Hammer,Max Pensky,2020-04-21 A definitive contribution to scholarship on Adorno bringing together the foremost experts in the field As one of the leading continental philosophers of the last century and one of the pioneering members of the Frankfurt School Theodor W Adorno is the author of numerous influential and at times quite radical works on diverse topics in aesthetics social theory moral philosophy and the history of modern philosophy all of which concern the contradictions of modern society and its relation to human suffering and the human condition Having authored substantial contributions to critical theory which contain searching critiques of the culture industry and the identity thinking of modern Western society Adorno helped establish an interdisciplinary but philosophically rigorous study of culture and provided some of the most startling and revolutionary critiques of Western society to date The Blackwell Companion to Adorno is the largest collection of essays by Adorno specialists ever gathered in a single volume Part of the acclaimed Blackwell Companions to

Philosophy series this important contribution to the field explores Adorno's lasting impact on many sub fields of philosophy. Seven sections encompassing a diverse range of topics and perspectives explore Adorno's intellectual foundations, his critiques of culture, his views on ethics and politics, and his analyses of history and domination. Provides new research and fresh perspectives on Adorno's views and writings. Offers an authoritative single volume resource for Adorno scholarship. Addresses renewed interest in Adorno's significance to contemporary questions in philosophy. Presents over 40 essays written by internationally recognized experts in the field. A singular advancement in Adorno scholarship. The Companion to Adorno is an indispensable resource for Adorno specialists and anyone working in modern European philosophy, contemporary cultural criticism, social theory, German history and aesthetics. Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06. How does coding change the way we think about architecture? This question opens up an important research perspective. In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information. They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books. Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation, the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science. Sovereignty in Post-Sovereign Society Jiří Přibáň, 2016-03-09. Sovereignty marks the boundary between politics and law. Highlighting the legal context of politics and the political context of law, it thus contributes to the internal dynamics of both political and legal systems. This book comprehends the persistence of sovereignty as a political and juridical concept in the post-sovereign social condition. The tension and paradoxical relationship between the semantics and structures of sovereignty and post-sovereignty are addressed by using the conceptual framework of the autopoietic social systems theory. Using a number of contemporary European examples, developments and paradoxes, the author examines topics of immense interest and importance relating to the concept of sovereignty in a globalising world. The study argues that the modern question of sovereignty permanently oscillating between de iure authority and de facto power cannot be discarded by theories of supranational and transnational globalized law and politics. Criticising quasi-theological conceptualizations of political sovereignty and its juridical form, the study reformulates the concept of sovereignty and its persistence as part of the self-referential communication of the systems of positive law and politics. The book will be of considerable interest to academics and researchers in political, legal and social theory and philosophy. Theorizing Revolutions John Foran, 2003-09-02. In Theorizing Revolutions, some of the most exciting thinkers in the study of revolutions today look critically at the many theoretical frameworks through which revolutions can be understood and apply them to specific revolutionary cases. The theoretical approaches considered in this way include state-centred perspectives, structural theory, world system analysis, elite models, demographic theories, and feminism, and the revolutions covered range in time from the French Revolution to Eastern Europe in 1989 and in place from Russia to Vietnam and Nicaragua. Divinanimality

Stephen D. Moore, 2014-09-15 A turn to the animal is underway in the humanities most obviously in such fields as philosophy literary studies cultural studies and religious studies One important catalyst for this development has been the remarkable body of animal theory issuing from such thinkers as Jacques Derrida and Donna Haraway What might the resulting interdisciplinary field commonly termed animality studies mean for theology biblical studies and other cognate disciplines Is it possible to move from animal theory to creaturely theology This volume is the first full length attempt to grapple centrally with these questions It attempts to triangulate philosophical and theoretical reflections on animality and humanity with theological reflections on divinity If the animal human distinction is being rethought and retheorized as never before then the animal human divine distinctions need to be rethought retheorized and retheologized along with it This is the task that the multidisciplinary team of theologians biblical scholars philosophers and historians assembled in this volume collectively undertakes They do so frequently with recourse to Derrida's animal philosophy and also with recourse to an eclectic range of other relevant thinkers such as Haraway Giorgio Agamben Emmanuel Levinas Gloria Anzaldua Helene Cixous A N Whitehead and Lynn White Jr The result is a volume that will be essential reading for religious studies audiences interested in ecological issues animality studies and posthumanism as well as for animality studies audiences interested in how constructions of the divine have informed constructions of the nonhuman animal through history Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences

John D. McDonald, Michael Levine-Clark, 2017-03-15 The Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences comprising of seven volumes now in its fourth edition compiles the contributions of major researchers and practitioners and explores the cultural institutions of more than 30 countries This major reference presents over 550 entries extensively reviewed for accuracy in seven print volumes or online The new fourth edition which includes 55 new entries and 60 revised entries continues to reflect the growing convergence among the disciplines that influence information and the cultural record with coverage of the latest topics as well as classic articles of historical and theoretical importance Mother Folly

Françoise Davoine, 2014-07-16 If your mentally ill patient dies are you to blame For Dr Fran oise Davoine a Parisian psychoanalyst this question becomes disturbingly real as one of her patients commits suicide on the eve of All Saints Day She herself has a crisis as she reflects on her thirty year career and questions whether she should ever return to the hospital But return she does and thus commences a strange voyage across several centuries and countries in which patients fools and the actors of medieval farces rise up from the past along with great thinkers who represent the author's own philosophical and literary sources the humanist Erasmus mathematician Ren Thom writer Antonin Artaud philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein and physicist Edwin Schrödinger to name a few Imaginary dialogues ensue as the analyst conjures up an interconnected world where apiculture wondrous rituals theater and language games illuminate her therapeutic practice as well as her personal history Deeply affected by her voyage of discovery the author becomes capable of implementing the teachings of psychotherapist Gaetano Benedetti a mentor she visits at carnival time on a final fictional stopover in Switzerland His advice that the analyst become the equal of her patients and immerse herself in their madness so as to open up a space for treatment is premised on the belief that individual illness is a reflection and result of severe historical trauma Mother Folly which ends on a positive note is an important intervention in the debate about how to treat the mentally ill particularly those with psychosis A practicing analyst and a skilled reader of literary and philosophical texts Davoine provides a humane antidote to our increasingly mechanized and drug reliant system of dealing with fools and madmen

Travelling Concepts for the Study of Culture Birgit Neumann, Ansgar Nünning, 2012-10-01 Bringing together innovative and internationally renowned experts this volume provides concise presentations of the main concepts and cutting edge research fields in the study of culture rather than the infinite multitude of possible themes More specifically the volume outlines different models for the study of culture explores avenues for interdisciplinary exchange assesses key concepts and traces their travels across various disciplinary historical and national contexts To trace the travelling of concepts means to map both their transfer from one discipline approach or culture of research to another and also to identify the transformations which emerge through these processes of transfer The volume serves to show that working with travelling concepts provides a unique strategy for research and research design which can open up a wide range of promising perspectives for interdisciplinary exchange It offers an exemplary overview of an interdisciplinary and international approach to the travelling concepts that organize structure and shape the study of culture In doing so the volume serves to initiate a dialogue that exceeds disciplinary and national boundaries and introduces a self reflexive dimension to the field thus affording a recognition of how deeply disciplinary premises and nation specific research traditions affect different approaches in the study of culture

The Mark of the Sacred Jean-Pierre Dupuy, 2023-05-25 This study of religion and violence forces us to reexamine some of our most cherished self images of modern liberal democratic societies Charles Taylor Jean Pierre Dupuy prophet of what he calls enlightened doomsaying has long warned that modern society is on a path to self destruction In this book he pleads for a subversion of this crisis from within arguing that it is our lopsided view of religion and reason that has set us on this course In denial of our sacred origins and hubristically convinced of the powers of human reason we cease to know our own limits our disenchanted world leaves us defenseless against a headlong rush into the abyss of global warming nuclear holocaust and the other catastrophes that loom on our horizon Reviving the religious anthropology of Max Weber Emile Durkheim and Marcel Mauss and in dialogue with the work of Ren Girard Dupuy shows that we must remember the world's sacredness in order to keep human violence in check A metaphysical and theological detective he tracks the sacred in the very fields where human reason considers itself most free from everything it judges irrational science technology economics political and strategic thought In making such claims The Mark of the Sacred takes on religion bashers secularists and fundamentalists at once Written by one of the deepest and most versatile thinkers of our time it militates for a world where reason is no longer an enemy of faith The Mark of the Sacred is one of those rare books which in an enlightened well organized state should be

Tracy L.F. Worley, 2024-02-09 This book explores the factors contributing to the under representation of African American female directors in mainstream cinema leadership It also unmask the potential strategies African American female film directors might pursue to reduce this inequity Author Tracy L F Worley draws on research around ethics to conclude that there are specific consequences of the male gaze on women in cinema leadership especially African American female directors of box office cinema Combining extensive analysis of ethics and ethical stance relative to the motion picture industry with perspectives from working African American female directors the text discusses the ethical considerations and historical inequities including the male gaze and uses those findings to define how the inequities can be opportunities The efficacy model for cinematic leadership is presented as a mechanism for viewing obstacles through the lenses of gender ethnicity and culture so they become drivers for African American women to achieve success Ideal for students of directing and filmmaking as well as aspiring professional filmmakers wishing to gain a better understanding of the industry as it stands today      Rethinking Europe Gerard Delanty, Chris Rumford, 2005-09-15 Dominant approaches to the transformation of Europe ignore contemporary social theory interpretations of the nature and dynamics of social change Here Delanty and Rumford argue that we need a theory of society in order to understand Europeanization This book advances the case that Europeanization should be theorized in terms of globalization major social transformations that are not exclusively spear headed by the EU the wider context of the transformation of modernity This fascinating book broadens the terms of the debate on Europeanization conventionally limited to the supersession of the nation state by a supra national authority and the changes within member states consequent upon EU membership Demonstrating the relevance of social theory to contemporary issues and with a focus on European transformation rather than simplistic notions of Europe building this truly multidisciplinary volume will appeal to readers from a range of social science disciplines including sociology geography political science and European studies
