Fantasy Art and Studies 12

les Têtes Imaginaires, 2022-05-31 La Fantasy emprunte régulièrement au personnel du conte et sa structure et la théorisation du genre est largement fondée sur l'essai sur le conte de J. R. R. Tolkien Aussi les auteurs et les chercheurs du 12<sup>e</sup> numéro de Fantasy Art and Studies explorent les liens profonds qui unissent Fantasy et contes de fées des prémices du genre dans les contes de Madame d'Aulnoy au XVIII<sup>e</sup> siècle jusqu'aux réécritures modernes de Naomi Novik Gail Carson Levine et les transpositions télévisées des contes de Grimm en passant par les récits de George MacDonald au XIX<sup>e</sup> siècle et les variations sur l'art du conteur et la transmission des récits Ce numéro comprend également un nouveau chapitre de la BD de Guillaume Labrude et est illustré par Gaëlle C. Guillaume Labrude Antoine Pelloux

Princesse Mandragore Art et Visuelle Thill Fantasy fiction regularly borrows from the personnel and structure of the fairy tale and the theorization of the genre is largely based on J. R. R. Tolkien's essay on fairy stories Thus the authors and scholars of the 12th issue of Fantasy Art and Studies explore the deep connections between Fantasy fiction and fairy tales from the beginnings of the genre in Madame d'Aulnoy's tales in the 18th century through George MacDonald's 19th century writings to the modern rewritings by Naomi Novik Gail Carson Levine and the television transpositions of Grimm's tales and variations on storytelling and story transmission This issue also includes a new chapter of Guillaume Labrude's comics and is illustrated by Gaëlle C. Guillaume Labrude Antoine Pelloux

Slethaug, 2014-06-19 Traditional critics of film adaptation generally assumed that the written text is better than the film adaptation because the plot is more intricate and the language richer when pictorial images do not intrude but that films are better when particularly faithful to the original and that authors do not make good script writers and should not sully their imagination by writing film scripts and often that American films lack the complexity of authored texts because they are sourced out of Hollywood The faithfulness view has by and large disappeared and intertextuality is now a generally received notion but the field still lacks studies with a postmodern methodology and lens Exploring Hollywood feature films as well as small studio productions Adaptation Theory and Criticism explores the intertextuality of a dozen films through a series of case studies introduced through discussions of postmodern methodology and practice Providing the reader with informative background on theories of film adaptation as well as carefully articulated postmodern methodology and issues Gordon Slethaug includes several case studies of major Hollywood productions and small studio films some of which have been discussed before Age of Innocence Gangs of New York and Do the Right Thing and some that have received
