The River Runs Salt Runs Sweet A Memoir Of Visegrad Bosnia:

The River Runs Salt, Runs Sweet Jasmina Dervisevic-Cesic, Joanna Vogel, Bruce Holland Rogers, 2003 Wartime memoir of a Bosnian refugee from Visegrad who made her way to America and became a spokeswoman for the Bosnian cause The Holocaust and Genocides in Europe Benjamin Lieberman, 2013-06-06 A concise and sharply focused textbook giving students an up to date understanding of genocide in recent European history Surviving the Peace Peter Lippman, 2019-11-15

Surviving the Peace is a monumental feat of ground level reporting describing two decades of postwar life in Bosnia specifically among those fighting for refugee rights of return Unique in its breadth and profoundly humanitarian in its focus Surviving the Peace situates digestible explanations of the region's bewilderingly complex recent history among interviews conversations and tableaux from the lives of everyday Bosnians attempting to make sense of what passes for normal in a postwar society Essential reading for students of the former Yugoslavia and anyone interested in postwar or post genocide studies Surviving the Peace is an instant classic of long form reporting an impossible accomplishment without a lifetime of dedication to a place and people Identity, Trauma, Sensitive and Controversial Issues in the Teaching of History

Hilary Cooper, Jon Nichol, 2015-10-13 History Education is a politically contested subject It can be used to both promote xenophobia and to develop critical thinking multiple perspectives and tolerance Accordingly this book critically examines complex issues and constructivist approaches that make history relevant to students understanding of the modern world As such it has global appeal especially in North and South America Canada Europe and Asia The book's authors address the major challenges that History Education faces in an era of globalisation digital revolution and international terrorism nationalism and sectarian and religious conflict and warfare Central to this volume are controversial issues trauma and questions of personal and national identity from a wide range of international settings and perspectives The research in this book was undertaken by leading history educators from every continent Their interdisciplinary research represents an important contribution to the teaching of social sciences social psychology civic education programmes history and history education in schools colleges and universities The book offers new approaches to history educators at all levels In addition the chapters offer potential as required reading for students to both develop an international perspective and to compare and contrast their own situations with those that the book covers Section I considers issues related to identity how can history education promote social coherence in multicultural societies in societies divided by sectarianism or countries adapting to regime changes whether Communist or Fascist including for example South Africa previously Communist countries of Eastern Europe and previous dictatorships in South America and Western Europe It discusses such questions as How important is it that students learn the content of history through the processes of historical enquiry What should that content be and who should decide it educators or politicians What is the role of textbooks and who should write and select them Should history be taught as a discrete discipline or as part of a citizenship or social sciences curriculum Sections II and III explore ways in which memory of sensitive issues related to the past to war or to massacres may be addressed Are there new methodologies or approaches which make this possible How can students understand situations involving intolerance and injustice

Gerila na Balkanu Momčilo Pavlović, 2007 American Book Publishing Record, 2004 Bibliography of Sources on the Region of Former Yugoslavia Rusko Matulić, 1998 In this second volume Rusko Matulic continues to formulate a comprehensive bibliography of primarily published sources relating to the history languages literature politics government religion and social sciences of former Yugoslavia including bibliographical materials on expatriates And Still We Rise: A Novel about the Genocide in Bosnia Jordan Steven Sher, 2021-11 This book deserves to be remembered as one of the best truth based fiction works about the concentration camps in Prijedor that has been written Satko Mujagic survivor of the camps activist Sher is able to harness the unique power of literary expression in order to convey the truth about the human suffering that resulted from the genocidal aggression against Bosnian Muslims Research based and historically accurate Sher's epic narrative will leave the reader deeply affected David Pettigrew Ph D Professor of Philosophy and Holocaust and Genocide Studies Southern Connecticut State University Member Steering Committee Yale University Genocide Studies Program A remarkable inspiring story of survival during and after the genocide vividly capturing the tragedy of loss and the resilience it takes to overcome Although fictional the story poignantly resembles the experiences of countless Bosnian families Sandra Grudic survivor PhD student at Clark University's School of Genocide and Holocaust Studies An exceptional work of fiction that illuminates the struggles faced by many Bosnians during the Genocide The book is profoundly moving and descriptive It is a must read and must share Dina Radeljas PhD survivor Associate Professor of Social Sciences at Mohawk Valley Community College Utica NY A powerful story that needs to be heard and known It puts a face on hatred and intolerance in Bosnia during the genocide in 1992 but it also portrays the human capacity to surmount that hate with bravery that gives you hope for a better tomorrow Jasmina Dervisevic Cestic survivor and author of The River Runs Salt Runs Sweet Sher's characters are fictional but the events in the book described with great skill and attention to detail aren't This a fascinating tale dealing with personal stories both during and in the aftermath of the Bosnian genocide while still confidently delivering a strong message of peace and hope Eldin Hadzovic freelance journalist Sarajevo Bosnia and Herzegovina Based on real life events in spring 1992 in Prijedor Bosnia the Kovacevic's a Muslim family is confronted with the harsh reality that they are the targets of a brutal campaign to rid the country of non Serbs Neighbors turn on neighbors as the nationalist Serb propaganda leads to the so called cleansing of communities that destroys families and their homes Elvir and his fifteen year old son Amir are sent to the Omarska concentration camp where torture and death haunt them daily With a world that turns a blind eye both suffer physically psychologically and spiritually Yet they must rely upon each other if they are to survive Hajra Elvir's wife and mother of their two younger children Halima and Danis are imprisoned in another camp called Trnopolje They too must survive the atrocities that visit them including rape and witnessing beatings and murder Hajra and the children encounter Elvir's brother Tarik who has been transferred to Trnopolje from another camp only to see him disappear a short time later. As they all have learned too well in the camps, many disappear never to return. The Kovacevic's eventually leave the camps and reconnect with Tarik's wife Merjem who is unable to accept the possibility of the loss of her husband. The families' trajectories lead them to journey together as they face unforeseen obstacles that must be overcome if they are to find true freedom from the trauma that continues to inform their decisions. As refugees they move to Germany and then to America seeking to rediscover meaning in their lives after surviving genocide, grieving their losses, and to place roots in their new home.

The Bridge on the Drina Ivo Andrić, 1961. This long narrative which its author appropriately called a chronicle relates in a series of episodes the history of a bridge near the Bosnian town of Visegrad. That history covers three and a half centuries through much of which the Bosnians lived under Turkish overlords. This is probably the most important of Andrić's several novels about his native Bosnia.
