The Routledge Handbook of Religious Literacy, Pluralism, and Global Engagement
Chris Seiple, Dennis R. Hoover, 2021-12-27 This pioneering handbook proposes an approach to pluralism that is relational principled and non relativistic going beyond banal calls for mere tolerance The growing religious diversity within societies around the world presents both challenges and opportunities A degree of competition between deeply held religious worldview perspectives is natural and inevitable yet at the same time the world urgently needs engagement and partnership across lines of difference None of the world s most pressing problems can be solved by any single actor and as such it is not a question of if but when you partner with an individual or institution that does not think act or believe as you do The authors argue that religious literacy defined as a dynamic combination of competencies and skills continuously refined through real world cross cultural engagement is vital to building societies and states of neighborly solidarity and civic fairness Through examination reflection and case studies across multiple faith traditions and professional fields this handbook equips scholars and students as well as policymakers and practitioners to assess analyze and act collaboratively in a world of deep diversity The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion.
Volume 10 (2019) Giuseppe Giordan, Andrew P. Lynch, 2019-07-15 Interreligious Dialogue From Religion to Geopolitics discusses how interreligious dialogue takes place within and is influenced by important sociological categories and theories such as modernity secularization deprivatization social movements and pluralism Starting from the study of interreligious coexistence sacred spaces and multi religious rituals the book explores the patterns of interreligious governance and politics and forms of interreligious social action in European North American and West and South Asian contexts The contributors to this volume apply broader theories of organizational change and planning communication urban neighborhood and community studies functionalist perspectives and symbolic interactionism thus presenting a wide range of possibilities for sociological engagement with studies on interreligious dialogue

Religious Hatred and Human Conflict Andrew Floyer Acland, 2023-09-12 Religious Hatred and Human Conflict focuses the lens of psychodynamic psychology on a phenomenon that often confounds conventional thinking the intensity of conflict with religious or quasi religious dimensions The book highlights six dimensions of religion identity doctrine and practice emotion and experience mythology sacred values and power and control exploring how these can give rise to religious hatred and lead to marginalisation persecution and even genocide It also explores reasons for the evolution of religion and religious hatred and their relationship with human behaviour through contemporary issues such as fundamentalism martyrdom clerical narcissism and apocalyptic belief Acland examines how religious hatred and conflict may be transcended by facilitating processes of dialogue and diapraxis which enable a systematic understanding of prejudices and projections Last it offers practical methods and strategies for helping individuals and communities grow beyond the constraints of religious hatred treating religious hatred as a psycho spiritual problem that requires self understanding Identifying the implications for professionals in conflict resolution and mediation politicians community leaders diplomats and anyone working to prevent or reduce conflict where religious belief is a factor this book sets out how those tasked with intervening can respond to the challenges involved It will also be highly relevant reading for students and researchers of psychology and religious studies

Religion, Populism, and Modernity Atalia Omer, Joshua Lupo, 2023-09-15 In this timely book an interdisciplinary group of scholars investigates the recent resurfacing of White Christian nationalism and racism in populist movements across the globe Religion Populism and Modernity examines the recent rise of White Christian nationalism in Europe and the United States focusing on how right wing populist leaders and groups have mobilized racist and xenophobic rhetoric in their bids for political power As the contributors to this volume show this mobilization is deeply rooted in the broader structures of western modernity and as such requires an intersectional analysis that considers race gender ethnicity nationalism and religion together The contributors explore a number of case studies including White nationalism in the United States among both evangelicals and Catholics anti and philosemitism in Poland the Far Right party Alternative for Germany Islamophobia in Norway and France and the entanglement of climate change opposition in right wing parties throughout Europe By extending the scope of these essays beyond Trump and Brexit the contributors remind us that these two events are not exceptions to the rule of the normal functioning of liberal democracies Rather they are in fact but recent examples of long standing trends in Europe and the United States As the editors to the volume contend confronting these issues requires that we not only unearth their historical precedents but also imagine futures that point to new ways of being beyond them Contributors Atalia Omer Joshua Lupo Philip Gorski Jason A Russian strategy in the Middle East and North Africa Derek Averre, 2024-02-27 This book analyses Russia's strategy in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) in the turbulent period since the inception of the Arab Spring. It explores the key policy challenges faced by Russia in the context of Russia's relations with both the regional states and the major external powers. The book incorporates chapters on Russia's involvement in MENA affairs, its intervention in the Syrian civil war, the domestic sources of its foreign policy, its clash with the Western powers over issues pertaining to sovereignty and humanitarian norms, its response to the challenge posed by Islamist extremism, and its political, military, and economic interests in the MENA region. The book offers an original critical analysis of Russia's thinking and decision-making and examines the implications of its more assertive foreign policy strategy following its military interventions in Syria and Ukraine.
