

THE READING WOMAN

Even today, when I read, I notice with pleasure when an author has chosen a particular word, a particular place, for the picture it will convey to the reader.

—Ruth Bader Ginsburg, My Own Words

Artists have long been inspired by the intimate love affairs between women and literature. Be it on the deck of a swimming pool, on the subway, or in their own library, reading women remain an inspirational muse for creators, classic to contemporary. The characters depicted in the months of this calendar come from all over the globe and range centuries in origin; perhaps the only thing they have in common is their dedication to the written word. Twelve scenes, paired with quotes from women about the importance and joy of reading, are reproduced in this calendar.

Congress,1997      The Colonizers' Idols Christina Harker,2018-02-02 In this work Christina Harker deconstructs the prevailing treatment of the New Testament as anti imperial by contextualizing both New Testament scholarship and the Galatian experience within imperialist discourses that survived the dissolution of conventional empires in the twentieth century She critiques simplistic treatments of empire as post imperial that is replicating patterns of imperialist ideology albeit unwittingly To solve the problem a new interpretation of Galatians is proposed that reworks and complicates the portrait of the Galatians themselves rather than Paul within what then emerges as a diverse social world peopled by complex individuals with heterogeneous social and cultural identities The author is thus able to show how New Testament scholars who rehabilitate the Bible and Paul as anti empire perpetuate the same imperialist modes of interpretation they seek to repudiate

Toward a Holy Ecology Ellen Bernstein,2024-02-20 The Song of Songs is among the most accessible of all biblical books It is also the most deeply ecological text of the canon yet few people are aware of the Song s ecological message The intention of Toward a Holy Ecology Reading the Song of Songs in the Age of Climate Crisis is to illuminate that message Today there is such urgency around our many earth crises so much brokenness that we need a vision of wholeness and an ecological language that can help inspire soothe and reinvigorate us and bring us together regardless of our various affiliations and ideologies The Song offers both ecological language and a vision It sets the natural world before us with intensity and beauty bidding us to savor it with all of our senses so that we may return to the world with the renewed clarity love and energy necessary to work toward a healthy future for the earth and all her inhabitants The Song is a particularly powerful book since it never utters the name of the divine yet is a deeply spiritual work that may reach people who are interested in matters of the sacred but prefer to steer clear of God language and conventional religious ideas In both the Jewish and Christian worlds where many people are disengaging from religion altogether the Song with its universal themes of love justice and the integrity of nature may help open the door to the possibilities which religion has to offer Toward a Holy Ecology Reading the Song of Songs in an Age of Climate Crisis seeks to engage a wide readership including all people who love the earth and its inhabitants outdoor enthusiasts spiritual seekers poets feminists and students of the humanities religion and ecology

Education and Religion in Late Antique Christianity Peter Gemeinhardt,Lieve Van Hoof,Peter Van Nuffelen,2016-03-31 This book studies the complex attitude of late ancient Christians towards classical education In recent years the different theoretical positions that can be found among the Church Fathers have received particular attention their statements ranged from enthusiastic assimilation to outright rejection the latter sometimes masking implicit adoption Shifting attention away from such explicit statements this volume focuses on a series of lesser known texts in order to study the impact of specific literary and social contexts on late ancient educational views and practices By moving attention from statements to strategies this volume wishes to enrich our understanding of the creative engagement with classical ideals of education The multi faceted approach adopted here illuminates the close connection between specific educational purposes on the one hand and the possibilities and limitations offered by specific genres and contexts on the other Instead of seeing attitudes towards education in late antique texts as applications of theoretical positions it reads them as complex negotiations between authorial intent the limitations of genre and the context of performance
