The Mother of the Sri Aurobindo Ashram Patrick Beldio,2024-12-15 The Mother of the Sri Aurobindo Ashram Co Creator of the Integral Yoga analyzes the contributions of the Mother n e Mirra Alfassa 1878 1973 to the Integral Yoga that she and Sri Aurobindo n Aurobindo Ghose 1872 1950 co created for his ashram Scholars have ignored Mirra for Aurobindo which prevents a full understanding of their spiritual practice Scholars have also avoided examining work Aurobindo produced after they began their partnership in 1920 until his death in 1950 and privileged the written output in his journal Arya from 1914 to 1921 In this initial fertile period he put forth his innovative teaching about what he called the Supermind an emergent human faculty that he said would manifest a new humanity and a new earth through Mirra s body Mirra claimed that after his death in 1956 this manifestation happened as he foretold Mirra s work in the ashram from his death until hers in 1973 reveals important ways that she both fulfilled and changed Aurobindo s initial vision These developments are chiefly based on her experiences of mental dissolution while her body gained a new supramental form and consciousness

The Dawn of Science Thanu Padmanabhan,Vasanthi Padmanabhan,2019-04-23

This lucid and captivating book takes the reader back to the early history of all the sciences starting from antiquity and ending roughly at the time of Newton covering the period which can legitimately be called the dawn of the sciences. Each of the 24 chapters focuses on a particular and significant development in the evolution of science and is connected in a coherent way to the others to yield a smooth continuous narrative. The at a glance diagrams showing the When and Where give a brief summary of what was happening at the time thereby providing the broader context of the scientific events highlighted in that chapter. Embellished with colourful photographs and illustrations and boxed highlights scattered throughout the text, this book is a must read for everyone interested in the history of science and how it shaped our world today.

Writing Food History Kyri W. Claflin, Peter Scholliers, 2013-08-01 The vibrant interest in food studies among both academics and amateurs has made food history an exciting field of investigation. Taking stock of three decades of groundbreaking multidisciplinary research, the book examines two broad questions: What has history contributed to the development of food studies? How have other disciplines—sociology, anthropology, literary criticism, science, art, history—influenced writing on food history in terms of approach, methodology, controversies, and knowledge of past foodways? Essays by twelve prominent scholars provide a compendium of global and multicultural answers to these questions. The contributors critically assess food history writing in the United States, Africa, Mexico, and the Spanish Diaspora, India, the Ottoman Empire, the Far East, China, Japan, and Korea, Europe, Jewish communities, and the Middle East. Several historical eras are covered: the Ancient World, the Middle Ages, Early Modern Europe, and the Modern day. The book is a unique addition to the growing literature on food history. It is required reading for anyone seeking a detailed discussion of food history research in diverse times and places.

This unique reference work includes intercultural articles on broad topics such as mathematics and astronomy, as well as thoughtful philosophical articles on concepts and ideas related to the study of non-Western science, such as rationality, objectivity, and method. You'll also find material on religion and science, East and West, and magic and science.

The Treasury of Knowledge, Book Six, Parts One and Two Jamgon Kongtrul Lodro Taye, 2013-01-08 Jamgon Kongtrul's encyclopedic Treasury of Knowledge presents a complete account of the major lines of thought and practice that comprise Tibetan Buddhism. Among the ten books that make up this tour de force, Book Six is by far the longest, concisely summarizing the theoretical fields of knowledge to be studied prior to the cultivation of reflection and discriminative awareness. The first two parts of Book Six, contained in this volume, respectively concern Indo-Tibetan classical learning and Buddhist phenomenology. The former analyzes the traditional subjects of phonology and Sanskrit grammar, logic, fine art and medicine along with astrology poetics prosody synonymics and dramaturgy The principal non Buddhist philosophical systems of ancient India are then summarized and contrasted with the hierarchical meditative concentrations and formless absorptions through which the summit of cyclic existence can genuinely be attained Part Two examines the phenomenological structures of Abhidharma the shared inheritance of all Buddhist traditions from three distinct perspectives corresponding to the three successive turnings of the doctrinal wheel Culture and the Environment in the Himalaya Arjun Guneratne,2009-12-24 Drawing on Himalayan ethnography to interrogate and critique contemporary theorizing about the environment this book examines how the environment is conceptualized among different social groups in the region A new approach to the study of the environment in South Asia this book introduces the new thinking in environmental anthropology and geography into the study of the Himalaya Indian Knowledge System in 21st Century: Tradition Meets Innovation edited by Dr. Nandini Sharma & Dr. Aarti Chopra Dr. Nandini Sharma,Dr. Aarti Chopra,2025-07-31 The Indian Knowledge System IKS is not just a repository of historical facts or ancient rituals it is a living breathing framework that continues to shape India s intellectual scientific cultural and spiritual ethos The 21st century has witnessed a resurgence of interest in IKS not only as a matter of heritage but also as a vital contributor to global discourse in sustainability innovation and ethical leadership This book Indian Knowledge System in 21st Century Tradition Meets Innovation is a collective effort to explore how time honored Indian traditions intersect with contemporary challenges and opportunities It traverses through various themes from the scientific acumen of ancient India to managerial insights from the Bhagavad Gita from the rich cultural traditions that foster resilience and identity to leadership styles rooted in our epics and scriptures Nutrition and Fitness Artemis P. Teaching Religion and Healing Linda L. Barnes,Inés M. Talamantez,2006-10-12 The study of medicine and healing traditions is well developed in the discipline of anthropology Most religious studies scholars however continue to assume that medicine and biomedicine are one and the same and that when religion and medicine are mentioned together the reference is necessarily either to faith healing or bioethics Scholars of religion also have tended to assume that religious healing refers to the practices of only a few groups such as Christian Scientists and pentecostals Most are now aware of the work of physicians who attempt to demonstrate positive health outcomes in relation to religious practice but few seem to realize the myriad ways in which healing pervades virtually all religious systems This volume is designed to help instructors incorporate discussion of healing into their courses and to encourage the development of courses focused on religion and healing It brings together essays by leading experts in a range of disciplines and addresses the role of healing in many different religious traditions and cultural communities An invaluable resource for faculty in anthropology religious studies American studies sociology and ethnic studies it also addresses the needs of educators training physicians health care professionals and chaplains particularly in relation to what is referred to as cultural competence the ability to work with multicultural and religiously diverse patient populations

Vibrational Energy Medicine , Unani Medicine in the Making Kira Schmidt-Stiedenroth,2025-10-01 Unani Medicine in the Making examines the institutions and practices of Unani medicine the Graeco Islamic healing practice based on the humoral theory attributed to Hippocrates and officially recognized as a system of medicine in India Drawing on diverse materials including Urdu sources interviews with practitioners and observations in clinics the book explores what Unani medicine is today by attending to its multiplicity scrutinizing apparent tensions between the understanding of Unani as a system of medicine and its multiple enactments as Islamic medicine medical science or alternative medicine Ethnographic details provide vivid descriptions of the current practice of Unani in India and invite readers to rethink the idea that humoral medicine is incommensurable with modern medicine and science and that the modernization of Asian medicines invariably leads to their biomedicalization Ultimately the book also discusses the relationship of Unani with Muslim communities examining the growing practice of Prophetic Medicine in Urban India and increasing representations of Unani as Islamic Medicine
