The Rentier State In Africa The Rentier State In Africa:

The Rentier State in Africa Douglas Andrew Yates, 1996 This is a detailed study of the political and economic condition of the Republic of the Gabon which focuses on the years of the oil boom 1975 1985 The State in Africa Tatah Mentan, 2025-09-28 This book critically analyzes the complex relationship between the African state and capitalist globalization It describes in great detail the significant effects of the various historical trajectories of global capitalist expansion on the nature and functions of the African state while focusing on the present triumph of globalized neo liberalism on the African continent The history of the state in Africa has been misread and misinterpreted through the Eurocentric convictions of European African scholars alike The State in Africa has since its colonial inception has served as the best possible political shell for capitalism enabling it to penetrate again possession and establish itself firmly and securely regardless of institutional and leadership instability at the helm The glaring artificiality of the state in Africa coupled with the failure of the local ruling classes to rise above the limitations of their provenance is to blame for the myriad crises of one party authoritarianism violent coups and military dictatorship It is also to blame for the progressive alienation of the African people and the prevailing crises of identity and citizenship Independence does not seem to have changed much as the state is still controlled by the most powerful foreign economically dominant class which has appropriated political power as well to further compound the subjection and exploitation of the oppressed Africans Today the continent continues to grapple with underdevelopment civil wars intra state conflicts political instability state failure and outright collapse thus calling into question the viability and survivability of the Westphalian state model in Africa The Failure and Feasibility of Capitalism in Africa Kenneth Omeje, 2021-07-23 This book argues that capitalism has practically failed to deliver the long desired economic transformation and inclusive development in postcolonial Africa The principal factor that accounts for this failure is the prolific non productive forms of capitalism that tend to be dominant in the African continent and their governance dimensions The research explores how and why capitalism has failed in the African context and the feasibility of turning it around The book meets the demands of diverse audiences in the fields of International Political Economy Development Economics Political Science and African Studies The author adopts an unconventional narrativist approach that makes the book amenable to general readership Oil in Nigeria Jedrzej George Frynas, 2000 3 6 Land Use Act Political Economy in the Middle East and North Africa Rachid Mira, 2024-12-20 Many countries in the Middle East and North Africa continue to face major economic and political challenges including volatile economic growth low economic diversification high unemployment levels and in some cases pervasive authoritarian regimes These economic and political challenges are interdependent and reform is needed in both spheres if structural long lasting change is going to be achieved This book combines the World Bank s concept of good governance with other analytical tools of political economy including rent seeking theory political settlements approach the resource curse and Dutch Disease to explore how government institutions in the region affect economic reforms and vice versa The book also examines the role of institutions and performance of governance on rent distribution evaluating how governments manage their sometimes abundant natural resources In some rentier states governments are clearly utilizing these resources for their own political ends even at the cost of negatively impacting economic growth job creation and social service provision Economic growth is also constrained by low flows of both private and public investment toward productive sectors that need it The book analyzes the differences between countries in the Middle East and North Africa in their economic and political structures to show how sustainable economic growth and a level of political democratization can be achieved through enhancing governance institutions This book will be invaluable reading for researchers on the political economy of the Middle East and institutional economics

Capitalism and Economic Crime in Africa Jörg Wiegratz, 2024-06-21 This book offers a comprehensive analysis of economic crimes and market irregularities including matters of trickery parallel economy illicit trade economies of violence and criminalisation of the poor in neoliberal Africa It investigates economic crime as a phenomenon of neoliberal reform and transformation and it unpacks crime as a societal and particularly as a political economic phenomenon under capitalism The book brings together a collection of research articles briefings and updated blog posts that were published over a period of nearly 40 years 1986 2023 in the acclaimed journal Review of African Political Economy ROAPE and on its website roape.net Featuring contributions from leading experts in the field including a foreword by Yusuf K Serunkuma and an afterword by Laureen Snider this volume explores what these crimes have to do with and can tell us about state business relations regulation capitalist transformation and the corporation on the continent shedding light on the co production of the crimes by a range of actors from the realms of business politics state and international development including major reform advocates such as international financial institutions IFIs and other donors It responds to the imperative to advance the analysis of the link between capitalism and crime in Africa and to locate capitalism more centrally in the analysis of economic crimes as more African countries move from being societies with capitalism to capitalist societies Illustrating the relevance of African countries to debates in criminology corporate crime state crime crimes of the powerful and illegality this volume engages with and mobilises a variety of literatures to analyse economic crimes as phenomena of global and local capitalism and provides readers from academia government business media civil society and education a striking source of information and analysis

A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly, 2020-12-22 This book offers the first critical engagement with the political economy of the Middle East and North Africa Challenging conventional wisdom on the origins and contemporary dynamics of capitalism in the region these cutting edge essays demonstrate how critical political economy can illuminate both historical and contemporary dynamics of the region and contribute to wider political economy debates from the vantage point of the Middle East Leading scholars representing several disciplines contribute both thematic and country specific analyses Their writings critically examine major issues in political economy notably the mutual constitution of states markets and classes the co constitution of class race gender and other forms of identity varying modes of capital accumulation and the legal political and cultural forms of their regulation relations among local national and global forms of capital class and culture technopolitics the role of war in the constitution of states and classes and practices and cultures of domination and resistance Visit politicaleconomyproject.org for additional media and learning resources

Africa and the Global System of Capital Accumulation Emmanuel Oritsejafor, Allan D. Cooper, 2021-04-17 Africa and the Global System of Capital Accumulation offers a groundbreaking analysis of the strategic role Africa plays in the global capitalist economy The exploitation of Africa s rich resources as well as its labor make it possible for major world powers to sustain their authority over their own middle class populations while rewarding African collaborators in leadership positions for subjecting their populations into poverty and desperation Middle class obsessions such as computers mobile phones cars and the petroleum that fuels them diamonds chocolate all of these products require African resources that are typically obtained by child or slave labor that helps to generate billionaires out of foreign investors while impoverishing most Africans Oritsejafor and Cooper demonstrate that primitive accumulation believed by both Adam Smith and Karl Marx to be a process that precedes capitalism is actually an integral part of capitalism They also validate the thesis that capitalism incorporates racism as an organizing tool for the exploitation of labor in Africa and on a global scale Case studies are presented on Nigeria Cote d Ivoire Ghana Liberia Congo Tanzania Somalia Angola Namibia Sao Tome and Principe and South Sudan There are also chapters analyzing the interests of Russia and China in Africa This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics development and economics

The Societies of the Middle East and North Africa Sean Yom, 2021-07-21 The second edition of this well regarded volume explores the societies of the Middle East and North Africa Presenting original studies written by the world s leading MENA scholars it sheds light upon the organizing structures human vulnerabilities and dynamic forces that propel social change among the peoples of the Arab world as well as Israel Turkey and Iran The volume can be used in conjunction with The Government and Politics of the Middle East and North Africa textbook for a comprehensive overview of the region Carrying over from the previous edition among the rich topics covered are agriculture urbanization development identity citizenship gender religion civil society the environment and youths This second edition adds two new chapters on refugees and public opinion as each constitutes a crucial part of the region s social and cultural context This edition also updates existing chapters to account for the latest events and trends including the COVID 19 pandemic popular protests and demographic growth Written in an accessible way the chapters are clearly structured and contain insightful analysis memorable case studies illustrative photographs and visualized data that illuminate the contours of social life across this diverse region Each chapter also ends with curated questions for discussion followed by annotated bibliographies to help spark further research to encourage seamless adoption into classrooms dimensional and interdisciplinary standpoint this book challenges the teleological and unidirectional notions of development embodied in the idea of modernisation or progress and offers a critique of the tendency to consider Africa as a basket case which often gives the Western self an undeserving privilege and superiority over the African other. Mostly authored by emerging African scholars, this 16 chapter volume addresses the historical application of development projects in Africa and their modern impact in economic, political, cultural, social and infrastructural contexts among others. The book therefore unearths development dynamics in specific African countries, examines the continent's external relations, rethinks predominant ideas on development and engages in critical examination of concepts and practices that have maintained hegemonic positions in the discussions on Africa's development. Its uniqueness lies in the ability to bring these several voices and themes together into a concise conception of both the challenges and possibilities of Africa's sustainable development. The book targets both the academic and policy worlds in Africa and around the world as well as ordinary members of the public who seek to broaden their theoretical and empirical understanding on the changing dynamics on the African continent.

Africa Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow Nathan Andrews, 2013-02-14 From a multi

Routledge Handbook of Persian Gulf Politics Mehran Kamrava, 2020-05-31. The Routledge Handbook of Persian Gulf Politics provides a comprehensive and up to date analysis of Persian Gulf politics, history, economics and society. The volume begins its examination of Ottoman rule in the Arabian Peninsula, exploring other dimensions of the region's history up until and after independence in the 1960s and 1970s. Featuring scholars from a range of disciplines, the book demonstrates how the Persian Gulf's current complex politics is a product of interwoven dynamics rooted in historical developments and memories, profound social, cultural and economic changes underway since the 1980s and the 1990s, and inter-state and international relations among both regional actors and between them and the rest of the world. The book comprises a total of 36 individual chapters divided into the following six sections: Historical Context, Society and Culture, Economic Development, Domestic Politics, Regional Security Dynamics, The Persian Gulf and the World. Examining the Persian Gulf's increasing importance in regional politics, diplomacy, economics and security issues, the volume is a valuable resource for scholars, students and policy makers interested in political science, history, Gulf studies and the Middle East. Economic Crisis and Political Change in North Africa Azzedine Layachi, 1998-10-28. A collective effort by American and North African scholars, this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of recent economic, social and political events in North Africa. It shows how the Maghrebi states and societies are currently at a very important junction as they try to adjust to different ways of doing things in new regional and international orders. Using a political economy approach, the book focuses on a series of issues raised by the interaction between economic crisis and reform on the one hand and political change or stagnation on the other. The author and his contributors provide a comprehensive and up to date survey of particular value to scholars and researchers of the Arab world in general and North Africa in particular. The Implications of the Rentier State Theory Regarding the Major Oil-Producing States of the Middle East Rebekka Schliep, 2017-07-21. Politics International Politics Region Near East Near Orient grade 67 School of Oriental and African Studies University of London course State and Transformation in the Middle East language English abstract The rentier state theory has informed much scholarly research on the Middle East and North Africa MENA region A main theorist of the rentier state theories argues that in a rentier state the government is the principal recipient of the external rent in the economy This is a fact of paramount importance cutting across the whole of the social fabric of the economy affecting the role of the state in the society Beblawi 1990 p 88 With several countries in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region ranking among the rentier states it is important to consider the term which has influenced political thinking of the past and the present This argumentation raises the question of adequacy concerning the notion of the rentier state in analysing political processes in the major oil producing states of the Middle East In order to answer this question this essay is divided into two main parts In a first section it will consider the main features that the rentier state theorists have set out and the implications that this theory brings about In a second step the main limitations of this theory will be elaborated as well as some of its benefits will be considered Close reading of the theories by Hossein Mahdavy 1970 Giacomo Luciani 1987 and Hazem Beblawi 1990 the consideration of critical essays on theories of the rentier state as well as a glance at countries ranking among rentier states by definition leads to the conclusion that the rentier state theory judges generalises and oversimplifies the respective states that rank among the definition of the rentier states The theory focuses on the economy of a state and how a regime manages this economy and excludes many elements that a Africa and the International System Christopher S.

Clapham,1996-09-12 Paying for the state Statebuilding in the Middle East and North Africa Irene Costantini,2018-03-26 This book examines the regime changes in Iraq and Libya to unravel the complexity of statebuilding in countries emerging from authoritarianism and conflict in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region Framed in a comparative study of post 2003 Iraq and post 2011 Libya the book examines changes in key state dimensions representation and political authority security and wealth creation and distribution in a continuous dialogue with past trajectories in these two countries To grasp the nature and degree of these changes the mechanisms of state formation are explored in light of a statebuilding agenda that in its application from Iraq to Libya has adapted to different political prerogatives The analysis of Iraq and Libya serves the book s ultimate goal to address the debate on statebuilding from a regional MENA perspective and to lay the ground for the study of other contemporary cases undergoing radical and violent process of changes such as in Syria and Yemen The book grapples with problems associated with the difficult process of transition from authoritarianism through conflict and towards peace by focusing on the state its structure and function The work is informed by a large quantity of materials collected over the past five years including secondary literature policy papers and reports and semi structured interviews with key informants on Iraq and Libya This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding Middle Eastern studies peace and conflict studies and International Relations in general State Formation and Identity in the Middle East and North Africa K. Christie, M. Masad, 2013-12-17 For states in the Middle East North Africa and South Asia the Arab Spring has had different implications and consequences stemming from the politics of identity and the historical and political processes that have shaped development This book focuses on how these factors interact with globalization and affect state formation

Demilitarisation and Peace-Building in Southern Africa Peter Batchelor, 2018-12-17 First published in 2004 this work is based on a collaborative research project this trilogy considers the dynamics of demilitarisation and peace building in southern Africa in the aftermath of major violent conflicts The overall aim of the research is to support and facilitate the achievement of sustainable peace and human development in southern Africa by analysing demilitarisation and peace building processes in the region and identifying policy options and interventions for peace building The central focus of the research is the extent to which demilitarisation following the termination of wars has contributed to broad processes of peace building in the affected region Has the military in southern Africa downsized and refocused towards new roles Has there been a peace dividend allowing more investment in economic and human development thereby dealing with some of the root causes of conflict Volume I provides a conceptual framework for the analysis of demilitarisation and peace building processes applicable particularly in the southern Africa context This volume argues that a broad concept of peace building has to take into account economic political social and cultural factors at the local national and regional level Everyday State and

Modernization and the Crisis of Development in Africa Jeremiah I. Dibia, 2017-11-28 In this book Jeremiah I Dibia challenges prevailing notions of Africa s development crisis by drawing attention to the role of modernization as a way of understanding the nature and dynamics of the crisis and how to overcome the problem of underdevelopment He specifically focuses on Nigeria and its development trajectory since it exemplifies the crisis of underdevelopment in the continent He explores various theoretical and empirical issues involved in understanding the crisis including state class gender and culture often neglected in analysis from an interdisciplinary radical political economy perspective This is the first book to adopt such an approach and to develop a new framework for analyzing Nigeria s and Africa s development crisis It will influence the debate on the development dilemma of African and Third World societies and will be of interest to scholars and students of race and ethnicity modern African history class analysis gender studies and development studies
