The Representation Of The Past The Representation Of The Past:

The Representation of the Past Kevin Walsh, 2002-09-11 The 1980s and early 1990s have seen a marked increase in public interest in our historic environment The museum and heritage industry has expanded as the past is exploited for commercial profit In The Representation of the Past Kevin Walsh examines this international trend and questions the packaging of history which serves only to distance people from their own heritage A superficial unquestioning portrayal of the past he feels separates us from an understanding of our cultural and political present Here Walsh suggests a number of ways in which the museum can fulfill its potential by facilitating our comprehension of cultural identity ~THEœ

REPRESENTATION OF THE PAST. Kevin Walsh, 1992 Factories of Memory: Cinematic Representations of the 12 September Military Coup Ozan Tekin, 2013-08 12 September 1980 the third successful military coup in the history of Turkey has had a debilitating impact on the social political and cultural life of the country This study examines the representations of the 12 September coup through the lens of film as memory Based on the content analysis of the two films Beynelmilel 2006 and Bu Son Olsun 2012 and their reception this study examines the representations of the 12 September military coup by means of the concepts of cultural memory communicative and material memory memory of objects and construes whether the reconstruction of this particular past event is challenged by the abovementioned cinematic products as a way to impinge upon the collective memories of this seminal event in Turkey Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe Siobhan Kattago, 2012 Through reflecting on the legacy of totalitarianism and the revolutions of 1989 it becomes clear that the issue is less of whether one should remember but rather how to internalize the various lessons of the past for the future of Europe Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe thus offers the reader occasions upon which to take stock of different but overlapping contours of past and present in contemporary Europe Accounting, Representation and Responsibility Niels Joseph Lennon, 2020-06-04 In organizations accounting produces organizational knowledge that affects decision making and managerial action Companies placing importance on shareholder value sometimes tend to elevate accounting to a higher truth criterion for justifying managerial actions Yet the nature of accounting renders it difficult to argue that accounting information necessarily produce a better basis for decision making than arguments which are not based on accounting This is because as previous research has also argued accounting counts some things but omits many others while managers are accountable for much more than what accounting actually counts Using a theoretical apparatus from Deleuze and Guattar this book illustrates that accounting based actions such as making management decisions maintaining organisational responsibility and hierarchical control are manifestations of the ways in which accounting is composed This concise introduction will be invaluable for researchers and advanced students of management accounting exploring responsibility accounting and accountability Ricoeur: A Guide for the Perplexed David Pellauer, 2007-10-09 Paul Ricoeur was one of the giants of contemporary Continental philosophy He also knew and drew upon the Analytic tradition Over a long life he pursued questions of philosophical anthropology as they relate to a good life lived with and for others in just institutions His work has been translated into numerous languages and widely discussed by legal theorists historians literary critics and theologians as well as philosophers Ricoeur A Guide for the Perplexed is the ideal text to support anyone trying to reach a firm understanding of this important contemporary philosopher The guide locates Ricoeur s output in its historical and intellectual context provides an overview of Ricoeur s central ideas and defines carefully the key terms in his philosophical writing Close attention is paid to each of Ricoeur s major works including The Conflict of Interpretations and From Text to Action Ricoeur s importance for particular disciplines including literary criticism social theory political philosophy and theology is explained and explored Above all this Guide for the Perplexed offers constructive and illuminating suggestions for how to read Ricoeur A major contribution to Ricoeur scholarship in its own right it is also an invaluable companion to be read alongside Ricoeur s own works

Metaphysics Courtney D. Fugate,John Hymers,2018-05-24 Baumgarten and Kant on Metaphysics explores the metaphysics of Alexander Gottlieb Baumgarten 17141762 and its decisive influence on Immanuel Kant For over a century scholars have recognized the significance of Baumgarten s Metaphysics both because of its impact on Kant s intellectual development and because of the way it fundamentally informed the work of generations of German philosophers including Moses Mendelssohn Thomas Abbt Johann Gottfried Herder Solomon Maimon Johann August Eberhard and arguably even Georg Friedrich Hegel However Baumgarten s Metaphysics has only recently become available in reliable German and English translations as such many scholars have been excluded from the discussion and the significance of Baumgarten s work has remained largely unexplored Thus with the appearance of these translations interest in Baumgarten s work has surged This collection provides an anchor for this emerging discussion by presenting chapters by some of the scholars most responsible for Baumgarten's current reputation together with some of the best young scholars in this emerging field

Developmental Spans in Event Comprehension and Representation Paul van den Broek, Patricia J. Bauer, Tammy Bourg, 2013-12-16 This book is about building metaphorical bridges all sorts of bridges At the most basic level it concerns the bridges that individuals build to understand the events that they experience the bridges that connect the events in the mind's eye At another level it is about bridges that interconnect findings and theoretical frameworks concerning event comprehension and representation in different age groups ranging from infancy to adulthood Finally it is about building bridges between researchers who share interests yet may not ordinarily even be aware of each other's work The success of the book will be measured in terms of the extent to which the contributors have been able to create a picture of the course of development across a wide span in chronological age and across different types of events from the fictional to the actual The individuals whose work is represented in this book conduct their work in a shared environment they all have an intellectual and scholarly interest in event comprehension and representation These interests are manifest in the overlapping themes of their work These include a focus on how people come to temporally integrate individual snapshots to form a coherent event that unfolds over time to understand cause and effect and to appreciate the role of the goal of events Another overlapping theme involves the possibility of individual differences These themes are apparent in work on the early development of representations of specific episodes and autobiographical memories and comprehension of complex events such as stories involving multiple characters and emotions The editors of this volume had two missions to create a development span by bringing together researchers working from infancy to adulthood and to create a bridge between individuals working from within the text comprehension perspective within the naturalistic perspective and with laboratory analogues to the naturalistic perspective Their measure of success will be the extent to which they have been able to create a picture of the course of development across a wide span in chronological age and across different types of events from fictional to actual

Turbo-folk Music and Cultural Representations of National Identity in Former Yugoslavia Uroš Čvoro, 2016-03-03 Turbo folk music is the most controversial form of popular culture in the new states of former Yugoslavia Theoretically ambitious and innovative this book is a new account of popular music that has been at the centre of national political and cultural debates for over two decades Beginning with 1970s Socialist Yugoslavia Uroš Čvoro explores the cultural and political paradoxes of turbo folk described as backward music whose misogynist and Serb nationalist iconography represents a threat to cosmopolitanism turbo folk's iconography is also perceived as a genuinely Balkan form of resistance to the threat of neo liberalism Taking as its starting point turbo folk's popularity across national borders Čvoro analyses key songs and performers in Serbia Slovenia and Croatia The book also examines the effects of turbo on the broader cultural sphere including art film sculpture and architecture twenty years after its inception and popularization What is proposed is a new way of reading the relationship of contemporary popular music to processes of cultural political and social change and a new understanding of how fundamental turbo folk is to the recent history of former Yugoslavia and its successor states Historical Narratives

Mariana Imaz-Sheinbaum, 2023-10-27 This book explains some of the psychological processes that go into narrative construction and why it is that we have so much variability of historical accounts about a single historical event A central focus of this book is how historians go from having unconnected units of data to having a coherent structured and organized flow of experiences The author argues that the way these connections are established responds to certain Gestalt psychological principles that allow us to understand not only how histories are constructed but also how this construction can be rather different depending on how these principles are applied To illustrate how these principles are present in histories the author analyzes classic historical writers such as Burckhardt Huizinga Vico and Marx As well as an explanation of why historical multiplicity happens the book also offers a way to evaluate different historical narratives about the same historical event To illustrate how the evaluative framework is at play the author analyzes two views about the so called discovery of America The first one explains what happens in 1492 by using the term discovery The second one uses the notion of invention to talk about the same set of circumstances The book provides an important epistemic tool to evaluate these different accounts one that can be applied not only to this case but also others This book appeals to scholars graduate students and upper level undergraduate students of history and philosophy In addition the book may also attract intellectuals generally considered who are interested in how philosophy can inform and question historical practice Representations of Black Women in the Media Marquita Marie Gammage, 2015-10-16 In 1920 W E B Du Bois cited the damnation of women as linked to the devaluation of motherhood This dilemma he argues had a crushing blow on Black women as they were forced into slavery Black womanhood portrayed as hypersexual by nature became an enduring stereotype which did not coincide with the dignity of mother and wife This portrayal continues to reinforce negative stereotypes of Black women in the media today This book highlights how Black women have been negatively portrayed in the media focusing on the export nature of media and its ability to convey notions of Blackness to the public It argues that media such as rap music videos television dramas reality television shows and newscasts create and affect expectations of Black women Exploring the role that racism misogyny and media play in the representation of Black womanhood it provides a foundation for challenging contemporary media's portrayal of Black women Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies, 2017-05-19 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa's literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a disappointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present The Handbook of Evolutionary Psychology, Volume 2 David M. Hinde, 2000-06-28 As a historian of the Renaissance and the rise of Christianity Burckhardt was concerned with periods of social political and cultural transformation Writing in the aftermath of the 1848 Revolutions and in the long shadow cast by the French Revolution of 1789 he observed the rise of industrial capitalism and mass politics with trepidation He especially lamented the fate of the individual whose creativity had shaped the glories of the Renaissance and ancient Greece but who was increasingly domesticated and commodified in modern society Unlike conventional accounts which characterize him as an apolitical aesthete Hinde shows us that Burckhardt was as a thinker of profound importance whose conservative anti
