Modernism's Other Work Lisa Siraganian, 2015 Modernism's Other Work challenges our view of relationships between aesthetic autonomy and the world of daily life a conjuncture that Lisa Siraganian demonstrates has often been misunderstood in critical studies of modernism Connecting poetry to the visual arts and politics the author provides new ways to think about modernist art's relationship

Gender Meets Genre in Postwar Cinemas Christine Gledhill, 2012-01-15 This remarkable collection uses genre as a fresh way to analyze the issues of gender representation in film theory film production spectatorship and the contexts of reception With a uniquely global perspective these essays examine the intersection of gender and genre in not only Hollywood films but also in independent European Indian and Hong Kong cinemas Working in the area of postcolonial cinema contributors raise issues dealing with indigenous and global cinemas and argue that contemporary genres have shifted considerably as both notions of gender and forms of genre have changed The volume addresses topics such as the history of feminist approaches to the study of genre in film issues of female agency in postmodernity changes taking place in supposedly male dominated genres concepts of genre and its use of gender in global cinema and the relationship between gender and sexuality in film Contributors are Ira Bhaskar

Hellings, 2014-05-06 A comprehensive critical and accessible account of Theodor W Adorno's materialist dialectical aesthetic theory of art from a contemporary perspective this volume shows how Adorno's critical theory is awash with images crystallising thoughts to such a degree that it has every reason to be described as aesthetic Irresolute Heresiarch Charles Kraszewski, 2012-03-15 In the midst of a multi national comparative study of modern Catholic poets Charles S Kraszewski was more than a little surprised at the difficulty he encountered in finding a representative poet from that ostensibly most Catholic of European nations Poland With but two guiding criteria in mind the poet had to be possessed of a Catholic world view and have a significant impact on the development of modern poetry it seemed that Polish poets were either very good or Catholic Then in 2004 during the funeral of the Nobel Prize winning poet Czesław Miłosz it was revealed that the poet had written a recent letter to the Pope declaring his intent in his later writings to express a Catholic viewpoint This was a surprising admission given the rather heterodox reputation that characterized the poet during his long lifetime Irresolute Heresiarch Catholicism Gnosticism and Paganism in the Poetry of Czesław Miłosz is the fruit of Kraszewski's research into the religious themes expressed in the poetry of the great bard Beginning with his earliest published poems and continuing through the posthumously printed collections the book is a careful consideration of the religious claims set forth in Miłosz's works which range from orthodox Christianity through dualism and gnostic thought with a healthy dose of pagan appraisal of the wonder of the natural world In response to the question Was Miłosz a Catholic poet Kraszewski first attempts to define that category on the basis of Catholic core beliefs and later in a comparative discussion of indubitably Catholic greats such as T S Eliot Jan Zbyszewski and Hector de Saint Denys Garneau Although for the sake of clarity he focuses only on the poems and not the prose works of Czesław Miłosz the answer to the question is made all the more difficult by the very personal lyrical I adopted by Miłosz in his poetic practice Which I is speaking when Manichean thought is expressed and which I is it that invokes the saints at moments of temptation Whatever the answer to these questions may be Irresolute Heresiarch is successful in highlighting the wide range and complex nature of one of the most influential and important poets of our time Dreams Robert J. Hoss, Katja Valli Ph.D., Robert P. Gongloff, 2019-01-11 This two volume set examines dreams and dreaming from a variety of angles biological psychological and sociocultural in order to provide readers with a holistic introduction to this fascinating subject Whether good or bad and whether we remember them or not each night every one of us dreams But what biological or psychological function do dreams serve What do these vivid images and strange storylines mean How have psychologists religions and society at large interpreted dreams and how can a closer examination of our dreams provide useful insights Dreams Understanding Biology Psychology and Culture presents a holistic view of dreams and the dreaming experience that answers these and many other questions

Divided thematically this two volume book examines the complex and often misunderstood subject of dreaming through a variety of lenses This collection is written by a large and diverse team of experts and edited by leading members of the International Association for the Study of Dreams IASD but remains an approachable and accessible introduction to this captivating topic for all readers Movement as Meaning in Experimental Cinema Daniel Barnett,2017-08-10

Movement as Meaning in Experimental Cinema offers sweeping and cogent arguments as to why analytic philosophers should take experimental cinema seriously as a medium for illuminating mechanisms of meaning in language Using the analogy of the movie projector Barnett deconstructs all communication acts into functions of interval repetition and context He describes how Wittgenstein s concepts of family resemblance and language games provide a dynamic perspective on the analysis of acts of reference He then develops a hyper simplified formula of movement as meaning to discuss with true equivalence the process of reference as it occurs in natural language technical language poetic language painting photography music and of course cinema Barnett then applies his analytic technique to an original perspective on cine poetics based on Paul Valery s concept of omnivalence and to a projection of how this style of analysis derived from analog cinema can help us clarify our view of the digital mediasphere and its relation to consciousness Informed by the philosophy of Quine Dennett Merleau Ponty as well as the later work of Wittgenstein among others he uses the film work of Stan Brakhage Tony Conrad A K Dewdney Nathaniel Dorsky Ken Jacobs Owen Land Saul Levine Gregory Markopoulos Michael Snow and the poetry of Basho John Cage John Cayley and Paul Valery to illustrate the power of his unique perspective on meaning A Modernist Cinema Scott W.
