The Orchard Theresa Weir,2011-09-21 The Orchard is the story of a street smart city girl who must adapt to a new life on an apple farm after she falls in love with Adrian Curtis the golden boy of a prominent local family whose lives and orchards seem to be cursed Married after only three months young Theresa finds life with Adrian on the farm far more difficult and dangerous than she expected Rejected by her husband s family as an outsider she slowly learns for herself about the isolated world of farming pesticides environmental destruction and death even as she falls more deeply in love with her husband a man she at first hardly knew and the land that has been in his family for generations She becomes a reluctant player in their attempt to keep the codling moth from destroying the orchard but she and Adrian eventually come to know that their efforts will not only fail but will ultimately take an irreparable toll

The Orchard Adele Crockett Robertson,2023 A stirring memoir of a young single woman s laborious struggle to save her family s New England apple farm from going under during the Great Depression The Orchard is an exquisitely beautiful and poignant memoir of a young woman s single handed struggle to save her New England farm in the depths of the Great Depression Discovered by the author s daughter after the author s death it tells the story of Adele Kitty Robertson young and energetic but unprepared by her Radcliffe education for the rigors of apple farming in those bitter years of the early 1930s Alone at the end of a country road with only a Great Dane for company plagued by debts broken machinery and killing frosts Kitty revives the old orchard after years of neglect Every day is a struggle but every day she is also rewarded by the beauty of the world and the unexpected kindness of neighbors and hired workers Animated by quiet courage and simple goodness The Orchard stands as a deeply moving celebration of decency and beauty in the midst of grim prospects and crushing poverty In addition to a foreword and epilogue by Betsy Robertson Cramer the author s daughter this Nonpareil edition includes a new afterword by award winning author Jane Brox

Memoirs of William Wordsworth George Searle Phillips, January Searle, 1852 Repossessing the World Helen M. Buss, 2006-01-01 Why does it seem as if everyone is writing memoirs and particularly women The current popularity of memoir verifies the common belief that we each have a story to tell And we do especially women Memoirs are not only representations of women s personal lives but also of their desire to repossess important parts of our culture in which women s stories have not mattered Beginning with her own motivations for writing memoirs Helen M Buss examines the many kinds of memoir written by contemporary women memoirs about growing up memoirs about traumatic events about relationships about work In writing memoirs these women publicly assert that their lives have mattered They reshape the memoir a form as old as the middle ages and as young as today into a social discourse that blends the personal with the political the self with the significant other literature with history and fiction with autobiography and essay Buss urges readers to use their reading experience to help themselves understand and write the significance of their own lives Repossessing the World is the first book length critical inquiry into women s use of a form that has often been dismissed as less important than autobiography less professional than the novel and less intellectual than the formal essay Buss demonstrates that the memoir makes its own art not only through selective borrowing from these genres but also through the unique way that the tripartite narrative voice of the memoir constructs the personal and public experience of the memorist as significant to our cultural moment Memoirs Illustrative of the History and Antiquities of the County and City of York Royal Archaeological Institute (Great Britain), 1848 Memoirs Illustrative of the History and Antiquities of the County and City of York Royal Archaeological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland, 1848 Memoirs of William Wordsworth, January Searle, 1852

California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs s emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J Renahan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural
