Film Fatales Tom Lisanti, Louis Paul, 2016-11-16 Sean Connery began the sixties spy movie boom playing James Bond in Dr No and From Russia with Love. Their success inspired every studio in Hollywood and Europe to release everything from serious knockoffs to spoofs on the genre featuring debonair men, futuristic gadgets, exotic locales and some of the world's most beautiful actresses whose roles ranged from the innocent caught up in a nefarious plot to the femme fatale. Profiled herein are 107 dazzling women, well known and unknown, who had film and television appearances in the spy genre. They include superstars Doris Day in Caprice, Raquel Welch in Fathom and Ann Margret in Murderer's Row, international sex symbols Ursula Andress in Dr No and Casino Royale, Elke Sommer in Deadlier Than the Male and Senta Berger in The Spy with My Face, and forgotten lovelies Greta Chi in Fathom, Alizia Gur in From Russia with Love and Maggie Thrett in Out of Sight. Each profile includes a filmography that lists the actresses' more notable films. Some include the actresses' candid comments and anecdotes about their films and television shows, the people they worked with and their feelings about acting in the spy genre. A list of websites that provide further information on women in spy films and television is also included.

Transnational Television History Andreas Fickers, Catherine Johnson, 2013-09-13 Although television has developed into a major agent of the transnational and global flow of information and entertainment, television historiography and scholarship largely remains a national endeavour, partly due to the fact that television has been understood as a tool for the creation of national identity. But the breaking of the quasi-monopoly of public service broadcasters all over Europe in the 1980s has changed the television landscape and cross border television channels, with the help of satellite and the Internet, have catapulted the relatively closed television nations into the universe of globalized media channels. At least this is the picture painted by the popular meta-narratives of European television history. Transnational Television History asks us to re-evaluate the function of television as a medium of nation building in its formative years and to reassess the historical narrative that insists that European television only became transnational with the emergence of more commercial services and new technologies from the 1980s. It also questions some common assumptions in television historiography by offering some alternative perspectives on the complex processes of transnational circulation of television technology, professional programmes and aesthetics. This book was originally published as a special issue of Media History.
