The Real World An Introduction To Sociology Second Edition:

Sociology John Ambenge, 2021-03-15 The book features real life examples and amazing diversity focusing on sociology's unique ability to personally resonate well with students' experiences. Throughout the text, the author carefully balances coverage of core topics and contemporary changes in society. Every chapter explores unique topics such as same sex marriage, Boko Haram, mob justice, Sharia law, as well as issues of inequality related to race, ethnicity, gender, social class, and urbanization. The text empowers students to use the lenses of sociological imagination to see sociology in everyday life. Using sociological imagination theory and sociological perspectives, the text helps students move beyond individual perspective to gain a sociological perspective.

The Sacred Project of American Sociology Christian Smith, 2014-07-03 The Sacred Project of American Sociology shows counter-intuitively that the secular enterprise that everyday sociology appears to be pursuing is actually not what is really going on at sociology's deepest level. Sociology today is in fact animated by sacred impulses driven by sacred commitments and serves a sacred project. This book re-asserts a vision for what sociology is most important for in contrast with its current commitments and calls sociologists back to a more honest, fair, and healthy vision of its purpose.

Race and Ethnicity Kathleen Odell Korgen, Maxine P. Atkinson, 2024-12-11 Race and Ethnicity: Sociology in Action is an innovative text that combines comprehensive coverage of race and ethnicity content with active learning exercises seamlessly integrated into the chapters. The book is written by a team of experienced instructors who use active learning techniques in their own classrooms. These contributors expertly weave together content material, active learning exercises, discussion questions, real world examples of sociologists in action, and information on careers that use sociology. The Second Edition includes updated data, figures, and examples, as well as new information on many topics including interracial relationships, immigrant groups, diversity among Asian Americans, racial discrimination in housing, and building coalitions for racial justice.

Competition and Cooperation in Social and Political Sciences Isbandi Rukminto Adi, Rochman Achwan, 2017-12-01 The book contains essays on current issues in Social and Political Sciences such as the issues of governance and social order, social development and community development, global challenges and inequality, civil society and social movement, IT-based community and social transformation, poverty alleviation and corporate social responsibility, and gender issues. Asia and the Pacific are the particular regions that the conference focuses on as they have become new centers of social and political development. Therefore, this book covers areas that have been traditionally known as the social and political areas such as communication studies, political studies, governance studies, criminology, sociology, social welfare, anthropology, and international relations.

Knowing People Michael J. Lovaglia, 2006-12-13 Social psychology studies one of civilization's most central concerns: human relationships. By understanding people's beliefs, attitudes, and desires, individuals can fashion relationships that benefit all involved rather than one person or group at the expense of another. Written with a friendly style and engaging, accessible language, the second edition of the popular textbook Knowing People selects some of the best research in social psychology and shows how it can improve people's lives. This revised and updated edition includes clear descriptions of the latest research and adds a new chapter on leadership and emotion. Not only does Knowing People appeal to individual readers interested in improving their relationships but it is also valuable as a supplemental text in a wide variety of social science business and professional courses in all areas where successful interaction with other people is important.

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003 Introducing the Social Sciences for Midwifery Practice Patricia Lindsay, Ian Peate, 2015-07-16 Introducing the Social Sciences for Midwifery Practice makes clear the links between social anthropological and psychological concepts midwifery practice and women's experience of birth. Demonstrating how empathising with women and understanding the context in which they live can affect childbirth outcomes and experiences this evidence based text emphasises the importance of compassionate and humane care in midwifery practice. Exploring midwifery as an art as well as a science the authors collected here make the case for midwives as professionals working with women rather than as birth technicians taking a purely competency based approach to practice. The book incorporates a range of pedagogical features to enhance student learning including overall chapter aims and learning outcomes recommendations for practice learning triggers to encourage the reader to delve deeper and reflect on practice application to practice case studies which ensure that the theory is related to contemporary practice and a glossary of terms. The chapters cover perspectives on birth from sociology psychology anthropology law social policy and politics. Other chapters address important issues such as disability politics and sexuality. Outlining relevant theory from the social sciences and clearly applying it to practice this text is an essential read for all student midwives registered midwives and doulas.

Living Sociologically Ronald N. Jacobs, Eleanor Townsley, 2025-02-15 Living Sociologically is built around a contemporary applied framework that is designed to help students find their place in a complex and contradictory social world. Students who enroll in today's introductory sociology courses are already familiar with concepts such as inequality privilege conflict power and structure yet they do not realize how a sociological understanding of these concepts can help them to make sense of and enact change in their diverse social worlds Living Sociologically pairs central sociological concepts together Power and Resistance Inequality and Privilege Solidarity and Conflict Structure and Contingency and Global and Local giving students a framework and a set of tools to help them develop their sociological imaginations For example to understand the sociological and cultural meaning of wealth you also need to understand the sociological and cultural meaning of poverty These pairings illustrated and reinforced through abundant contemporary examples and case studies offer students relevant opportunities for thinking intersectionally and discovering the many ways in which sociological forces are at play in their lives

The Palgrave Handbook of Power, Gender, and Psychology Eileen L. Zurbriggen, Rose Capdevila, 2023-12-28 The Palgrave Handbook of Power Gender and

Psychology takes an intersectional feminist approach to the exploration of psychology and gender through a lens of power. The invisibility of power in psychological research and theorizing has been critiqued by scholars from many perspectives both within and outside the discipline. This volume addresses that gap. The handbook centers power in the analysis of gender but does so specifically in relation to psychological theory, research and praxis. Gathering the work of sixty authors from different geographies, career stages, psychological sub-disciplines, methodologies and experiences, the handbook showcases creativity in approach and diversity of perspective. The result is a work featuring a chorus of different voices including diverse understandings of feminisms and power. Ultimately, the handbook presents a case for the importance of intersectionality and power for any feminist psychological endeavor. Narrative Intelligence Michael Mateas, Phoebe Sengers, 2003-02-27

Narrative Intelligence NI: the confluence of narrative, Artificial Intelligence and media studies. Studies models and supports the human use of narrative to understand the world. This volume brings together established work and founding documents in Narrative Intelligence to form a common reference point for NI researchers, providing perspectives from computational linguistics, agent research, psychology, ethology, art and media theory. It describes artificial agents with narratively structured behavior, agents that take part in stories and tours, systems that automatically generate stories, dramas and documentaries, and systems that support people telling their own stories. It looks at how people use stories, the features of narrative that play a role in how people understand the world, and how human narrative ability may have evolved. It addresses meta-issues in NI: the history of the field, the stories AI researchers tell about their research, and the effects those stories have on the things they discover. Series B

The Real World Kerry Ferris, Jill Stein, 2018. In every chapter, Ferris and Stein use examples from everyday life and pop culture to draw students into thinking sociologically and to show the relevance of sociology to their relationships, jobs, and future goals. Data Workshops in every chapter give students a chance to apply theoretical concepts to their personal lives and actually do sociology. God, Humanity and the Cosmos - 2nd Edition Christopher Southgate, 2005-12-01. Contributors include Christopher Southgate, John Hedley Brooke, Celia Deane Drummond, Paul D. Murray, Michael Robert Negus, Lawrence Osborn, Michael Poole, Jacqui Stewart, Fraser Watts, David Wilkinson. This fully revised and updated edition of God, Humanity and the Cosmos includes new chapters by John Hedley Brooke, Paul D. Murray, and David Wilkinson. In addition to a systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics, evolutionary biology, and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe, humanity, and consciousness, the book now provides a thorough survey of the theological, philosophical, and historical issues underpinning the science-religion debate. Contributors also examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis and to biotechnology, how science is treated and valued in education, and the relation of science to Islamic thought. Dr. Christopher Southgate is Lecturer in Theology at the University of Exeter.
