Karen Lystra,1992-06-25 In January 1862 Charles Godwin courted Harriet Russell ultimately unsuccessfully with the following lines Like cadences of inexpressibly sweet music your kind words came to me causing every nerve to vibrate as though electrified by some far off strain of heavenly harmony Almost ten years later Albert Janin upon receiving a letter from his beloved Violet Blair responded with I kissed your letter over and over again regardless of the small pox epidemic at New York and gave myself up to a carnival of bliss before breaking the envelope And in October 1883 Dorothea Lummis wrote candidly to her husband Charles I like you to want me dear and if I were only with you I would embrace more than the back of your neck be sure In Karen Lystra s richly provocative book Searching the Heart we hear the voices of Charles Albert Dorothea and nearly one hundred other nineteenth century Americans emerge from their surprisingly open intimate and emotional love letters While historians of nineteenth century America have explored a host of private topics including courtship marriage birth control sexuality and sex roles they have consistently neglected the study of romantic love Lystra fills this gap by describing in vivid detail what it meant to fall in love in Victorian America Based on a vast array of love letters the book reveals the existence of a real openness even playfulness between male and female lovers which challenges and expands more traditional views of middle class private life in Victorian America Lystra refutes the common belief that Victorian men and women held passionlessness as an ideal in their romantic relationships Enabling us to enter the hidden world of Victorian lovers the letters they left behind offer genuine proof of the intensity of their most private interactions feelings behaviors and judgments Lystra discusses how Victorians anthropomorphized love letters treating them as actual visits from their lovers insisting on reading them in seclusion sometimes kissing them as Albert does with Violet s and even taking them to bed She also explores how courtship rituals which included the setting and passing of tests of love succeeded in building unique emotional bonds between lovers and how middle class views of romantic love which encouraged sharing knowledge and intimacy gave women more power in the home Through the medium of love letters Searching the Heart allows us to enter unnoticed the Victorian bedroom and parlor We will leave with a different view of middle class Victorian America Getting the Best Out of Supervision in Counselling & Psychotherapy Mary Creaner,2013-12-10 Getting the Best Out of Supervision in Counselling Psychotherapy does exactly what it says on the tin Supervision is an essential part of counselling training and ensuring you know exactly how to get the very most out of supervision is important whatever their level of study Exploring how to begin maintain and end a supervisory learning relationship in the context of existing theory and best practice guidelines the author will introduce your trainees to Models and forms of supervision The skills informing good supervision What to expect from supervision Key professional issues in supervision Written in a lively and engaging style this book will enable both supervisors and supervisees to get the best they can from the supervisory experience

Productive Multivocality in the Analysis of Group Interactions Daniel D. Suthers,Kristine Lund,Carolyn Penstein Rosé,Chris Teplov,Nancy Law,2013-12-02 The key idea of the book is that scientific and practical advances can be obtained if researchers working in traditions that have been assumed to be mutually incompatible make a real effort to engage in dialogue with each other comparing and contrasting their understandings of a given phenomenon and how these different understandings can either complement or mutually elaborate on each other This key idea applies to many fields particularly in the social and behavioral sciences as well as education and computer science The book shows how we have achieved this by presenting our study of collaborative learning during the course of a four year project Through a series of five workshops involving dozens of researchers the 37 editors and authors involved in this project studied and reported on collaborative learning technology enhanced learning and cooperative work The authors share an interest in understanding group interactions but approach this topic from a variety of traditional disciplinary homes and theoretical and methodological traditions This allows the book to be of use to researchers in many different fields and with many different goals and agendas

Collective Violence James F., Jr. Short, Marvin E. Wolfgang, 2017-07-12 Collective violence has played an important role throughout American history though we have typically denied it But it is not enough to repress violence or to suppress our knowledge of it We must understand the phenomenon and to do this we must learn what violent groups are trying to say That some choose violence tells us something about the perpetrators inevitably about ourselves and the society we have built

Priests, Witches and Power Maia Green, 2003-03-06 In the aftermath of colonial mission Christianity has come to have widespread acceptance in Southern Tanzania In this book Maia Green explores contemporary Catholic practice in a rural community of Southern Tanzania Setting the adoption of Christianity and the suppression of witchcraft in a historical context she suggests that power relations established during the colonial period continue to hold between both popular Christianity and orthodoxy and local populations and indigenous clergy Paradoxically while local practices around the constitution of kinship and personhood remain defiantly free of Christian elements they inform a popular Christianity experienced as a system of substances and practices This book offers a challenge to idealist and interpretative accounts of African participation in twentieth century religious forms and argues for a politically grounded analysis of historical processes It will appeal widely to scholars and students of anthropology sociology and African Studies particularly those interested in religion and kinship

Ecological Politics John Rensenbrink, 2016-11-21 Rejection of politics is deep and widespread Even sincere and responsible individuals who practice it hold their nose while doing so Yet politics must be practiced and well if the planet and the people are to survive A clue for our future success as a species lies in the fact that ecology has never really been tried in politics Yet ecology holds the secret of success for planet and people precisely in politics Deep in ecology is the astounding fact scientifically examined and attested to that we are already related Though taught by elite after elite that we are separate from nature and thus from everyone and everything this can now be seen as the great mistake and a perpetuated lie from generation to generation A new ontology of being related is the gateway of consciousness to a new and exciting politics for survival and democracy Waves of transformation lap at barriers in the political sphere But they are repulsed by an entrenched politics rooted not only in the greed and power hunger of a dominant few or in outmoded structures of economic and political power but in the old millennial ontology of being separate Our extraordinary times call for a new political party animated by the ecology of being related It is a party of a different kind one that frees itself from giant worldwide corporations is fully and overtly dedicated to non violence and rooted in the awareness that the people come first This party knows that elections must be fair and equal and must enable undistorted dialogue and that people in government must not only proclaim but practice the principle of being of for and by the people This book challenges The

Green Party now on a footing in over 100 countries to be this party of a different kind Power, Strategy and Security
