rather it operates as a genre generating machine capable of determining the aesthetics and structure of the drama within many genres Melodrama centers the conflict around the clash between good and evil and provides a sense of poetic justice but the specific values embedded in notions of good and evil are determined by the culture and they shift from nation to nation region to region and period to period This book explores the populist westerns of the 1930s the propaganda films that followed the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the popularity of Sax Rohmer's master villain Fu Manchu Melodramas of passion and film noir also offer a challenge to melodrama with its seemingly alienated protagonists and downbeat endings Yet with few exceptions Hollywood was able to assimilate these genres within its melodramatic imagination Turner

The Saint's Life and the Senses of Scripture Ann W. Astell, 2024-07-15 Through close examination of ancient medieval and modern Lives of the saints Ann W. Astell demonstrates how the historical transformation of hagiography as a genre correlates with similar changes in biblical studies Christian hagiography flourished from the fourth to the fifteenth centuries illuminating the gospel through the overlapping forms of exempla and vita Originally the Lives of the saints were understood as hermeneutical extensions of the Bible God authors the saint just as God authors the divinely inspired scriptures During the medieval period a sense of dual authorship between God and the cooperating saint developed paralleling the Scholastic impulse to assign greater agency to the human writers of scripture Then in the sixteenth century powerful new anxieties about historical truth pushed hagiography aside for biography its successor Drawing on her expertise in the history of Christianity and biblical exegesis Astell convincingly shows how this radical shift in hagiography's status the loss of the literal allegorical tropological and anagogical senses of the Lives serves as a bellwether for modern biblical reception
