Wiesner-Hanks, 2005-06-23 Cultural life flowered from the mid fifteenth century in the Italian city states many of which profited from the new trading opportunities that growing world networks permitted Contact among regions of the world expanded bringing new ideas and prompting an appreciation of arts and letters not only of the present but of the past In Italy this cultural flowering was known at first as the renaissance of arts and letters soon shortened to just Renaissance to accommodate cultural ingredients that came from beyond Europe Italian and northern European cultural expansion benefited from similar retrieval of ancient knowledge in the Islamic world and East Asia Like the Italians the Chinese had grown even wealthier from the extensive links to global commerce provided by the Mongol Empire but once thrown off their cultural life flourished under the Ming Cultural knowledge and the arts spread across Asia and into Europe As part of state building the Ming nourished commerce but also rejected the cosmopolitan Buddhist legacy that arrived from central and south Asia To strengthen dynastic Chinese rule the Ming challenged Buddhism with a revival of age old concern for the Confucian values that had languished under the Mongols Foremost among these new Confucians was Wu Yube so expert in his teachings that he attracted a wide coterie of disciples In India Nanak an educated employee of an Afghan prince sparked the founding of Sikhism A similar search for reviving fundamental religious values occurred in Europe where Martin Luther challenged the practices of the Catholic church ushering in Protestantism Religious reform and resistance to it were closely connected to the state building efforts of enterprising monarchs such as Henry VIII of England India likewise experienced a fervent movement to revive pure ancient religious practices Fourteenth and fifteenth century global trade and long distance ventures such as those made by the Ming and then by the Portuguese further inspired and advanced these worldwide cultural and political developments A brisk Indian Ocean trade flourished Economic change ensued with the arrival of New World silver on the global market The advance of printing not only furthered the cause of religious reform and state building globally it also helped globalize knowledge and intellectual experimentation People of great power and those of more limited means came to live their lives differently because of this expanding web of shared knowledge and trade Cities flourished the enslavement of native Americans came to replace their use as human sacrifices and diseases migrated at a more rapid pace and greater devastation than perhaps ever before The Doctrines of Grace in an Unexpected Place Mark R. Stevenson, 2017-03-10 Does God sovereignly elect some individuals for salvation while passing others by Do human beings possess free will to embrace or reject the gospel Did Christ die equally for all people or only for some These questions have long been debated in the history of the Christian church Answers typically fall into one of two main categories popularly known as Calvinism and Arminianism The focus of this book is to establish how one nineteenth century evangelical group the Brethren responded to these and other related questions The Brethren produced a number of colorful leaders whose influence was felt throughout the evangelical world Although many critics have assumed the movement's theology was Arminian this book argues that the Brethren with few exceptions advocated Calvinistic positions Yet there were some twists along the way The movement's radical biblicism passionate evangelism and strong aversion to systematic theology and creeds meant they refused to label themselves as Calvinists even though they affirmed Calvinism's soteriological principles the so called doctrines of grace

Cameron (W. Arnot). [Continued as] The Christian monthly and family treasury rev Andrew Cameron,1877 Enigma: An Interpretative Commentary of Revelation Dr. Nathan Ogan,2019-01-16 This has been offered to the reader as if to say that from the very outset any study of Revelation that is done or offered without the direct application of Jesus teaching specifically His sermon on the Mount of Olives is incomplete at best The argument that God conclusively broadened His redemptive purpose beginning with the Jewish people then spread to all races as promised in Matthew 28 19 rings true in Revelation when understood in the context of what Jesus taught What's more the development of temple based worship into a simpler spiritual based worship as expected in John 4 21-24 is equally difficult to ignore from what appears to have been fulfilled in the prophecy of Revelation as predicted by Jesus in His Mount of Olives sermon
